These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 60 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

VOL. XXVII. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 13, 1865 : 256. No. 63.

The Chronicle.

— A man named Mumm advertises a lost wife. No woman has ever been able to keep Mum.

— The shoe business is exceedingly prosperous, because every pair is soled before it is finished.

— The largest of the Indian tribes at the West is the Comanches. That tribe numbers twenty thousand.

— Gun-cotton is being used for blasting, in the Nevada mines. It makes no smoke and is sufficiently explosive.

— Paralysis, it is said, can be cured by applying heat to one part of the spine and cold to another. Dr. Chapman of London claims the honor of the discovery of this remedy.

— That seductive old beau, Brigham Young, has married his seventieth wife. He must be fast approaching Solomon in this sort of wisdom.

— The Prairie Farmer says that Cashmere goats answer the purpose of shepherds. They lead the flock of sheep to pasture, fight off the dogs and wolves, and in the evening bring them home to shelter.

— Although the English language comprehends about 125,000 words, Shakespeare, who displayed a greater variety of expression than probably any other writer, produced all his plays with about 15,000 words.

— A load of salt hay while on the scales at Gloucester, the other day, was set on fire; but it was unnoticed until after the team had started—then the load was overturned and two steam fire engines came to the rescue. Value of the hay about $7!

— The Nation urges Postmaster General Denison to choose his postmasters, clerks and route agents, for South Carolina, from the loyal black population of that State, and thus bringe a sorry jest to aid its argument: "Why not retort upon the South generally a little of the black-mailing which she attempted on us here through her minions?"

— A Philadelphia soldier, lately returned from Admiral Dahlgren's squadron, comes accompanied by a diminutive tame pig, a native of South Carolina, which follows his owner like a dog. This comical looking little pet answers promptly to his name, and trots through the streets at the heels of his master. He is five months old and not larger than a rabbit.

GENERAL GRANT IN SARATOGA.—We had the pleasure of taking the modest hero—"the only hero of modern times whom lionizing has not spoiled"—by the hand; but as we are no friend to man-worship however deserving the man, we introduce his name in this place just to give point to an excellent hygienic moral. A day or two after General Grant left the Springs we clipped the following paragraph from The Saratogian:

"General Grant recently said to a friend: 'I am a small eater, but a great sleeper. To keep me in good working order I need nine hours good sleep out of the twenty-four. I can dispose of more, but nine I must have. When I was out West I could command but seven, and I nearly broke down. Give me my quantum of sleep, and I can meet any amount of exposure and labor.'"

There is a great and important principle involved in this statement. People generally eat too much and sleep too little. If they would reduce their eating one-half and increase their sleeping fifty per cent, they would greatly be the gainers. But there is one qualification to General Grant's statement as it relates to himself. He is known to be an inveterate tobacco smoker. This is a source of abnormal vital waste, besides rendering sleep less sound and refreshing. He requires, therefore, two or three more hours of sleeping time than he would require if he did not use tobacco.—Herald of Health.

☞ A contract to carry the mails between Winchester and Leesburg, Va., has been awarded by the Postmaster General to Robert Orrick, a colored man. This is the first instance since the organization of the Post office Department of a colored man's bid being accepted for service of this or any other kind,—tho' negroes were often the drivers who carried the mails.

☞ By an advertisement in an Otago paper, forwarded us by our New Zealand correspondent, we learn that Abraham Lincoln solicits orders for agricultural implements and artificial manures from the inhabitants of that far-off country.

— The coal dealers in Boston added another dollar per ton to their prices last week. The cost will soon be heavier than the coal.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1865.

MAINE ELECTION went strongly for the Union ticket on Tuesday, re-electing Gov. Cony by a large majority, some say 20,000—and giving Union gains in the Legislature. The half-loyal platform of the Democratic party was not successful. The vote was light, and as it is said neither party took pains to get out a full vote, probably the true opinion of the people is given in this vote, viz: that the rebellion was a failure, and that its friends North and South are not to be trusted. It is understood also, that the Union, and even the State of Maine, can go on and prosper, without being ruled by the Democratic party.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The interview of the great Southern Delegation with the President Monday was a very pleasant affair to both parties. The President was very much surprised to see so large a number of prominent Southern men pledging themselves to stand by his administration, while his assurances of good will and a liberal policy towards the South were received with general enthusiasm by the delegation.

It is thought that in a few days the troops will all be withdrawn from Virginia and the preservation of order left to the militia, the same as is in Mississippi.

Freedmen's affairs in Upper Maryland are reported to be in a flourishing condition.

Captain J. B. Jones of the 19th U. S. Infantry, arrived from Augusta, Georgia, by way of New York, bringing about 1100 lbs. of gold and silver bullion, with a small amount of coin of the aggregate value of perhaps $200,000. This wealth was recovered by the Treasury Agent, and is said to be part of the spoil captured from Jefferson Davis. Captain Jones has delivered the money to the Treasurer of the United States.

THE WIRZ TRIAL.—Col. Chandler, of the late rebel army, who made an inspection of the Andersonville prison, and reported upon the same to the rebel officials at Richmond, was one of the witnesses on Saturday, and in his testimony he laid the blame for the horrible manner in which the prison was conducted upon Gen. Winder, who was Wirz's superior officer. Col. Chandler testified that it seemed to be Winder's desire to kill off the prisoners. He said that on conversing with some of the prisoners, he learned that they did not blame Wirz for their awful condition. While this witness was on the stand, he was closely interrogated by the Court as to the responsibility of Wirz at Andersonville. The prisoner brightened up a little at the favorable evidence on this point.

On Monday Gen. Wilson testified that the officer whom he sent to arrest Captain Wirz was not authorized to promise him anything, except that he should not be killed or hanged on the way, and he believed that that Major Noyes did prevent him from being killed by the guard at Chattanooga. He also testified to other facts in connection with the Andersonville prison.

Gen. Wilson also testified that shelter could have easily been erected for the Union prisoners, as there was plenty of timber in the neighborhood—just such a place as troops would like to encamp for wood and water, if they wanted to winter. It would not have been necessary to transport timber more than a mile. There was plenty of black labor in the country; the difficulty was in getting rid of the negroes. Thirty men a day would cut wood enough for 15,000 men in summer. In winter the allowance of wood in the army is just double what it is in summer, and therefore sixty men a day could have cut enough for 15,000 men in winter.

WHEAT CROP OF NEW YORK.—The New York Express remarks: "After observation and inquiry in the Western part of this State, particularly in the old wheat growing counties bordering upon the lakes, we learn that the crop of wheat raised this year was one of the largest in quantity and best in quality ever produced in the State."

☞ Many days ago there was a story, which we marked as doubtful, that all the colored troops were to be mustered out of the U. S. service. Now we have the true version, viz: that all the colored troops enlisted in the Northern States are coming home: which is reasonable and proper.

☞ We give the figures of the result of Monday's election in Maine, in a few of the nearest towns:

NEW ENGLAND FEMALE MEDICAL COLLEGE.—The advertisement of the Eighteenth Annual Term of this Institution may be found in another column.

☞ Secretary Seward and Family have paid a brief visit to Richmond and returned to Washington.

— The Portland Argus says the Democratic vote thrown in Maine on Monday "will be a remarkably good one to gain upon."

LEXINGTON, Mass., Sept. 11.

The Gymnasts visit the Charlestown Navy Yard. The Launch of the Guerriere.—New Cars on an old Road.

The "Normal Class" in Gymnastics visited the Charlestown Navy Yard on Saturday. On our walk through the city, from the depot to the yard, we attracted some attention to be sure, but received no disagreeable reminder of our odd costume from the rabble of boys who are always tempted to follow so unique a company. The gentlemen found their gymnasium jackets to be nearly as much superior to long-tailed coats, for comfort and convenience during our trip, as were the short skirts of the ladies over the ordinary female costume.

We were admitted immediately, and found a permit to a place to see the launch awaiting us: this was taken charge of till occasion required its use, and we set about seeing the interesting places. First we visited the Museum, enjoying some time in looking at the many curiosities; then the long Rope Walk was travelled through, and a partial circuit of the Yard made until we arrived at the ship-house containing the old "Virginia," which has been on the stocks 30 or 40 years. The next ship-house, (passing by a large vessel on the stocks,) was that containing the largest Monitor that has ever been attempted, I understand. It measures 335 feet length of keel—the extreme length on the deck from bow to stern being 345 feet. She seemed to be in the same condition she was when we were there in the Spring. The name of her is to be the "Quinnigamond." I believe I have given the right orthography. The Iron Foundry was visited; and the salute battery passed on the way to the Receiving Ship Ohio. Here the ladies were first taken when on shore for Indian girls, and as such they were to be allowed to visit the vessel. When all were embarked on the "transport" plying between the shore and the ship, and had neared the vessel, they were surprised to find our party to be not Indians, but "white girls in Bloomer costume." So they said. The executive officer on board the vessel, Lieut. Hawley, treated us very kindly, and we were shown all the parts of interest on the vessel.

The iron-clads "Shawnee" and "Agamenticus" were at the Yard, but we didn't have time to make arrangements to go aboard either, much to our regret. The Dry Dock was occupied by a small vessel undergoing repairs.

We went aboard the Powhattan, which is fitting up for the South Pacific, I believe. They were at work upon her, in order to make her ready for her departure in three weeks. She was not provided with her crew, but there seemed to be enough officers about.

By this time we thought it best to be looking up our place to see the launch. We found seats awaiting us, so placed that we could see the vessel (the U. S. sloop-of-war Guerriere) when she started, and by which she must pass. At 1:45 she began to slide from her ways and glide in the most graceful manner into the water, bearing a gay freight of about 1000 ladies and gentlemen. [The launch was under the superintendence of Edwin Hart, Naval Constructor. The grandfather of Mr. Hart, Mr. Edmund Hart of Portsmouth, was the constructor of the old Constitution.—Ed.] I have seldom seen a launch under such favorable auspices, and very much enjoyed my privilege. It was a beautiful sight, which all who witnessed will treasure up.

The launch over, we returned to the Fitchburg depot, where we found to our great surprise a handsome "Monitor" Car, with "Lexington and West Cambridge" painted on the outside; its advent is to be followed in a month by a twin relative, so that our branch road must be looking up. I was told that $3500 must be used to provide such a handsome means of conveyance. A new set of directors has come in charge of the road, and as new brooms sweep cleanest, so our new directors are going to win their way immediately to public approbation. Though you won't be as interested as some, I will tell you that they plan turning one of the old cars into a nicely-ventilated, commodious smoking car, and will soon run a train that will surprise the natives.

J. W. C.

☞ We are pleased to learn that the Touro Hospital, one of the finest structures in New Orleans, situated on the levee, and occupied by colored troops, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 1st. This building was the gift of Judah Touro for the benefit of disabled members of the merchant marine and was seized by Butler for the above purpose, while yet in an unfinished state. We are glad that it is burned, as Government may now replace a structure which from the great charity it embodied in itself should have ever been exempt from seizure.

— A man bathing off Orient Point, Ct., on Sunday last, was seized around the waist by a shark. After a severe struggle he succeeded in putting his finger into the shark's eye, when it made off, and the man was picked up in a state of exhaustion from loss of blood.

Local.

☞ The warm, dry season has been a means of greatly increasing the number of our snakes, in fact they are getting to be almost as thick as brigadier generals were in Washington last winter. On Tuesday, while our junior was strolling over a field in the suburbs he noticed a snake glide into a clump of low bushes. With the instinct inherent in the sons of Adam he sprang into the air and alighted heavily with his "beetle crushers" upon the spot where he supposed the serpent to be hidden. The snake which he had seen was most decidedly an add-er, for when he came to unmask the corpse from the copse, he found he had killed no less than five, averaging at least 30 inches in length, while a sixth striped reptile took himself off in a lively manner.

☞ The screw steamer Little Ada arrived at the Navy Yard on Tuesday morning, formerly of the North Atlantic Blockading Squadron. The following is a list of her officers: J. H. Gillis, Lieut. Commander, Commanding Officer; Engineers—Chief, J. Gear, 2d, A. Lindsey; Mates, Chas. D. Moore, West D. Eldredge.

☞ Some of the farmers in this vicinity have been so busily engaged in "fighting fire," for a few days past, as to be unable to gather their vegetables for market.

☞ Don't forget that Mr. Lamprey's Juvenile Class in Dancing takes its initiatory lesson this afternoon.

☞ The Probate Court held a session in this city on Tuesday.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A special dispatch to the Traveller states that George Dushan, a young man, was murdered at Claremont last Saturday night. His brother-in-law is arrested as the murderer.

—— Capt. John Edwin Mason of Manchester, has been appointed to a first class clerkship, in charge of "Surveys and Military Land Warrants," in the Interior Department, and is located at Washington.

—— From the New England Fair at Concord, Stephen Scammon of Stratham received a diploma for a valuable cow; Albert Norris of Nottingham a premium of $15 for a pair of steers and C. N. Healey of Stratham a diploma for an Ayrshire bull; a premium of $15 to A. Bennett, Newmarket, for a colt.

—— In the Police Court at Concord, Tuesday, Clara Duran Eelhas, of New York, was brought up charged with trying to pick a lady's pocket at the fair. Examination was postponed to Saturday, and Clara bonded in $400, which she deposited and left. John Lloyed, for picking Mrs. Felch's pocket, bonded in $800, and went to jail.

—— Friday afternoon, in the machine room at the Manchester Print Works, one of the copper drying cans, filled with steam, and over which the cloths are passed for the purpose of drying, after being printed, burst with a loud report, scattering pieces of the can and surrounding objects about in a frightful manner. A number of workmen were present in the room at the time, but miraculously escaped injury.

—— An attempt to throw a train off the track took place one day last week on the Grand Trunk, in Stark, by placing a rail across the track, but the engine and tender passed over it, and it was caught by the next car and dragged some distance without throwing the train off. The train was full of freight, and if thrown from the track where the obstruction was placed, would have gone headlong into the river, and the loss of half a dozen lives and a terrible destruction of property been the result.

☞ There comes a report from Mississippi, that Gen. Slocum has resigned his commission since Mr. Johnson countermanded his order, and sustained Gen. Sharkey and his militia.

— In digging about the foundations of the Church of Bosham, an old Saxon edifice in West Sussex, England, the workmen recently came upon a stone coffin, which, it was ascertained, contained the ashes of the youthful daughter of the old Danish King Canute.

— Of the long list of names published in the Richmond papers, of persons appointed to act as committee of reception for President Johnson, all but twelve have been notified by General Terry that they will not be permitted to serve on account of former Confederate proclivities.

— Ketchum, the gold check forger, has been arraigned on eleven indictments for forgery in the third degree, and one for larceny, in abstracting $225,000 in five-twenty bonds, deposited with the firm by the State Bank at Hartford.

— A singular judicial case was recently tried at the Assize Court of the Var, in France. A young man named Casteilau, was accused of obtaining complete control of a young girl by means of magnetism, and using it to her ruin. He boasted of his power to the Court, and offered to magnetize the presiding Judge. The jury gave the youth twelve years at hard labor.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

SUMMER, Bremer Co., Iowa, Sept. 2.

Dear Chronicle:—From where old "Strawberry Bank" overlooks the placid waters of the Piscataqua—through stately cities, and through cities which but yesterday had no existence, yet to-day are the centres of a vast inland trade; from the roar of the dark and stormy Atlantic, to the awful grandeur of Niagara, and still on to the mystic Mississippi—through fifteen hundred miles of country, blushing with the ripening harvest of all that the varied soils of the country and tastes and desires of man can produce. Who shall say it is not a blessed country, and a blessed people, and a blessed year, spite of the logical myths, and the traditions of the elders, which tell that it is cursed, and of the total depravity of God's children, &c.? And who will not love the bounteous Giver of Peace and Plenty, and all that makes the life He has given, a joy and a blessing to so many hearts?

On and through so much of our great country did the iron horse bring us in safety to the broad fertile prairies of Iowa. It is here the season of cutting and stacking wheat and the other small grains, and everybody is pressed into the work. I wish to say a word of the railroads on the journey. Probably no better route to the West can be taken, than over the New York Central to Buffalo; thence the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern to Chicago. And yet there are some little meannesses, that ought to be a shame to anybody, practiced by these gigantic and wealthy corporations. For instance, if you buy a through ticket you are entitled to omnibus tickets from one station to another in crossing large cities. These tickets used to be and should be printed as sections of the tickets, and sometimes they are now; but more generally they are printed separately, and the agent is sure to forget them unless you are posted and demand them. And this in spite of the fact that the fare has been raised one-third within about three years. If you do not get the omnibus tickets, you have to pay 50 cents for each one, extra.

Then again, on many of the roads they sell you sleeping-car berths, charging $1.50 for each berth. These are a great convenience, and a person on a journey will sleep as well as in a hotel, and find himself 200 miles along in the morning. When he gets up he will find his boots nicely blacked, and the man who has charge of the car demands 25 cents for this; and this is his pay for taking care of the car. It makes, you see, an extra tax, which a man is obliged to pay; the only way he can escape it, is to put his boots out of the window. Now it is not the butter I care about, as the boy said when his mother gave him a piece of dry bread, but the disposition—the making passengers pay what they have already paid for; and in the long run it seems to me it would be better to treat their passengers generously.

In conclusion, I would say that we found the railroads generally in good condition, and the employees gentlemanly and kind. There is an enormous travel, and I did not see a car going West that was not crowded night and day.

In this section of the West it has been so wet that there is a small crop of corn, but the small grains are good. This is a grand farming country, with better prices for all that the farmer can produce, with the exception of corn and possibly wheat, than the farmers in New England got ten years ago; while with the advantage of labor-saving machines, a great deal more can be produced. But time is up, and in a future letter I will tell you something of these broad fertile prairies.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE
AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.," others "P. S. BARTLEY," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

ROBBINS & APPLETON,
Agents for the American Watch Company.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

ASSISTING THESE EFFORTS OF NATURE.

Local.

THE FIRE in Market street, on Monday evening, as was reported, was caused by an explosion of kerosene. One of Mr. Rowe's clerks went to the upper story to draw some of the odorous fluid, setting his light upon the floor at some distance from the barrel, but the subtile exhalations from the oil soon communicated the flames from the light to the barrel.—The clerk called out and Mr. Albert Rowe rushed up the stairs, seized the blazing cask and was about to eject it from the premises, when the head came out and the burning liquid spread in all directions. Al. had a very narrow escape from death, and it seems hardly credible that only his arms should be burned under the circumstances.

The engines were promptly on the ground, but their chief use was in preventing the spread of the fire, a task of no little difficulty now everything is so very dry. A lot of the goods in the lower story were saved from the flames, but Mr. Rowe had quite a heavy stock in store, and thinks his insurance of $2000 will hardly cover half his loss. The building, which belongs to the heirs of Wm. Rice, was considerably damaged in the interior, and was also insured for $2000, both policies being issued by the Hartford Insurance Co.

☞ Simultaneous with the fire in Market street on Monday evening there occurred a destructive conflagration at Kittery Point, by which a large stable containing several tons of hay and two coaches,—the latter belonging to Mr. Keen of omnibus fame,—the store of Messrs. Cutts & Safford, and the Post Office were wholly destroyed. The fire originated in the stable which was situated about twenty feet from the store, and from the fact that the barn had been locked up during the day, no one having, to the knowledge of the owners, entered it, it is supposed to have been the malicious work of an incendiary. No engines being available, the raging element met with no resistance, devouring the dry timbers, boards and shingles of the wooden buildings with a rapidity that seriously alarmed those owning and occupying contiguous tenements; threatening at one time to sweep the little cluster of houses on the southerly and easterly shores. But just at the nick of time, when the flames were leaping from building to building, and stretching far up towards the sky, as if to look about them for more food to gratify their maddened and insatiate appetite of destruction, and while the shrieks of frightened women and children, wailing at the imminent danger of being rendered homeless in a few short hours, filled the air, the wind, which had up to this time been blowing heavily from the westward, suddenly changed, and by this providential visitation, directed the burning shingles and flying cinders into an open field just in the rear of the scene of the conflagration, staying the work of the destroyer and preventing further damage. The contents of the Post Office and store were saved by dint of great effort on the part of the inhabitants of the village. There was a partial insurance on the goods in the store, but none on the remainder of the property, the policy having expired a short time ago.

Arrangements were being made and about perfected for a transfer of the store and stock to Hon. John L. Lawrence, he having purchased it for his son who was to assume charge of the business on the following day. But the papers necessary to the consummation of the matter not having been made out, Messrs. Cutts & Safford are the losers, the former losing the heaviest, he being the owner of the buildings.

The fire as seen from this city, was supposed to be the buildings in and around Fort McClary, but no assistance could be rendered, as all were busy in endeavoring to subdue the conflagration at home. Had it been otherwise, however, it would have been useless to have sent engines to the inhabitants of Kittery, as the former could not have reached the scene of the fire in season to render any aid, save, perhaps, to prevent its spread.

HARD TO BEAT.—Mr. Elias Ansel Staples of Eliot, one day last week, rowed a scull of his own making a distance of three miles (1 1 2 miles out and back,) by measurement, in 21 1-2 minutes. This beats by 20 seconds the best single mile made by Mr. Brown in his celebrated scull while here last summer. We understand Mr. Staples is one of the best boat builders, as he certainly is one of the best oarsmen on the river. ELIOT.

☞ Messrs. John Lentball, Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, and Benj. F. Delano, Constructor of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, visited our Yard on Tuesday, in company with their daughters.

☞ It will be seen that our citizens are to have a rare chance for excursions to Dover Point on Friday and Saturday of this week, the steamer Pioneer running on both days.

GOLD, Tuesday, 144.

THE BLOCKADE OF ST. DOMINGO.—In regard to the blockade of St. Domingo by Gen. Gandara, the commander of the Spanish forces lately ordered to evacuate the island, a St. Domingo letter in the N. Y. Herald says:

The blockade, however, has not and will not take effect. The Spanish mail steamers from Havana continue to touch at the island for mails and passengers; and, moreover, the ridicule with which Gen. Gandara was received in Havana, and the immediate exchange of all prisoners, prove that his blockading project was a mere threat. Little attention has been paid to it, as the decree of the Queen merely states that "the island shall be abandoned."

— The practice of transplanting large trees has been abandoned as unsuccessful by the Central Park Commissioners.

— Angela Starr King is giving readings in California which the press pronounce "very successful everywhere."

— The Savannah Republican says the right of secession has been reaffirmed by primary meetings in Glynn county, Ga.

— The Suez canal was opened on the 17th August, and a boat laden with coal passed through from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea.

— At a picnic near Boonsboro', Md., a few days since, the American flag was torn from a wagon and trampled under foot by a copperhead named Smith, who said he considered it a disgrace. Nobody interfered with the traitor.

— The N. Y. World's dispatch says that there are on the muster-rolls 18,000 regulars, 90,000 colored troops, and 100,000 white troops. The number, however, is being reduced every day.

— Gen. Asboth, commanding West Florida, has found it necessary to issue an order informing paroled rebel soldiers that their paroles do not give them immunity to violate the laws of Congress or regulations concerning slavery.

— Gen. Canby has forbidden the Mayor of New Orleans to interfere in the sale or lease of the wharves of that city, claiming them as captured property of the national government.

☞ The rehearsal of the Philharmonic Society will take place at Mercantile Hall on Wednesday evening at half-past 7 o'clock. The attendance of every member is requested, to act upon matters of special interest.

☞ To save trouble to all concerned, we here state that the Publisher of the Chronicle has changed his residence from High Street; and for the present, any business orders in the evening may be left at Mr. Pearson's, No. 30 Hanover St. Chronicle Office hours, from 4 in the morning till 9 in the evening; and any authenticated orders dropped in the letter-box, in the street door, will receive attention. s12

AFRAID TO LAUGH.—Ladies sometimes repress their laughter to avoid revealing the discoloration and imperfection of their teeth. Fair ones, we would advise you to try the Fragrant Sozodont. It will remove, at once, all impurities, arrest the progress of decay, and where such parts are have already become black by decay, and leave the breath as fragrant as a rose. s11eodlw 6

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces coal of a far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been in operation six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid a dividend of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no foundation to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837, 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Reissues, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior skill in his profession.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made one twice rejected applications SIXTEEN ANNUAL EXERTIONS of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1865.

NORTH CAROLINA.—A Beaufort letter of the 9th states that not a single house can be bad in Newbern, and warns Northerners who intend emigrating there to be prepared accordingly. The lack of mechanics, saw-mills and building material, combined with the refusal of property holders who have been identified with the rebellion to sell any of the thousands of acres of timber land within sight of Newbern, prevents any progress in building by enterprising persons. It is proposed that mass meetings be held at Newbern, Beaufort and Wilmington to demand the enforcement of the confiscation act if this proscriptive policy is not abandoned. A Chamber of Commerce is about being organized in Newbern.

A Raleigh letter of the 8th says the colored people will hold a State Convention on the 20th, and have invited ex-Secretary Chase, Horace Greeley, B. F. Butler, H. Wilson, Charles Sumner, G. Smith, Thaddeus Stevens, James M. Ashley, Secretary Harlan, Governor Andrew, Senator Sherman and others to be present. The Convention will consider the propriety of asking for the restoration of the elective franchise, which they enjoyed prior to 1830.

PLUNDER RECOVERED.—On Tuesday, information was given the Provost Marshal, Norfolk, that five stores at City Point had been robbed, and it was most likely the perpetrators would arrive on one of the Richmond boats. A detachment of the provost guard and detectives searched the baggage and passengers on the steamers City of Richmond and Magenta.—On the former they found the stolen property from City Point, and on the latter a box of watches in the possession of G. F. Garrison of Accomac County, Virginia, which he said were taken from Andersonville prisoners. Garrison is counsel for A. B. Winder, who is now is now in the Capitol prison. Some important papers were also found with these watches, all of which are now in the possession of the Provost Marshal of Norfolk.

☞ It would seem that Horatio Seymour has been made to take a back seat among the New York Democracy. He was to have been President of the State Convention at Albany, but Dean Richmond put his foot upon the project, according to the following from the Albany Journal:

The Dean was inexorable to all arguments addressed him in behalf of Seymour. He bluntly and persistently maintained that the ex-Governor at Chicago had thrown the party into the hands of Vallandigham, and slaughtered the party, when it might have carried its candidate on a straight out war and Union platform. The Governor cannot be trusted to make a speech in a convention, until he has gone through a course of political purgation.

Times have changed within a year.—Coppery treason is no more popular now, than toryism was in 1787. Open opposition to the United States Government, and open favor for rebels, might be winked at last year, by the party—but this year it must be veiled in hypocrisy.

HAYTI.—Advices from Hayti, through official sources, state that though the revolutionists have held out longer than was expected, they must submit before long. The rebellion has been prolonged at Cape Haytien because President Geffrard, by investing the town, hoped to weary out the rebel garrison without inflicting upon the citizens the horrors of a bombardment; but he has now determined to take more stringent measures and bring matters to a close.

VIRGINIA. — The Alexandria (Va.) Journal says, "In the County Court of this county recently, it was decided, in accordance with the eighth section of the Bill of Rights, that colored men were entitled in capital or criminal prosecution to a trial by jury. The sixth section of this Bill of Rights gives colored men the right to vote. It reads as follows:

'That all elections ought to be free, and that all men having sufficient evidence of common interest with and attachments to the community, have the right of suffrage, and cannot be taxed or deprived of their property for public uses without their own consent or those of their representatives so elected, nor bound by any law to which they have not in like manner assented for the public good.'

FIRES IN MAINE.—A Bangor dispatch of Wednesday says fires are raging in the woods in every part of that county, particularly in Carmel, Hermon, Oldtown, Veazie, Bradley, Milford, Orono and Holden. Much valuable property is being destroyed, and tanneries, houses, &c., on the Bangor, Oldtown and Maine Railroad. The cars find it difficult to get through the flames.

— Three hundred and five colored men of Newbern have returned a total income of $151,562, an average of $496,92 for each man. Who says the negroes are incapable of taking care of themselves?

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dysentery and typhoid fever prevail to a considerable extent in Ossipee.

—— Rev. Dr. Barrows has accepted the position of President of the Oberlin Conference Seminary and Female College.

—— It is estimated 50,000 persons visited the N. E. Agricultural Fair at Concord. The receipts were $14,000.

—— John C. Ray, of Dunbarton, has sold his large heifer to Carlos Pierce, of Boston, for $700.

—— The tar and turpentine works at Freedom will probably be discontinued, the opening of the Southern ports rendering them unprofitable.

—— Martin A. Haynes, of Manchester, who was in the 2d N. H. Regiment, has written its history, which is to be published next month, and will be interesting, as the author is said to be well qualified for his work; and as the regiment has seen much service.

WIRZ TRIAL, Sept. 12.—Felix De La Baunie, of the 79th New York regt., testified to the cruelties of Wirz. His weight was reduced at Andersonville from 158 to 90 pounds.

Rev. Father Hamilton, residing in Macon, testified to the distressing condition of the Union prisoners. He had recommended to Gen. Cobb to parole all the prisoners and send them to Tallahassee.

Charles E. Tibbetts, of the 4th Iowa, testified to the cruelties of Wirz and the filthy condition of the grounds. On one occasion Wirz said to witness: "Bring me Bill Crandell and I'll give you $500 out of my own pocket, and you, you sons of b—s, I'll make you smell h—l before night; you are sentenced to work in the graveyard every day, put on half rations, stand in the stocks at night and be the last men exchanged. If you don't work, I'll put you on top of the dead and cover you up."

— The tusk of a fossil elephant has been found in Brattleboro, Vt.

— The Boston Post thinks that Mr. and Mrs. Wales are giving themselves "heirs."

— The average receipts of an organ grinder are $2 per day.

— The Stringtown tribe of Indians, once the most powerful on the Yuba and Feather Rivers, Cal., now numbers but 200.

— In 1864 there visited Central Park, 100,397 equestrians, 1,148,161 vehicles and 2,295,199 pedestrians.

— The total number of children between the ages of four and eighteen in San Francisco is 33,883, of whom all but 529 are white.

— The Siam Times says a giant seven feet four inches in height and of enormous amplitude of chest has appeared in Nagpore.

— John C. Breckinridge arrived at Quebec Monday morning per the Hibernian, and proceeded to Montreal that afternoon.

— A local of the Tribune some time since spoke of "perfumes grown audible." We suppose he had been where bad smells are allowed.

— Many of the mills located on the upper waters of the Hudson have been stopped for the want of water, and the Champlain canal is not navigable.

— There are 35 Egyptian obelisks standing in Europe—14 in Italy, 12 in Rome, 5 in England, 2 in France and 2 in Constantinople.

— The people of Colorado have, by popular vote, adopted the State constitution submitted to them by the convention, pursuant to the enabling act passed by Congress.

— The New York Chamber of Commerce will memorialize Congress, at the coming session, to authorize a certain percentage—ten or fifteen per cent.—of the custom duties to be paid in legal tender notes.

— The apparatus of the new paid Fire Department of New York will embrace thirty steam fire engines and ten hook and ladder trucks, and the salaries of the 489 men employed will amount to $363,500 per annum.

— It is not the duty of any postmaster to put stamps on letters or papers. Of course he may do so, if he pleases, but only as a matter of accommodation. So also he may exchange one denomination of stamps for another;—but he is under no obligation to do it.

— Boston Corbet, who killed Booth, has not received, as yet, a cent of his share of the reward offered for Booth's arrest, nor the offer of that promotion in the army which his companions have had. He is now in New York, with his health undermined and only ten dollars in his pocket.

— The Minnesota Democratic party, who adjourned their State Convention three weeks ago, to await the finding of a suitable military candidate, and to see whom the Republicans would nominate, re-assembled at St. Paul on Thursday, the 7th inst., and placed Brig. Gen. Tourtelotte at the head of their ticket for Governor.

POST OFFICE CLERK.—In all business, there must be more or less vexation. A writer in the United States Mail gives the following trials of the Post office Clerk.

"In former years we spent some time in the post office department, and knew practically the every day labors, trials and amenities of the post office clerk. To many, the calling of the post office clerk seems an easy one, a pleasant occupation. In this, such persons are wofully mistaken. We still remember our first day's experience in the business, and only necessity prevented it from being the last. Legs as stiff as wooden ones, we were in pain from head to feet, too tired to undress before retiring, more dead than alive.

The post office clerk must be at his work long before the mechanic, and does not end his labor until the robust farmer has taken a sweet, refreshing sleep. When the clerk's work is done his feet are weary; his path is a checkered one. Consider for a moment how labyrinthine are the footsteps of a clerk in our post office. Two steps to the north, one to the south, back again to the starting point, now to the east, now to the west, now a right angle, now an acute, his feet describe. He also moves upon the line of beauty. He describes a circle, a spiral curve and an ellipse, and in fact moves upon every known line. His line of motion for one day would make a year's hard study for the mathematician. Every muscle is brought into exertion—hands and feet are in constant motion. Nor are his senses uncultivated. His sight must be good; hearing perfect. He must know who it is that comes veiled like a prophetess, must read addresses that should be magnified ten times to be legible. He must incline his ear to hear the golden but low whisperings of the bashful young lady who trembles as she gives her name. His memory must be excellent—a thousand things are told to him in the course of a day, all of which he is expected to remember."

WHAT FARMERS HAVE YET TO LEARN. At the N. E. Agricultural Fair, in Concord, after Gov. Smyth had concluded his ad, dress, the visiting Governors were called upon to "make remarks." The few words spoken by Gov. Buckingham were strikingly suggestive of important things farmers have yet to learn. The Governor believed in the intelligence, and strong characteristics of the New England Farmer, which make him a good man and a good citizen; but as a class, they were almost entirely ignorant of the economies of their great art. The manufacturer and machinist, he said, have brought their respective enterprises to so close a calculation, that they can tell to a cent what a given fabric will cost per yard, or a complicated machine will cost when set up ready for operation. Now, what farmer, he asked, can tell what it costs to raise a pony? What he wanted was that farmers should be able to tell how much it costs them to add pound to pound on their beef cattle, with the same exactness as the manufacturer and the machinist. He believed that the mysteries of the art of farming could be so studied and mastered that farmers could understand and know the exact cost of any crop per bushel, or of any animal per pound.

☞ An officer of the U. S. army just arrived at Washington, direct from Georgia, reports that while traveling from Atlanta to Savannah he saw in all directions teams loaded with cotton on their way to points whence that staple could be transported to market either by rail or water. There were large quantities at Augusta, and the article was being conveyed thence by boats to Savannah for shipment north. He states that the people of the country, especially those who have severely suffered by the war, express an apparently sincere desire to conform to the changed condition of affairs and sustain the General Government, while in the towns which have sustained comparatively little damage by the war a spirit of dissatisfaction exists, which is principally confined to young men who assume to belong to the boasted better class of society, and but few of whom served in the rebel army.

☞ Sunday, Sept. 10, Mr. Addison Ripley, of Buckfield, Me., met with his death in a singular manner. He was returning home with a gun in his hand, when he was furiously attacked by a dog. He attempted to parry the attack with the breach of his gun, holding it by the muzzle. The blow broke off the stock, and at the same time discharged the gun, lodging the whole charge in his right breast. He exclaimed "I am shot," and expired almost instantly.

NOVA SCOTIA GOLD CASE.—In the case of Charles J. Anthony, charged with defrauding an agent of Ex-Governor Gilmore of New-Hampshire out of $1,000, the complainant and his counsel failing to appear in court, in New York, when the matter again came up, the Justice discharged the complainant, and directed that Anthony's bonds be canceled.

— The New Almaden quicksilver mines employ 1200 men and produce from 4000 to 5000 flasks per month.

— A man named Sample was killed at Cincinnati by falling from the window of his room. He was not quite sober, and having taken a seat in the window for the purpose of enjoying the cool night air, fell asleep, and was precipitated to the pavement below. Rather a poor Sample.

— The temporary U. S. Barracks, at many places in the South, which have been reserved for freedmen, who it was feared might come in needy crowds, are mostly empty, and are selling out at auction for old lumber. The working people are wanted to work. Most of the beggars are the drones, of high or low degree.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE. By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. Dow devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.—Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving descriptions of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotins, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three or $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females

IN DELICATE HEALTH.

Dr. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other physician in Boston. Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment. Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street. Those who need the service of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. BARTLEY," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Agents for the American Watch Company,

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding purity or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do to simply

ASSISTING THESE EFFORTS OF NATURE.

Dr. T. ALLCOCK—Dear Sir: Seventeen years ago I was sorely injured in my back. At length I was induced to use your plasters. I wore one constantly for six months, and did more hard work during that six months than in the preceding sixteen years. I have not worn a plaster for over eighteen months, and have had no return of the gnawing pain and weakness in my back, but have been entirely well.

Local.

☞ Shehan, the murderer of Carlton, was arrested in this city on Wednesday. Officer Johnson, who has been working up this case with his usual expertness, became convinced that Shehan was concealed in the vicinity of Fernald's wharf, Market street, and on Wednesday forenoon with a posse of men proceeded to search the premises thereabouts. After three hours of constant search he was found under the wharf where it extends far up beneath one of the houses; a place as dark as a dungeon and fit only for rats and vermin. City Marshal Dresser and the Assistant Marshals deserve a handsome reward, but our city authorities have been very remiss in not offering one for the apprehension of the culprit. As Carlton is dead and buried, it is likely to go hard with the prisoner.

His examination takes place this morning at 10 o'clock.

☞ The bridge connecting the Navy Yard with Kittery took fire on Tuesday, but being soon discovered was extinguished without much damage. The fire was supposed to have caught from the pipe of some smoker who probably emptied its burning contents on the bridge just before entering the Yard. The wise injunction prohibiting smoking on the Yard prevents the frequent occurrence of fires in that locality, and the limits embraced in the order forbidding it should be extended to the Kittery end of the bridge. Too much precaution cannot be observed in the use of fire at such a dry time as the present, and it is for the interest of all to watch closely this destructive element.

☞ In connection with the almost unprecedented drought, fires are raging in the country round-a-bout us, in some instances burning into the parched earth to the depth of a foot or more, feeding upon the dry leaves and dead wood, the accumulation of years. It is found to be impossible to quench this burning mass, and all that farmers can do is to prevent its spreading to distant timber growths.

☞ An instance of betrayal of trust which frequently happens in political circles, occurred in Wells a few days since on the occasion of the Maine election, which clearly illustrates the familiar adage "that those who play with fire are apt to get burned." Two leading Democratic politicians, anxious to "preserve their liberties or perish in the last ditch," by the promise of a barrel of flour to an uncertain and undecided possessor of the right of suffrage, secured his promise to vote the "right ticket" on the day of the election. The flour was duly delivered at the house of the voter, but alas for human promises and hopes! when the morning arrived on which he was to fulfill his part of the agreement, he straightway went to the polls and deposited a straight Republican ticket. Some one had evidently been tampering with his "principles."

☞ We met our old friend Dan Waldron on the street on Wednesday, looking as hale and smiling as ever. He has just returned from a brief tour through the Provinces, where, we are glad to learn, his Troupe of Swiss Bell Ringers met with excellent success. We trust they will give a concert here on their way back.

☞ We learn that the Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Traveller, "E. P. N.," is now ill,—but is not considered dangerous by his friends in this city.

Communication.

☞ At the late fire in Market street our citizens had a chance to see the value of our new Steam Fire Engines. They worked satisfactorily and everybody seemed highly pleased with them. The engineers, Messrs. McIntire of the Dearborn and Garrett of the Sagamore, deserve the highest praise for their promptness. May they always be found at their post in time of danger, ready and willing to use the best of their ability for the preservation of public as well as private property from the devouring flames; and as long as we continue to have two such men as these to manage these large fire-quelling monsters we may rest in peace, though the flames threaten to devour us. I hope that the day is not far distant when the City Government will do away with our remaining hand-engines altogether, and supply the city with two more such as the Dearborn and Sagamore. T.

CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.—Take a spoonful of the best Lucca Olive Oil after eating each meal. Six weeks trial of this will cure the worst dyspepsia. It will also cure the piles. A gentleman of this city, who has been afflicted with both complaints for six years past, has tried almost countless remedies, has at last found a cure in the above. It is said that in the lands where the olive grows dyspepsia is unknown; but the people of those lands are very simple in their cuisine.

GOLD, Wednesday, 148 1-2. Sent to Europe $73,000

☞ Willard, the fellow who placed obstructions on the track of the P. S. & P. Railroad last week, had an examination at Biddeford on Tuesday. He pleaded guilty, and in default of $800 bail to appear at the S. J. Court at Alfred, next Tuesday, he was committed to jail.

☞ Williams & Co. Boston, and J. H. Foster, Portsmouth, have No. 1, of The Radical, a Monthly Magazine, devoted in Religion, — price 20 cents,—a very odd book, not belonging to any of the regular tribes.

IN VERMONT, Gov. Dillingham, Union, has about 18,000 majority; and it is said there are 12 democratic representatives elected.

— The school committee of Newport R. I., have decided to admit negro children to to the public schools.

— Pres. Buchanan resigned his place as trustee of a college in Pennsylvania; and was not turned out, as some paper reported.

— The Cossacks have superstitious scruples against receiving medical treatment from men, and in consequence resort to ignorant female sorcerers. A rare field for our female M. D's.

— The N. Y. Times says the widow of Dr. Kane has exhibited to the editor proofs of her marriage, and denies the Philadelphia statement that the fact of her about issuing a book is a canard.

— The secesh-rebel ticket is said to have prevailed over the Union, in South Carolina. So much the worse for S. C., and that is all; for the U. S. Congress will thereby be warned;—and the people of the U. S. will take care of the issue raised.

— The Gardiner Home Journal says the steamer Daniel Webster, put on to the Kennebec route as a fast boat to beat the Eastern Queen, seems to be no improvement, often arriving several hours behind the Queen.

— The editor of the Grass Valley National has been shown a brick from the Luck Mine, valued at five thousand dollars. It is the result of one week's crushing with an eight-stamp mill. Not a bad brick to take home in one's hat.

— A typographical error, in a notice of some of the numerous bitters which flood the market, makes an old proverb read: "He who is cruel to a beast, abuses the trust which God vomitted to him." Evidently the compositor knew what retched stuff he was advertising.

— The Salt Lake Telegraph says that the foundations of the Mormon temple have been completed. Some of the stones are of two tons weight. The editor of a California paper remembers to have seen Brigham superintending the laying of those foundations when he was sixteen years Younger, and fears he "will not live half way up the basement story."

— The rebel officer R. B. Winder explains the story about the watches which he took from U. S. soldiers at the Andersonville prison pen, by stating that they had been raiding thro' Georgia,—and that some of the watches belonged to citizens there, and others to the soldiers; but he does not know the names of those from whom he took them.

— In Raleigh, N. C., the U. S. rations to Whites, cease Sept. 17:—they still keep begging though good crops are in their fields, and some fatten hogs on their rations. The colored people there have received no rations for some time, but have taken care of themselves. Gen. Hardin has arrested one Tom Long, a Holden magistrate, for cruel abuse of a freedman.

☞ To save trouble to all concerned, we here state that the Publisher of the Chronicle has changed his residence from High Street; and for the present, any business orders in the evening may be left at Mr. Pearson's, No. 30 Hanover St. Chronicle Office hours, from 8 in the morning till 9 in the evening; and any authenticated orders dropped in the letter-box, in the street door, will receive attention. s12

My child is safe, and I am much relieved Dr. BICKNELL'S SYRUP did the cure. It is safe and reliable for old or young. sep11

AFRAID TO LAUGH.—Ladies sometimes repress their laughter to avoid revealing the discoloration and imperfection of their teeth. Fair ones, we would advise you to try the Fragrant Sozodont. AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling adventures; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escapes and almost miraculous journey of 1000 miles—occupy nearly 200 pages. It will abound in startling events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned soldiers and officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circular. Address

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as fire insurance companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $2 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the combinations of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO.

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the great value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 25th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

IS WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

— A contemporary has seen a coin of Hiero I, Tyrant of Syracuse, who reigned from 478 to 466 before the Christian era, on the obverse side of which is the head of the goddess Diana, with an excrescence precisely like that now worn by our ladies under the name of waterfall.

— A gentlemen of Portland was left by the Grand Trunk train last Saturday, but jumped into his carriage and overtook it at Falmouth. He claims that he made the five miles in fourteen minutes, and he certainly could not have been much longer about it.

— A San Francisco paper states that four fifths of the cigars used in California are manufactured by dirty Chinamen. This is simply a fact against the habit of smoking; it is no more like an argument against the Chinese than is the fact that more than four-fifths of the tea drank in nice America and elegant Europe is produced in dirty China.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by any, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all of which the United States have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at the reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!
TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen,
I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.
For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.
I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.
Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,
I am very respectfully yours,
S. S. CORNELIQUER,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A,

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1865.

EX-GOV. WISE AN ABOLITIONIST.—In a recent remarkable letter from the noted rebel Henry A. Wise to Gen. Grant, he closes with the following confession of his views on "The black Idol:"

So far from my being opposed to the name "freedmen," as indicating the condition of slaves freed by the war, the chief consolation I have in the result of the war is that slavery is forever abolished; that not only the slaves are, in fact, at last freed from bondage, but that I am freed from them. Long before the war indeed, I had definitely made up my mind actively to advocate emancipation throughout the South. I had determined, if I could help it, my descendants should never be subjected to the humiliation I have been subjected to on account of the weakness, if not the wickedness, of slavery; and while I will not recognize as lawful and humane the violent and shocking manner in which it has been abolished, yet I accept the fact as an accomplished one, and am determined not only to abide by it and acquiesce in it, but to strive by all the means in my power to make it beneficial to both races, and a blessing especially to our country. I unfeignedly rejoice at the fact, and am reconciled to many of the worst calamities of the war, because I am now convinced that the war was a special providence of God, unavoidable by the nations at either extreme, to tear loose from us a black idol from which we could never have been separated by any other means than those of fire and blood, sword and sacrifice.

The gentleman is rather late in his declarations. The eleventh hour might do; but the thirteenth hour is past all reconing. Gov. Wise hung John Brown; but his soul is marching on, while the Governor's seems to be looking backward.

Nevertheless, Gov. Wise's admissions and statements are valuable to every unflinching friend of human rights. A few of such, (says Uncle Toby,) have borne obloquy, reproach, and persecutions, during the last twenty-five years, from the Wises, Wigfalls, Brookses, Buchanans and Breckinridges; and by their tools and allies at the North.

What can these last mentioned people say to Wise's confession?

Since the above was written, we perceive that Richmond papers make an important correction in the reading of Wise's letter to Gen. Grant. Instead of saying "long before the war, indeed, he had made up his mind to advocate emancipation" he said, "long before the war ended, &c." It thus appears that the war has produced the conversion.

☞ In Washington, on Wednesday, as Wirz was on his way from the court room to the Old Capitol, a respectably dressed lady, between fifty and sixty years old, who had been waiting for the opportunity, asked the guard if that was the Andersonville butcher? On receiving an affirmative, she, in a frenzy of passion, endeavored to strike Wirz with her umbrella, saying, "You wretch! you butcher! you murdered my son at Andersonville!" Failing to reach him, she seized a brick and implored the guard to let her get at him. She was with some difficulty restrained, and the prisoner conveyed to his quarters. It seems that the old lady was an Ohio widow, who had come to Washington to get back pay of her sons, all of whom have belonged to the army. One was killed in battle, one murdered at Andersonville, another rendered hopelessly insane by his sufferings in the same slaughter-pen, and one only returned to his home at the close of the war.

☞ Nonsense flows from some Washington correspondents in a perpetual stream: for example, "The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says it is understood the President contemplates the withdrawal of the entire military force from the South in a short time." That is to say, the forts and all military posts are to be abandoned, and the entire arm—what? sent north? or disbanded? Is the man a fool, or does he think his readers fools?

GEN. SLOCUM'S LETTER TO J. A. Green, a wire-puller of the New York Democratic party, is published. He says:—

I am in favor of the principles which appear thus far to have governed President Johnson with regard to the Southern States. This is to allow these States to decide who shall and who shall not be entitled to the right of suffrage. In a few words, I am in favor of returning at the earliest practicable period to a government of civil law. I believe the true interests of the country demand a more economical administration of affairs, an effort to reduce the national debt, the substitution of civil for military courts, and a more careful observance of the constitutional rights of States and individuals. If these views are such as will be indorsed by your Convention, and if the Convention should nominate me for Secretary of State, I shall accept the nomination.

SUPREME J. COURT DOVER.—The Grand Jury found ten indictments the present term, viz.: one for murder in the first degree! two for burglary: two for robbing persons; one for keeping an house of ill-fame; three for selling liquor; and one for assault.

Enoch Hayes, of Dover, for breaking and entering a dwelling house, who has been in jail 13 months, was sentenced to State Prison for two years.

John Rowe, of Milton, for breaking and entering a store; five years in State Prison.

George Reynolds, a transient person, breaking and entering a dwelling house; 5 years. 10 days solitary, in State Prison.

Samuel Davis, Jr., of Dover, for "shaking down" a drunken soldier, or robbing from the person; 3 years in State Prison.

The trial of Charles E. Finkham, for the murder of his father, July 4, 1865, at Farmington, with a scythe, began Wednesday morning, Judge Nesmith, having taken his seat on the bench with Judge Bellows.

THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD Coporation held its annual meeting at Lawrence, Mass., Wednesday; and chose for Directors Nath'l. G. White of Lawrence, Peter T. Homer of Boston, Francis Coggswell of Andover, Saml. Wells of Boston, and C. J. M. Hale of Haverhill. The meeting adjourned to Oct. 4, to choose two directors. There were three tickets, viz. the Regular, the Reform, and "a Third." 4 of the 5 chosen, were on the Third ticket, 2 of them on the Reform, and 2 on the Regular. There were 17 candidates in all. It will be seen that it may be a nice business now, to choose the remaining two.

☞ The freedmen of St. Helena Island, S. C., held a meeting on the 4th inst., and adopted resolutions setting forth their services to the country during the war, and petitioning the Convention to assemble at Columbus on the 13th inst., to so alter the present constitution of South Carolina as to give the right of suffrage to every man twenty-one years of age, without other qualification than that required of white citizens. They express their determination never to cease their efforts to this end.

☞ Stephen Jones, aged 59, lost his life at Newburyport Bridge, on Tuesday night. He was draw tender, and had just let a boat go through the draw, when he made a misstep, struck his head on a timber, and fell into the water insensible, thus being drowned. His brother lost his life at the same place 12 years ago; and this man had the printed account of the death in his pocket, when drowned.

— Another tourist—Herr Hopfner of Dresden—and his guide, have lost their lives in attempting the ascent of the Ditlis mountain in the Alps.

— A charge of 323 kegs of powder was exploded in a San Juan mine recently. It opened the way to $20,000 which the miners got out in a couple of weeks.

— The Portland Advertiser of Thursday says Water is $2.50 per hogshead in that city. In Portsmouth it is from $3 to $5 per annum.

— Large numbers of Southern merchants from Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama, are at St. Louis, buying goods; some of them are paying debts contracted before the war.

— Major Welles, of Gen. Ord's staff, son of Secretary Welles, is under arrest at Detroit for assault and battery upon ladies of Campbell and Castle's Opera Company at their hotel.

— The New Orleans Picayune conjectures that cotton crop the coming season will be one million two hundred and fifty thousand bales. It adds that the amount of the old crop still left in the South is a vexed question, but the estimates vary from seven hundred thousand, and even as high as one million bales.

— According to the published report of the New England Agricultural Society, our friend Thomas B. Buffum, of Rhode Island, took seventeen out of nineteen first premiums on sheep. This fact of course places him at the head of the list of sheep growers in New England.

— Mr. Alston Weaver of New Hartford, Conn., aged 55 years, was suddenly killed on Friday last by a singular accident. A large roll of cloth was sent from the weave shop in the third story to the finishing room in the basement, without the customary signal being given, and struck Mr. Weaver in the breast, causing death.

— The Utica Telegraph states that a few months ago Dr. Horton of that city lost two of his three children. On Tuesday the Doctor himself died. On Thursday the remaining child, a bright girl of ten, did not feel well, and her mother gave her, as she supposed, a dose of geranium; but mistook for it yellow jasmine, which is a fatal poison when given in such a dose. The mother was unconscious of the mistake she had committed until the daughter suddenly exclaimed, "Oh, ma, I can't breathe," and sank down and died. The father and daughter were both buried together, and a stricken one bowed alone over the grave, who was only six months ago a happy wife and mother of three children.

[Communication.]

THE CAUSE.

As an instance of the general apathy and the callous condition of the public mind in this community, (and the remark will probably hold good in its application to most other cities of equal size) we may mention the fact that the recent murder of an individual, committed without any seeming provocation, and the suicide of another by shooting him through the head, occasions little surprise or even comment by the majority of our citizens. It is true that the victims were men of low repute, and of a low class; the suicide being grossly abandoned and vile, and the murdered man, of intemperate habits, altho' he is said to have been a quiet and inoffensive person, not given to wrangling or fighting. Still they were fellow-beings, in whom some one felt an interest, and the circumstances of their respective deaths should awaken a general feeling of horror and alarm at the condition of a society which has become so corrupt as to breed such revolting crimes.

We are not obliged to probe the subject very deeply to ascertain the incentive to such acts of violence as it is apparent at a glance that it is strong drink. And the unbridled indulgence in intoxicating drinks facilitated by the open sale of liquor contributes directly to the above results, and so long as public opinion sanctions the traffic, just so long will such a state of things exist. And as proof of the assertion that a majority of our citizens favor the use of liquor as a beverage, we only have to point to the fact of its general use among the high and low, rich and poor.

But the cause of crime lies behind all this. Rum is but the agent whereby diabolical schemes are consummated, and the radical cause is the apathetic condition of men and women in regard to its effects among us, and the general winking at its open sale, thus indirectly countenancing it. Turn the opinion of the public strongly into the right channels and you have set a power in motion which will speedily wipe out or greatly diminish this mischievous and fatal traffic.

Fathers and mothers! you who love your sons and doat upon them, regarding them as remarkably precocious and smart, do you know how far this precocity extends? We do. We know that this word—which perchance may sound "cunning" to you, means death to that young man! It means that he first meets older associates on the street, and after spending a few evenings lounging on the corner, he listens and yields to the suggestion of the companion to play a game of billiards, dice, cards, dominoes, ten-pins, &c., "for the drinks." "But my boy never drank a drop of liquor in his life," says a fond mother. Perhaps not, and perhaps he will not drink liquor now even though so strongly urged. He will take cider, a little mild cider; this will not intoxicate him, and he can enjoy the patronage and courtesy of his friends, and yet go home without exciting suspicion in the mind of the parent in regard to the manner in which he has passed the evening.

Possibly this may occur a number of times. But by and by he is induced to take a glass of ale. He dislikes its bitter taste at first, but soon he loves it and can drink it with the impunity of a toper. His stomach becoming gradually insensible by increased potions of this beverage; it is prepared for something stronger; and whiskey is suggested. It is tried and found to be just what is wanted to gratify his morbid appetite. And now he has arrived at a point in his life where there is not one chance in ten of his going home sober. He doubtless succeeds in slily creeping into his chamber and thus evades the notice of his parents trusting to a night of slumber to rid himself of the effects of the draught, the mother and father meanwhile supposing him to be invested with almost immaculate purity.

And don't for a moment suppose that his precocity stops here. It takes him to other scenes of crime, at the house of ill repute, where the votaries of licentiousness hold high carnival and passion reigns unrestrained. Here he is inducted into habits of reckless dissipation, and is now regarded by his associates as moderately fast and fit to "travel!" And he will travel, with a most fearful rapidity, downwards to ruin and death. The parent will find it out too late, and misery and disgrace take place of honor and happiness in that once happy home.

Many of you will regard this picture as overdrawn, and probably it will pass the mind as an idle tale, vanishing with the reading. But let us say that the story is not half told. We warn you again, fathers and mothers to take pains, as you value their future welfare and their immortal souls, to find out where your sons spend their evenings! We know whereof we speak, having "been there." ***.

An impression appears to prevail in the community that the late disastrous fire on the premises occupied by Mr. G. V. ROWE was occasioned by the EXCELSIOR BURNING OIL. The undersigned are authorized (through their Agent) by Mr. ROWE to contradict such impression.

CAUTION FROM THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPY.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The First has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The Second has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The Third has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The Fourth has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm. Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. Bartlett," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles called watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Agents for the American Watch Company,

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. SHEEHAN, THE MURDERER.

The death of Carlton and the circumstances attending the arrest of Sheehan, together with the fact of his capture, has excited the public mind to an interest in the result of his trial, and compels us to give in detail a report of his examination, and a few facts of importance relative to the prisoner.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE MURDERER.

Patrick Sheehan is now nearly 21 years of age, was born in Ireland, emigrated to this country several years since, has served two years in the Union army, having been employed prior to his enlistment as a laborer in and about the city, and on the Navy Yard a portion of the time, spending his evenings and his unemployed hours in the drinking-holes abounding among us, quarreling and disputing at the slightest provocation, insomuch that he has gained for himself the unenviable distinction of being an ugly, fighting character. He has several brothers and sisters, all of whom, together with some of his Irish friends, (and it is proper to state that this number is limited to a few, the larger portion of the Irish rejoicing at the fact of his apprehension!) have labored with indefatigable zeal to hide him from the police, and thus prevent his arrest.

THE MANNER OF HIS ARREST.

Ever since the stabbing affray, the police have been on the alert to detect the man upon whom rested the strongest suspicion of being the perpetrator of the deed, and every available means were used to learn of his whereabouts without exciting the notice of his friends so as to give the latter an opportunity to use it to their advantage in effectually secreting him from the officers of the law. After the death of Carlton, however—prompted by the strong affidavit given by him in his dying moments relative to the person who gave the fatal thrust, the stealthy manner in which the deed was committed, the supposed reasons for taking his life, &c.,—the City Marshal and his Assistants redoubled their energies, and determined to ferret out the hiding-place of the murderer. Accordingly, on Wednesday morning, Marshal Dresser suspecting—and and in fact from certain movements of the supposed friends of Sheehan, being almost fully convinced—that he was lurking about the city, at the suggestion of Detective Jonnson, summoned his police force, consisting of Assistant Marshals Johnson, Fredson and Abbott, and night-policemen Parks, Marsh, Marks and Underhill, and proceeding to Fernald's Wharf at the North End, commenced the search beneath the slimy timbers of the wharf. After stationing a strong guard outside, the remainder effected an entrance to what afterwards proved to be the abiding-place of the prisoner, through a vault situated in the vicinity, and by the aid of lanterns crawled through the dock mud (which was nearly up to their knees) and over the filthy cob-work, away up nearly the whole length of the wharf, when he was espied by one of their number, and in imparting the information to his fellow-creepers, alarmed Sheehan, who, it seems, was asleep at the time of their commencing the search, and caused him to change his resting place. He was closely followed, however, and informed that in order to avoid a taste of cold lead, he had better surrender; and seeing escape impossible, he came forth and delivered himself up, trembling from head to foot, and covered with the disgusting filth of which his bed was composed. He was taken to the station-house, followed by a large crowd of men, women and children who witnessed his capture. Four hours were spent in finding the prisoner and bringing him out into the light of day, and too much cannot be said in favor of those who performed the disagreeable task.

THE PERSONAL APPEARANCE of the prisoner is not repulsive by any means; but would impress the stranger with the idea that he was of ordinary intelligence, given to liquor-drinking, and capable of doing a large share of fighting. He is of slender build, about five feet eight inches in height, black curly hair, which inclines to grow low down on the forehead, inexpressible gray eyes, with heavy eyebrows, and a sort of ironical smile playing about the mouth, making up the personnel of a man the like of whom we meet on the street every hour. The prisoner exhibited symptoms of fear during his examination, at times trembling perceptibly. While listening to the various statements of the different witnesses, he seemed to watch with intense eagerness his counsel, Hatch, as tho' he depended on the sagacity and shrewdness of this lawyer to clear him. But after the close of the testimony, and the result of the investigation was announced, ordering him to jail, Sheehan seemed quite despondent, and his face wore a look of disappointment which had not been visible before. His mother is said to be nearly insane in consequence of the conduct of her son, and a good-looking young lady present at the examination—said to have been a sister of the prisoner's—wept freely upon witnessing the policeman adjust the handcuffs upon the wrists of her brother just before leaving the Court Room for the jail.

THE EXAMINATION

was postponed (in order to procure witnesses) from the time advertised (10 o'clock) until the afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the prisoner was brought in, and an investigation was held before Justice Bufford. The Court Room was filled with a motley crowd, composed of the friends of the accused, idlers and curiosity-seekers. A number of witnesses were summoned, the affidavit of Carlton was produced, and after a full hearing of the case the Judge considered the prisoner guilty, and ordered him to be fully committed for trial at the October term of Court, which commences its session on the third Tuesday of that month.

☞ In the Police Court, within the last few days, drunkards and other petty offenders have been fined as usual.

In the case of cross actions for assault, between John A. Pickering and Albert Pickering, of Newington, Albert was fined $5 and costs, and John A. $1 and costs.

In the case State by DeRochemont, jr., vs. Elias Frink, for assault, the respondent was considered not guilty, and discharged.

COOL.—While the mercury stood at 88° above, on Thursday, we noticed a man driving a horse across Market Square, harnessed to a pung on runners!

☞ Peter Hamill, a Catholic Priest residing in Newburyport, cut his throat with a razor, and stabbed himself with a knife, in a railroad car not far from Norwalk, Ct., early Wednesday morning, then cleared the car of passengers and conductor, and finally at Norwalk dashed through a car window and fell to the ground; but jumped up, ran off, and was not retaken until after a hard chase, nor secured without the aid of four men to hold him down. He is furiously insane; it is uncertain whether he will recover from his wounds.

☞ To save trouble to all concerned, we here state that the Publisher of the Chronicle has changed his residence from High Street; and for the present, any business orders in the evening may be left at Mr. Pearson's, No. 30 Hanover St. Chronicle Office hours, from 4 in the morning till 9 in the evening; and any authenticated orders dropped in the letter-box, in the street door, will receive attention. s12

AFRAID TO LAUGH.—Ladies sometimes repress their laughter to avoid revealing the discoloration and imperfection of their teeth. Fair ones, we would advise you to try the Fragrant Sozodont. It will remove, at once, all impurities, arrest the progress of decay, and whiten such parts as have already become black by decay, and leave the breath as fragrant as a rose. s11eodlw 6

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, startling incidents of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, aims, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 400 stockholders, and is delivering coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by return mail, for One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not incessantly superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made or caused to be rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!
TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen,
I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.
For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.
I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.
Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,
I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1865.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Gen. Van Wyck returns to New York. He has been endeavoring to obtain an order mustering out his old regiment, the 56th New York veteran volunteers. He regrets the mustering out of so many colored regiments, because the veteran regiments are required to remain longer to do what might as well be done by them. He says, from observation in South Carolina, where he is on service, that the clamor of the planters against colored troops is without foundation, and that no more outrages are committed by colored soldiers than by white. He and his regiment have been in service four years, and he thinks it unjust to them that they should be retained because the Southern men have a prejudice against the colored soldiers.

Gen. Howard has just received from Gen. Saxton, Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau for South Carolina and Georgia, some startling facts about the interior districts. He relates the murder of Capt. Healy, an officer of the Bureau, at Augusta, on the 2d inst., and says that an unsuccessful attempt on the life of Gen. Wild has been made, and that Capt. Bryant, another of his agents, has been notified anonymously that his life will next be taken.

Capt. Healy was assassinated while returning from his office by three men, who fired numerous shots, three of them taking effect in his body, and either of which would have produced almost instant death. His corpse was afterwards horribly mutilated with knives by the cowardly assassins.

Col. Brown, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen for the State of Virginia, reports to Gen. Howard from Richmond that he has reason to believe the fears recently expressed by numbers of citizens of Virginia of an insurrection by the freedmen of that State are entirely groundless. It is probable they are got up in the hope to procure an armed militia, like Mississippi.

There seems to be an earnest and simultaneous effort, by the ex-rebels of the South, and the ex-copperheads of the North, to turn back the tide of freedom—but it is impossible. The very effort, like the rebellion itself, will re-act on the authors, and promote the liberty it is intended to crush.

RATHER FAST.—A coppery Washington correspondent telling things President Johnson has done, says he has "announced plainly his determination to acknowledge the Southern States as STATES, at once, and to admit them to their full representation in the next session of Congress." But he has certainly not announced any such thing, nor has he any power over their representation in Congress—except as any new act of Congress may be signed or vetoed by him. Each House is the sole judge of the qualification of its members.

THE UNION CONVENTION of Massachusetts nominated Messrs. Bullock and Claflin for Governor and Lieut. Governor; and they will undoubtedly be elected. Charles Sumner and Benj. Butler made eloquent and thoroughly republican and democratic speeches, very instructive on public affairs.

THE BLOWN-UP TRAIN NEAR NASHVILLE.—A Nashville dispatch says the scene of the terrible explosion on the railroad near that city beggars description. The woods for acres are perfectly leafless, and blackened as though dead for years. The ground is strewed with branches, and large trees are shivered as by lightning. The embankment appears as if a volcano had vomited it up; a rocky ledge on the left of the track is split and shivered. Forty rods from the place of explosion lies a dead mule, without wounds—killed by concussion. Shells continued to explode for several hours after the accident. The proximity is still dangerous, as many shells lie scattered about.

POOR WIRZ is sick, nervous, almost crazy. At the suggestion of his counsel, Baker, the Military Commission have adjourned to let him get well. The crushing evidence of his horrible crime, is enough to break him down. It is to be hoped, however, that he may hold out long enough to prove that he acted under the orders of superiors, who are really as guilty as he is, and perhaps more so.

☞ William Webster, Esq., of Boston, agent of a submarine company has arrived in Savannah and proposes to remove the sunken wrecks, sand-bars, and obstructions of every kind from Savannah river, so that vessels drawing 15 feet of water can pass safely up to Savannah. No charge for services is to be made and only the sanction of the city government is asked. The parties probably expect to recover enough valuable property from the river to pay them for their labor.

— An order has been issued in Louisville threatening all persons with imprisonment who sell photographs of J. Wilkes Booth or Sue Mundy.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

BOSTON, September 14.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston & Maine Railroad, which was held at Lawrence yesterday, passed off with less excitement than was generally expected; those persons most interested preferring to make a change in the Directors, than to make a fuss at the meeting. Mr. Spelman was advised by his friends some time since to resign his position as President of the road, which advice he heeded to the extent of "not allowing" his name to be used in that connection again. But no desired to remain as a Director. The stockholders, however, have concluded he had better not remain. It was decided at the meeting that if any vacancy existed in the Board of Directors at the balloting yesterday, such vacancy should be filled at an adjourned meeting to be held at Lawrence Oct. 4. There were three tickets in the field, and the name of Francis Coggswell of Andover was on each. He received 21,509 votes out of 23,404, the whole number cast. Mr. Coggswell was Mr. Spelman's immediate predecessor as President of the corporation, and this large vote is of a very flattering character to him. The number of votes necessary to a choice was 11,748. N. G. White of Lawrence had 12,835, and was re-elected. Peter T. Homer of Boston had 14,278, and was re-elected. White and Homer are the only members of the old board who were honored with re-election. Samuel Wells of Boston, a brother of the late John S. Wells of Exeter, N. H., and a former Governor of Maine, was elected, having 12,159 votes; and E. J. M. Hale of Haverhill had 12,147 votes, and constitutes the fifth and last name on the list. There are two vacancies to be filled at the subsequent meeting, and Mr. Christie of Dover and Dr. Kittredge of New Market will probably fill these. Christie had 11,558 votes, and Kittredge had 11,489—within a few hundred of election in either case. There will be much pulling and hauling between this and the other meeting, but the above-named gentlemen have the lead now. Ex-Governor Gilmore was in town this morning,—and he said that Dr. Kittredge should be elected, if he had anything to say about it or had any influence with the stockholders. That will insure Kittredge's case. Several Exeter gentlemen, among others, were at the meeting, and pressed the Doctor's claims with much vigor, as an offset to late political movements. Thus has ended this great, much-talked of meeting, which has caused as much speculation and junketing as a gubernatorial election.

The recent great advance in cotton and other goods has finally brought people to their senses. Manufacturers of cotton cloths have made piles of money during the last month or two. Yard wide cottons that sold at 23 cents just after the close of the war now bring 55 cents. Western and other large buyers are purchasing only what they actually need, and it is confidently expected that the cotton bubble will burst shortly.

The Second N. H. Regiment will shortly be mustered out of service, and sent home.

Mr. Samuel H. Gookin (formerly of Portsmouth) has contributed $25,000 actual cash to a new firm, who are the successors of the late Washburn, Welch & Co. L.

[From the Dover Enquirer]

ANOTHER CLAM BAKE.—The gentlemen from Portsmouth who attended the Clam Bake at Dover Point, which was given by their Dover friends, two weeks ago, were so well pleased with the entertainment that they returned the compliment with another of the same sort, last Saturday. A couple of steamers brought up a large party from Portsmouth, and Dover and other towns were well represented. General hilarity was the most noticeable character present, although other distinguished guests in military, naval and civil life were not wanting. The "Governors of New England," who had promised to be there, were kept away by the horse trotting at Concord, much to their regret, no doubt, and very much to their loss, they may well believe. They can attend a Cattle Show and Fair any day between now and Thanksgiving, but a Clam Bake, like time and tide, "waits for no man." All who are not present at the raking open are nowhere.

The Dover Point House, under its present management, has become a favorite resort. It is delightfully situated on the borders of salt-water, with fishing and sailing at the very door, or riding over some of the best roads to be found anywhere—one of which, past the "old meeting house," (or where that ancient edifice used to stand two hundred and fifty years ago,) with its "entrenchments and blankards," still plainly visible, was the first traveled road in New Hampshire; it is easily accessible, yet retired from the beaten route of every day travel; and for those who have but a few days or a day or two, to spend away from business, or those who find time for a more prolonged residence, it combines all the advantages of larger, more famous and more expensive watering places.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Centennial Anniversary of Dunbarton, as an incorporated Town, was celebrated Sept. 13, with appropriate exercises, dinner, &c. Prof. Chas. G. Burnham, of Haverhill, Mass., gave the address.

—— At Merrimack, last Wednesday, the citizens gave a public reception, and collation, to the returned soldiers of that town.

THE AMENITIES OF BUSINESS.—In spite of the old proverb, that there is no friendship in trade, there is evidence that business has its amenities as well as literature. This was most touchingly illustrated, a day or two since, in the visit of Mr. Kennard, of Bigelow Brothers & Kennard, of Boston, his sole object being to wait at the bedside, possibly to add something to the comfort of our esteemed fellow-citizen, Mr. James Cary, who is very low. The same thoughtfulness that prompted the visit, provided many delicacies for the invalid, which, however, he cannot use, from the character of his disease.

"I come," said Mr. Kennard to us (he is an old city friend,) "to see Uncle James, as we younger men of the house call Mr. Cary, our customer for twenty years or more, and there is not one in the store but would receive news of his death with tears in his eyes," a tribute to his personal worth, as sincerely spoken as it was richly merited,—that respect the growth of business intercourse only. No merit was made of the attention; the visit was purely private,—its lesson, which, with no impropriety, we may publicly draw, that traffic, while it sharpens the intellect, oftimes develops the finer sensibilities of our nature, in just such an incident as this, which with the greatest pleasure we now record.—Brunswick, Me., Tel.

A STRANGE PROCEEDING.—It will be remembered by almost everybody, that in 1862, the pirate Alabama captured the steamer Ariel, with passengers and freight from New York for California, when, after taking a considerable sum in greenbacks, the pirate Semmes bonded the steamer and allowed her to proceed. When the vessel arrived here, Wells, Fargo & Co. charged all the owners of freight on board the steamer with a proportion of the amount of the pirate's bond. A most extraordinary proceeding, though scarcely so much as the fact that they have not refunded the money thus unlawfully collected. Some of the victims want to know what will become of that money, now the bogus Confederacy has ceased to exist, and there is no power to collect that bond? Will Wells, Fargo & Co. explain?—San Francisco Flag.

— The Missouri State Times says that on the record kept by the School Commissioners of Cole county for the year 1860, which record is now in the office of the County Clerk, appears the following story:

December 3, 1860.

"Revoked the certificate of A. Fechtel for the following reasons, (in substance,) to wit: Because he voted for Abraham Lincoln for the Presidency in 1860, and circulated Black Republican campaign documents; also wrote and put up notices advising the Germans to vote for Lincoln for the Presidency; also for being a Black Republican generally, and therefore unfit to teach the schools of the county.

THE END OF THE WORLD.—A British army officer—Captain W. A. Baker, of the Royal Bombay Engineers—has at last settled an often-disputed date—the year in which the world will come to an end. In a work just published in England, entitled "The Day and the Hour; or, Notes on Prophecy; a Sketch of the Future, extracted from the Bible," he imparts a considerable amount of information, which is certainly "important if true." The day of Judgment, he tells us, is fixed for Sept. 20, 1878; the hour, sunset; the Translation of the Saints having previously taken place, at 1 o'clock in the morning on the 25th of January, 1875.

☞ At Newport Village, Manchester, Mass., Wednesday afternoon, as Mr. T. D. Boardman and three ladies were riding in a barouche, the poll of the carriage broke as they were turning a corner at a declivity in the road, and the horses taking fright the carriage was overturned and all the occupants were thrown out. Miss Grace Wadsworth, daughter of Alexander Wadsworth of Boston, who was one of the party, was thrown headlong against a wall, fracturing her skull and killing her instantly. She was about eighteen years of age and beloved by a large circle of friends and relatives.

— Horace Greeley publishes a letter to the colored people of North Carolina, who meet in Convention at Raleigh, N. C., on the 29th inst., to ask for the right of suffrage, in which he advises them "to be hopeful;" "be patient;" "be peaceful;" "be diligent;" "respect yourselves, and stay where you belong."

— We see it stated that Mr. Joseph B. Mores has purchased the Boston Courier establishment. Mr. M. was formerly of the Newburyport Herald, and later of the Traveller.

— The statement of the Mobile Advertiser that nine hundred negroes in that city had held a meeting there and had decided to go back into slavery, is denied by the other papers there. No such meeting has been held.

—A correspondent sent out by an association of Massachusetts factories to obtain information says: "From what I see on every side, the day is very distant when such crops of cotton as were produced just before the war will again be raised.—Northern men must be the men to plant. Of this there can be no doubt."

— The statement recently published that the Secretary of the Treasury had decided to issue five-twenty bonds in exchange for compound interest notes is without foundation.

— The Chattanooga Gazette says Gen. Steedman, who has organized a court martial for the trial of the young bloods who murdered Capt. Healy at Augusta, Ga., has received letters warning him that if the murderers are punished he shall never leave Georgia alive.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may be invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations by which we have alluded. They are usually furnished with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.," others "P. S. Bartlett," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in our bodies, and the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

Local.

[Communication.]

Mr. Editor.—Are not our arrangements for a fire alarm, very incomplete? When a fire breaks out, a bell is rung for a few minutes, scarcely enough to excite attention and that is all. During the late fire in Market street, people living as near the spot as High street, were wholly unconscious that anything was happening. Others, hearing the alarm, but finding it stopped so instantly, concluded it was caused by the fire at Kittery, the glow of which was plainly seen, whereas their own property was really in considerable danger.

It does not seem as if this was as it should be; granted, that it is not desirable to have a large and useless crowd assemble on such an occasion, still there ought to be some arrangement by which those owning property some distance from their residence, can feel secure that it is not being consumed while they are quietly reading or sleeping half a mile off. Either a sufficient alarm should be raised to excite every one's attention, or better still, some arrangement should be made like that in use in Boston, by which the locality of the fire can at once be known. Will not our authorities give the matter some attention? X. E.

☞ We learn that for the past month water has been obtained of the aqueduct Company in this city for the use of the workmen on the Navy Yard, none of that refreshing beverage fit for drinking being obtainable there. A part of the oxen are also thus supplied with drink. Now as Government is obliged to spend a considerable sum in purchasing this water, to say nothing of the enormous expenditure for labor in transporting it across the river, we should think it would be a matter of economy to improve this excessively dry season in digging wells on the Yard, and by thus securing an abundance of good water, prevent the recurrence of the necessity of calling upon us in the city for that essential element another year.

There may be reasons for not carrying out this suggestion which we know nothing of; but judging from our limited knowledge of the matter we regard the habit of trucking water from Portsmouth to the Navy Yard as very like "carrying coals to Newcastle," as it certainly can be obtained in abundance by simply digging for it.

POLICE COURT, Sept. 14.—Yesterday, we gave an extended account of the unfortunate predicament in which Patrick Sheehan has involved himself through the habit of liquor drinking, and it would be supposed that it would serve as a warning to his friends and relatives to relinquish a habit which subjected them to such imminent danger thro' the exercise of unrestrained tempers. But no; immediately after the committal of his brother, John Sheehan seeks a grog-shop and continues to pour liquor into his stomach until he becomes a raging madman, and at eleven o'clock on Thursday evening, he was demonstrating his pugilistic propensities in front of the Franklin House, to the terror of a crowd of persons, and finally was arrested, and locked up until morning, when he was taken before the Court and fined $3 and costs $4.86. The State Prison or the gallows will stop him soon, if he persists in drinking.

☞ The screw steamer Little Ada left the Navy Yard on Wednesday for Detroit, Michigan, to be used there as a sort of reminder that Uncle Sam has not forgotten his frontier. This little vessel is of only 196 tons capacity, yet she is capable of doing good execution, as well as withstanding a vigorous rain of shot and shell in case of action, being built of iron and a good sailer. She was captured from the rebels sometime during the war, and was taken to Fortress Monroe in charge of Ensign B. Stowe Leighton of this city, who was killed at the attack on Fort Fisher.

☞ Every summer for a number of years, the passers on Vaughan street have been gladdened by the sight of Mr. Shillaber's beautiful display of morning glories, completely embowering the street-end of his residence. If the threadbare quotation from Keats, in reference to "a thing of beauty," contains a particle of truth, much praise is due Mr. Shillaber for his contribution to the gratification of the public eye.

☞ The August pay roll of the mechanics and laborers employed on the Navy Yard is nearly ready for payment. The total footing for the month of August is upwards of $115,000. About 2000 workmen are employed there.

☞ Only one more chance to make a trip to Dover Point by the steamer Pioneer. Don't let the opportunity pass, as these excursions will well repay one for the time and money spent.

☞ Surgeon Smart, U. S. A., has been corresponded with relative to how many patients he can take from the Webster Hospital, at Manchester, preparatory to breaking up the Manchester Hospital. The Invalid Soldiers from the Hospital at Troy, N. Y., are also to be sent to Fort Constitution.

☞ The thermometer at the Yard at noon of Friday indicated 92°. This temperature, in connection with the extreme drought, causes the air to smell sulphurous.

☞ Ship Pisciataqua from Bassein for Europe, in bearing out of Sable Bay C G H July 20, ran upon the rocks and became a total loss. The Piscataqua was 890 tons, built at Portsmouth, and owned here.

☞ A splendid rain fell in York, Me., on Friday morning at 3 o'clock.

— Gen. Grant is near St. Louis, with his family, at the house of his wife's father, Gen. Dent.

— The Times says the stories about the inflation of the currency are groundless; there is no considerable increase, present or prospective.

—Henry A. Wise expresses his gratification that he is freed from his slaves. The colored "gemmen" probably reciprocate.

—The Emperor Maximilian has decreed that his Ambassadors shall receive a salary of $12,000—provided that he can raise the money.

— The Richmond Republic says: "We lately heard a desperate threat from a man who was short of funds. He said he would have money—if he had to work for it. If he had threatened to commit highway robbery or murder, he could scarcely have worn an aspect of more ferocious determination.

AFRAID TO LAUGH.—Ladies sometimes repress their laughter to avoid revealing the discoloration and imperfection of their teeth. Fair ones, we would advise you to try the Fragrant Sozodont. It will remove, at once, all impurities, arrest the progress of decay, and whiten such parts as have already become black by decay, and leave the breath as fragrant as a rose. s11eodlw 6

DR. BICKNELL is entitled to the gratitude of the world, for the great work his Syrup is doing. Cases of Dysentery, Diarrhea, &c., with old and young, yield to this, that baffled all skill before.

JOSEPH B. ADAMS, P. M.

Brother Miller:—You suppressed my advertisement as it contraband. The citizens of Portsmouth must be in the freedom which spiritual communion confers upon Heaven's especial favorites. The true idea of Heaven is not a fable. Men need God's wisdom to enlighten, Christ's teachings to confirm, Nature's revealings to immortalize the whole. Man needs a conviction that this life is a mystery and that all he seeks to encourage him is a true faith in Christ's farewell doctrines, "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the Tribune, at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly four miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operating over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no attention to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

— A gentleman saw a notice of valuable information sent to any address on the receipt of 10 cents, and thought that he must have 10 cents worth more of knowledge. He sent his dime and received in answer the following: "Friend, for your ten cents, postage, &c., pleased find inclosed advice which may be of great value to you. As many persons are injured for weeks, months and years by the careless use of a knife, therefore my advice is, when you use a knife, always whittle from you."

A NEW DEGREE.—Among the honors conferred by Mr. Brown University on Wednesday was that of B. F., which the class of 1862 gave to the father of the first boy baby. The diploma, instead of a dusty piece of parchment, was a fat, jolly silver cup, bearing on one side the seal of the University, on the front a classic medallion, and on the other side the following inscription: "prior tempore, prior jure." "Presented by the Class of 1862, to ——, Born August 3, 1864."

His crop last year amounted to sixty thousand baskets, of which the average price was one dollar per basket—sixty thousand dollars. The aggregate profits of his peach culture for the three preceeding years may be safely estimated at the snug sum of $150,000.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1865.

MISSISSIPPI. — A Circular from the Freedmen's Bureau having advised legal marriages between the freed blacks, the Clerk of the Probate Court of Pike county, Mississippi, has written to Col. Thomas, Assistant Commissioner for that State, expressing his desire to assist in carrying out the provisions of that circular, and also in making written contracts between freedmen and their employers. There are many freedmen who are making verbal contracts, choosing rather to run the risk of loss than to undergo the expense or trouble of foot travel to the nearest location of a bureau office. Col. Thomas replies in a telegraphic order, granting permission, commending the spirit the writer manifests towards his freedmen neighbors in their new position, adding that such a disposition on the part of civil officers throughout the State would relieve the officers of the bureau of immense labor and responsibility, and would be the first step toward doing away with the necessity for such a military organization.

ALABAMA.—Gen. Swain, of the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama, has given orders that all contracts with freedmen for labor must be reduced to writing, or approved by an Agent of the Bureau. For plantation labor, employers must stipulate to provide sufficient food, quarters and medical attendance for their laborers, and such further compensation as may be agreed upon. Such contracts will be a lien upon the crops raised upon the plantations, of which not more than one-half shall be removed until full payment to the laborers is made, and the contract canceled by the Agent of the Bureau for plantation labor. Absentees from labor without good cause will be proceeded against as vagrants, and may be set to work on the public roads, or to do other labor, or turned over to the Freedmen's Bureau. Governor Parsons and General Wood have approved of the order and directed its enforcement.

A Montgomery special dispatch to the Mobile News says many influential citizens of Marengo and the adjacent counties have petitioned Governor Parsons, asking his interposition for the removal of Col. Lynch, of the 5th Wisconsin Cavalry, as Lynch's open sentiments would lead to a negro rebellion against the whites, and bloodshed.

☞ A letter from Washington, Friday, says a report prevailed that morning of the death of Wirz. He is on the contrary much better. He had worn himself out by writing when he should have been sleeping. Being now denied the use of writing materials by night, he is mending.

☞ Sch Ocean Wave of Providence, while proceeding to sea Friday morning, went ashore near Portland Light, but was subsequently got off by the steam tug Warrior. She was leaking badly and was towed to Hog Island Roads, to be beached.

— Charleston papers of the 13th state that ex-Gov. Aiken received a full and complete pardon from the President on the 11th inst.

— Rev. Peter Hamil, of Newburyport, who attempted to commit suicide in the cars a few days since, died at Bellevue Hospital, New York, Friday.

— The women employed in the fancy shops of Paris have addressed a request to their masters, to be relieved of the necessity of serving in the shops on Sunday.

— It is reported that the White Sulphur Springs, in Napa county, Cal., have been sounded on frequent occasions to a great depth, without finding bottom.

— The Tribune's correspondent says the President and Sec. Seward look upon the recognition of Mexico as an act perfectly legitimate in itself and which must eventually take place.

— Lieut. Gamble, of Her Majesty's ship Urgent, says the Urgent passed the locality where the cable buoys were reported to have been placed, and with the best lookouts, officers and men saw none of them. He concludes that if the Great Eastern's reckoning was correct, the buoys must have parted from the cable and are drifting about the ocean.

— Gen. Marmaduke, late of the rebel army, is the first one to avail himself of the privilege to go abroad and remain without the United States during the pleasure of the Government, and received a passport accordingly. Gen. Beauregard also applied for a passport under the same order, thro' the medium of a sympatizing lady friend from Alabama.

— The New York plan for foiling burglars has failed in England. A Manchester jeweller, it seems, adopted it in its entirety, abolishing shutters, putting up iron bars in their places, leaving his shop resplendent with gas, and retiring securely to rest. In the morning he found his window smashed, and as many articles as could be reached through the bars stolen

RYE, Sept. 16th.

Messrs. Editors:—A trip to Gosport is not of such novelty as to inspire the cautious reader with the hope of perusing anything remarkably or entertaining concerning that locality; but as no one was ever known to visit Sir John Smith's Isles without immediately rushing into print, I will not attempt to deviate from such long-established customs. Your correspondent was one of a gay party of more than twenty that went over in Capt. Varrell's yacht "Eclipse," on one of the loveliest days of the season. Nature, in one of her amiable moods, tempered the wind and sun to such a degree that even the most fastidious of her whimsical children could hardly be offended. What there is in this barren group of rocks to attract more than a casual visit from the fashionable public, I am at a loss to imagine; for Smith's Isles are emphatically the Dry Tortugas of New England. Yet it is fashionable to go there, and the Augustus Fizzoodles and the Flora McFlimseys will, for weeks, inhale not only the "balmy" sea-breeze, but the delicious fragrance of stale haddock and decaying cod-fish, and pronounce it "splendid." Thereupon all the fashionable world modify their ideas of bad smells, and rush at once for Gosport and its abominable docks. The effects of the present severe drought are visible in the bad quality of the water, the importation of new cider, and the debilitated appearance of the chickens. Some of the inhabitants have improved the occasion and have dug wells, to a depth that they fondly hope will insure them plenty of water in future.

Our little party visited the objects of curiosity on Star Island—such as Beebe's grave-yard, "Miss Underhill's Chair," "Betty Moody's Cave," and Sir John Smith's Monument. Concerning the monument, Capt. A. J. Leavitt, Keeper of the White Island Light, relates a good anecdote. A few weeks since, a party of four, consisting of two ladies and their "partners," were standing near the "monumental marble" and reading the inscriptions thereon. One of the ladies, with charming simplicity asked, "Well, who was Sir John Smith anyhow?" "Why," replied the other, evidently astonished at her companion's lack of historical knowledge, "Why, Sir John Smith was the Captain John Smith that Pocahontas captured!"

We left the monument, and the bleak, barren bluffs, with nought to relieve their dreary monotony but here and there a blade of grass struggling for life amid the surrounding desolation; and the party repaired to the "Atlantic House," and quietly taking full possession thereof, beguiled the passing hours with music, dancing, and

"Songs of magic sweetness."

Returning at early eve, smoothly gliding o'er the treacherous sea, song after song was poured forth by some of the fairest and best of Mother Eve's descendants, as they neared their respective homes. The Rye Quadrille Band was in attendance the entire trip, and contributed much to the enjoyment of the occasion. There were no "stay-behinds," and consequently no necessity for evening "serenades." Altogether, it was probably the best-arranged and most successful pleasure-party of the season. Whenever it is repeated, "may we be there to see."

I neglected to mention in my last that a party of Boston gentlemen—stopping at the private boarding-house of Mr. S. B. Spear—have recently erected a flag-staff, and thrown to the breeze a most elegant flag, of the dimensions of thirty-six by nineteen.

A Sabbath School Convention was held in the Congregational Church on Thursday, at which delegations were present from Portsmouth, Newington, Greenland, North Hampton, Hampton, and other towns in the vicinity. After the close of the interesting religious exercises, the whole company repaired to a neighboring grove and had a grand picnic. A large number were assembled and everything passed off pleasantly.

The already immense Ocean House is to be immediately enlarged, and the workmen have already commenced operations. We understand the proprietor contemplates an addition of 50 feet to the dining room, with some 20 or 30 rooms overhead. Also an extension of the cookery, which is not large enough to meet the wants of such an establishment. BUGGINS.

— Heavy fires are raging in the woods Halifax, where it is very dry.

—The recent fire at Liverpool, N. S. destroyed fourteen houses and the Baptist and Methodist churches. Loss about $40,000.

— Two clergyman in Chicago disguised themselves as tops one night last week, and paid a visit to the theatre, where they were arrested as pickpockets!

— C. C. Burr, the ex-rev. politician, edits a coppery Monthly, called the Old Guard. If he writes as he speaks, he had better call it the Blackguard.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

WAIFS FROM AN ESTRAY.—Boston, Sept 16, 1865.—Your "regular" in this notional city will pardon me if I trench a little upon his ground, I know, and need not fear that if he gives me an inch I will take an "L."

For once the contrast twixt country and city seems to favor the latter, the well sprinkled streets being far more agreeable to the traveler than the dusty roads which thread the parched surface of the former.

The City Hall begins fairly to show its magnificence as a building, and the rubbish has been mostly cleared away from the School street front. The Post seems to think the work could be completed a little faster. It says: "Another flag stone for the walk in front of the City Hall is expected next week. Franklin has asked permission to sit down until the fence is completed; he says he can't stand the delay."

The great picture of the storming of the temple of human sacrifice in Mexico by Cortes, painted by Lentze, is still on free exhibition at the gallery of Childs & Jonks.

The exercises of the eighth graduating class of Dr. Dio Lewis's gymnastic training school for teachers took place in Tremont Temple last evening. The attendance was so large as to completely fill the Temple in every part, and a more intelligent audience (according to the Journal) was never assembled within its walls. The class, numbering about forty, with their tasteful, bright-colored costumes, gave the stage the appearance of a parterre of gay flowers, and when the whole throng swayed in unison in some of their exercises the effect was similar to that of a breeze passing over a flower-gemmed prairie. The gymnastic performances were varied and interesting, and were warmly applauded. They were interspersed with fine singing—by Miss Anna Granger, of New York, who has a clear, sweet voice, and Mr. Barry, of Boston. The music for the exercises seemed to trickle from the fingers of the pianist, Mr. J. W. Cheney, who displayed a great deal of taste in his selection of airs for the occasion.

The following toast is one of the fruits of a recent meeting of the Newton Horticultural Society—an offshoot which I prune from the published proceedings:

Woman—the first gatherer of fruit—by picking the first apple she caused the first pair to fall.

When last I passed over the Eastern Road, a cloud of dust (raised by the thousands attending camp meeting) enveloped the station at Hamilton. Yesterday, a dense cloud of smoke veiled the vicinity of that depot, coming from a great fire in Wenham swamp, which on Friday, the fourth day of its continuance, had already burned over several hundred acres of woodland. Asbury Grove, Hamilton, has also been nearly destroyed, and with it the buildings used for camp meeting there. All along the road lie blackened fields and charred fences; here the devouring element can be seen licking up the dry vegetation with its forked tongue, the leaves and twigs crackling and snapping like the bones of an animal in the coils of a serpent, and there the smouldering stump, log or bog proclaims that the trail of the devastator is yet fresh. ION.

EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY.—A card signed by Francis Wayland, Henry Ward Beecher, Stephen H. Tyng, and nearly a hundred other leading clergymen and laymen in different parts of the country, is published, announcing that "a convention of evangelical Christians will be held in the city of Cleveland at 10 o'clock on Wednesday, Sept. 27, 1865, to organize a National Society for Evangelization — a Christian Commission for the masses—to carry the religion of Jesus, in all its saving efficacy, especially in the great cities and in the South, to those not reached by effective Christian influences." Churches, City Missionary and Tract Societies, Young Men's Christian Societies and kindred organizations are requested to appoint delegates.

— The residents of several counties in Northern Missouri promptly notify all returning bushwhackers and rebel officers that they will not be allowed to remain in those parts—and there is a steady movement of returned rebels to other States.

— Ex-Mayor Tibbett of Lagrange, Wis., was stabbed and instantly killed in a saloon in that city on Sunday week, by a boatman, with whom he had been drinking, and afterward quarreled. The murderer fled, but afterwards gave himself up to the officers of justice.

— A meeting was held at Hempstead, consisting of Austin, Grimes and Washington counties, Texas, at which resolutions were unanimously adopted to accept the situation of affairs, to co-operate with President Johnson and Governor Hamilton for the reorganization of the State, and soliciting the Governor to call a Convention to restore the State to its Federal relations.

THE NATION:

A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.

This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred. Five criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

A special correspondent has started on a journey throughout the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Tuckerman, Bayard Taylor, C. A. Bristed, C. L. Brace, William Lloyd Garrison, James Parton, Gail Hamilton.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COMY.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.," no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.," others "P. S. BARTLETT," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding purity or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY.—With no small surprise, we recently noticed an advertisement that the property of this corporation would be sold at auction on the 7th Aug. ult. It consists of the steam mill, 200x70 feet, 6 stories high, with 2 wings, each 100x30 feet—with extensive dye-house and bleachery of the most approved construction; with all the machinery, fixtures, tools, furniture, materials and supplies. Much of the machinery is new, and all capable of immediate production; and the mill has a capacity equal to thirty thousand dozen spool cotton per week. The Sagamore Mill, under lease to the Rockingham Mill; a dwelling-house on Islington street; also 14 houses in the vicinity of the mill, used as boarding houses for the operatives; one store-house on Parker street and one on Rock street. The cost of all the above property was probably near a million, and we see no reason why it is not nearly as valuable at this time. The same paper contains the following extract:

"The cotton and woolen mills throughout this region are now in the full tide of successful operation. The cotton mills are generally short of "help," which is the only bar to the operation of their entire machinery. It the stock of cotton holds out till another crop is grown, the coming year will be a very prosperous one to manufacturers.—Woonsocket Patriot."

Now if all the other mills are in successful operation, can any valid reason be assigned why the Portsmouth mills cannot be put in equally successful operation? There can be a full supply of cotton, as the war is ended, and there was probably never more in the country, and the price is falling. Some is now being exported. But the price, high or low, does not injure the stockholders, as the consumers, the purchasers for domestic use, pay for the whole costs, with the profits added.

The reason offered for the sale is, that the corporation has incurred a large debt, and therefore the real and personal estate must be sold in order to pay it.

But this is a non sequitur. We have no faith that so large a debt as has been reported, could have fairly accumulated. It may be fictitious in part. It may have been created in order to induce a sale of the estate, at a great sacrifice, for the benefit of a few wealthy men, as was the case of the Cocheco Manufacturing Co., and the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad. Most of the stockholders lost their stock, which went to benefit the wealthy. Prior to a sale there ought to be a most thorough investigation into the pecuniary affairs of the corporation. Why was so large a quantity of the manufactures kept on hand, instead of being sold at market price? Why was it not sold previous to a vote of the managers or agents to sell, and thereby reduce the supposed debt? A mystery hangs over the affairs. Why should this corporation be in debt, while all other cotton mills are successful?

But suppose there is an honest debt even of two or three hundred thousand dollars, we insist that the real estate should not be sold to pay it; because only the wealthy would purchase it on their own terms, probably at much less than half its real value, and the stockholders generally would lose their stock. The new proprietors would at once put the mills in successful operation, and make money by it. Although the mills could not be moved, the profits would enrich speculators, probably, at a distance, instead of benefiting the present numerous stockholders. It was fortunate for the latter that the intended sale was arrested by writs of injunction.

Under all the circumstances, can it admit of any doubt that the stockholders should hold a legal meeting, and elect faithful agents, if the present are not satisfactory, and order them to put the mills in immediate operation—to sell all the goods on hand to reduce the debt, collect all the monies due, and should the banks or capitalists require immediate payment, (which is not probable) new mortgages of the estate for the security of new loans should be made, and thus all the stockholders would save their property, and the debt would finally be liquidated out of the profits.

COMMON SENSE.

☞ A few days since we published an item relative to the theft of Government property from the Navy Yard a week or two ago, committed by the surgeon's steward, named James K. Davey. We learn that he was brought before U. S. Commissioner Clifford at Portland on Wednesday, and plead guilty. In default of $500 bail he was committed for trial at the September term of the U. S. Circuit Court.

☞ Fires are prevalent in our midst on account of the severe drought. On Saturday the locality known as the Rest Island was discovered to be on fire, but was extinguished without much damage. In fact the loss would not be great if the whole island was destroyed—house, land and bushes.

☞ In blasting a ledge at the Navy Yard on Friday, a vein of granite was exposed to view which shew a layer of pure copper ore, one half an inch in thickness.

☞ The alarm of fire on Sunday afternoon was caused by the burning of woodland on the line of the Eastern Railroad, this side of Greenland depot. An extra train, with returning Maine soldiers, passed the spot a little after three o'clock, at which time the heat is said to have been so great as to drive all persons from the platforms to the interior of the cars. Quite an extensive fire was raging in Newington on Saturday and Sunday, but as it was a mile or two back from the main road, our reporter didn't feel adequate to the walk after his hot and dusty drive.

☞ A beautiful display of shell-work may be seen in Mr. Shores' window. It consists of a picture frame of shells arranged in a most tasteful manner. It was made by a lady in Exeter, and we think is hard to beat.

☞ A young horse ran away from in front of Mr. J. Wells' store on Saturday, and made sad havoc with the glass in one of the windows of C. E. Myers & Co.'s store before he was stopped.

ICE.—This indispensable commodity is growing scarce and consumers are obliged to import it from Portland, Great Falls, &c., by cars, in order to supply their daily wants.

FEAT IN DENTISTRY.—Saturday, the 8th inst., Dr. Baker extracted 22 teeth (many of which were quite firm,) for one lady at one sitting, and the next day her husband said she was as "bright as a button."

SUITED TO THE SEASON.—(Scene—Market Square on Thursday afternoon last) Jones (who is rather portly, and given to the use of strange adjectives)—"Brown, this is devilish fine weather we are having for September."

Brown (who is matter-of-fact)—"Oh, yes! it's so hot."

A NOVEL TURNOUT.—At the Hartford Horse Show, last week, the papers there say:

Miss Agatha Fortunata Yeaton of Brooklyn, N. Y., drove on the grounds in her carriage drawn by five ponies. Her father Mr. C. C. Yeaton, and groom attended her the former holding the lines. This turnout made quite a sensation. The aggregate weight of the five ponies is 1820 pounds.—The three highest ones are 45 inches high. They are handsome little animals. The leader is a Scotch pony, sorrel, with four white feet and a white back. This is Miss Yeaton's pet saddle-horse. She rides him about at pleasure, and manages him herself. This she has done for the last two years, which is very remarkable, as the young lady is only four years old. Three others of the team are from Calcutta, and are believed to be the only ponies of the kind in this country, while the fifth one is an Arabian. No use in trying to buy the entire team; money is not able to do it. The cost of this team is fabulous, and it is said that the father of the young lady paid $10,000 for the leader of the team.

Miss Mary Hoge, a young lady of 14 years, exhibited a tandem pony team, at full speed, on the track, and little Miss Yeaton drove her fancy pony team.

— "Working for bare life" is defined to be making clothes for a new baby.

— During the improvements at Central Park, the remains of fortifications thrown up in 1812 on the brow of the hills forming the Southern boundary of Harlem plains, and traces of a Revolutionary encampment will be preserved as far as possible.

— The Chicago Tribune says Mr. Lincoln made a great mistake in allowing Greeley to go as peace envoy to Canada. He should have sent Weed, and then Greeley would have fought "till the last armed foe expired!"

— A married man who was recently at a whist party, when he proposed to go home was asked to stay a little longer. "Well," he replied, "perhaps I may as well; my wife is probably already as mad as she can be."

DR. BICKNELL is entitled to the gratitude of the world for the great work his Syrup is doing. Cases of Dysentery, Diarrhea, &c., with old and young, yield to this, that baffled all skill before.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South, as the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven of the worst Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the statesmen, soldiers, contrabands and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

Coal at Cost.

The Eagle Hill Mutual Coal Company.

The subscriber has succeeded in obtaining a limited number of shares in this popular Company, which has proved such a success in Boston and vicinity, for the purpose of enabling the citizens of Portsmouth to obtain their coal at a saving of three or four dollars per ton. Full information will be given and a small amount of stock furnished on application to

JOHN S. HARVEY,
Je29 47 Congress st., Portsmouth.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. It officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operated over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid 20 per cent dividends of 7 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacos, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curacos, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rhematic Affections, &c.

Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

—THE—

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease or management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SOLDIERS OF VIRGINIA.—We have before us a rare book, sent to us from Virginia, as a curiosity, by Chas. E. Plaisted, A. A. Adj. Genl. The book is the "Acts of the General Assembly of Virginia," in 1863 and 1864. One of the most remarkable documents in the book, is an Address of the General Assembly to the soldiers of Virginia, adopted March 9, 1864, which is strong in false statements, and very strong in predictions which subsequent events have shown to be false. We have room for only a few extracts, which follow:

Before taking up arms, every effort to obtain the peaceful enjoyment of your rights under the constitution had been exhausted, your appeals for justice spurned with contempt, and a war to subjugate our sister states of the south commenced by Abraham Lincoln. * * * * * * * * *

Under the hypocritical guise of liberating from slavery a population happier and more virtuous than themselves, they have sought to subject us to a yoke more galling than they have essayed to remove. * * *

The heart sickens at the contemplation of the enormities that would have committed, had this nefarious scheme succeeded. No prayer for mercy would have been heard; no scream for help would have been heeded. Fire, rapine, slaughter and lust would have held undisputed dominion in this fair city. * * * * * * * *

An avenging God suddenly summoned their atrocious leader from the scene of his wickedness to the bar of judgement, and on his slain body were found his atrocious instructions, stained with his own blood. The name of Dahlgren will be handed down to history as a fit associate in infamy with Butler, and a host of lesser criminals, who have disgraced humanity, and shocked the moral sense of the world. * * *

After all that we have suffered and endured, subjugation or submission to the cruel foe would reduce us to a degree of degradation and misery which has no parallel in the history of civilization. * * *

Nothing but wretchedness and untold misery await us, if we stop short of the unconditional acknowledge of our independence. This your valor will surely command. * * * * * * * * *

Born to an inheritance of freedom, you cannot hesitate between slavery or death. Submission to an enemy, who has exhausted every infamy, is not endurable even in thought; but were we base enough to desire peace upon any terms less than the unqualified recognition of our independence, self-interest alone would teach us the folly of relying upon the forbearance of a nation who have shown in every step of the war, that their faith is perfidy, and their only policy is rapine, plunder and oppression. *

Such is the doom announced for the people of the South by the wicked race now warring upon us. But we know it can never be executed. An army of veterans have resolved that their country shall not be enslaved. * * *

On the other hand, your enemies are appalled by the magnitude of the task before them. The loud boastings which a few weeks since they so freely uttered, have been silenced by your unanimous re-enlistments, for the war, and the stern and resolute bearing of the South. * *

The armies of the enemy are every day diminishing, and it is evident they cannot recruit them to the numbers with which they began the struggle. A large and growing party are for peace. A still larger party have discovered that the war has so far only served to entail upon themselves a despotism which trampled down every public and private right. They feel and acknowledge that they are the slaves of one whose character has made him odious to the world. * * * * *

God will strengthen your arms in the hour of battle, and give his blessing to a just cause. Independence and peace will be conceded by your enemies. * * *

— A well-known pickpocket recently died in New York, leaving property to the amount of sixty thousand dollars, all of which he accumulated within the past six years, in excursions through the various cities of the Union.

— A young lady, visiting the Sing Sing State Prison, has recognized in one of the convicts a lost brother, who was convicted of wrong-doing under an assumed name. They are children of an opulent New York merchant, and the boy was mourned as killed in the war.

— The late constitutional convention in Mississippi sat for eleven days, and its cost to the State was $14,000. The members received eight dollars a day. The expenses of the convention and the provisional government are paid by a tax levied under a proclamation of Gov. Sharkey.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1865.

HABEAS CORPUS SUSPENDED BY THE PRESIDENT.—On Friday, at Washington, a writ of habeas corpus was issued by Judge Wylie, on the petition of Samuel H. Burch, filed by his counsel, Joseph Bradley, Esq., commanding the officer in charge of the Old Capitol to produce before him at 11 o'clock the bodies of his father Thomas Burch, and his brother Charles Burch and Orlando Burch, who he represents to have been unlawfully arrested and illegally held, they neither now nor ever having been connected with the land or naval forces. On Saturday Gen. Baker, by whose order the parties were arrested several days since at their home in Fairfax county, appeared, with the writ endorsed by the President as follows:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Sept. 16, 1865.

In the cases of Samuel Burch, Charles Burch, and Orlando Burch, referred to within, the execution of the writ of habeas corpus is hereby suspended.

(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.

The President evidently understands his own business, and sees through the gang of horse thieves; but what will become of those patriots who howl about habeas corpus, and rape Andrew Johnson into their party? Another of the family, Elijah Burch, was arrested. They are charged with the larceny of and making use of Government horses, with the brand "U. S." upon them, and it is stated they were caught in the act. Already Gen. Baker has recovered over thirty horses so marked—supposed to be with the same brand. Gen. Baker said there would be no objection to turning the parties over to the civil courts at once, if they could be tried immediately, but we doubt about letting a Virginia jury try them just now.

FIRE IN AUGUSTA, ME.—A fire broke out at Augusta about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, and made great destruction. The entire business portion of the city, extending from the passenger bridge to Winthrop street, and from the river and above the rail-road track, is a smoking mass of ruins.

The fire broke out in a new wooden building on Water street, into which the occupant only moved Saturday, and spread rapidly in all directions. The utmost efforts of the firemen could only confine its destructive progress to the limits above mentioned. Every lawyer's office in the city, all the banks, two hotels, the post office, the telegraph and express offices, all the dry goods stores, bookstores and clothing establishments in the city, the United States Quartermaster's, the Commissary and Pension offices, the new depot not finished, the Age newspaper office and many other buildings—in all numbering more than a hundred individuals and firms—were burned. Many saved portions of their whole stock of goods, while others lost everything. The banks succeeded in saving all their papers and treasure. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. The losses cannot now be estimated, but cannot fall short of half a million of dollars. A large portion of the loss is covered by insurance; and of course some companies suffer heavily.

WIRZ.—By Washington dispatches it appears that up to Saturday, the spiritual advisers, Fathers Hamilton and Whelan, of whom he seeks spiritual comfort, had not called upon him. On that day he requested the Superintendent of the Old Capitol Prison to furnish him with a copy of "Baxter's call to the unconverted." He got it. He does not seem to have been in any sense a religious man, nor to be very well posted on religious subjects. But drowning men catch at straws;—and poor Wirz does not seem to distinguish between Baxter and the Priests.

☞ In Newburyport, on Saturday, Harrison Capin and Aaron Sawyer, gipsey basket makers from Barrington, were arraigned before the Police Court, charged with cutting down about a dozen young ash trees, for the purpose of procuring material for basket stuff, from land of Mr. Little in Newbury. They were sent to the House of Correction for 10 months.

— Paymaster M. F. Webb, who was tried before a court martial at Washington, on the charge of collusion with claim agents in the purchase of soldiers' check books, has been sentenced to be dishonorably dismissed the service, with loss of all pay and allowances now due, or that may become due to him, and a fine of one thousand dollars to the United States, and be confined in the Concord (N. H.) penitentiary until the same be paid.

— It is said that Dean Richmond received a dispatch from Gen. Slocum on Saturday, heartily endorsing the New York Democratic platform and accepting the nomination of Secretary of State.

— Judge Pascall at Texas, and several citizens, have arrived in Washington to urge the release of Jeff. Davis.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— There will be no State Militia Muster this autumn.

—— A tomato has been raised in Nashua which measures 16 1-2 inches and weighs 1 3-4 pounds.

—— The milkmen at Manchester have raised their price of milk to eight cents a quart, on account of the scarcity of water.

—— A new depot is to be erected at Rochester by the Great Falls and Conway Railroad, on the site of the old one.

—— Burglars are troubling the good people of Rochester. About $300 worth of goods, stolen from an auctioneer's salesroom, seems to be the amount of their plunder.

—— Geo. G. Fogg, of Concord, for the last four years Minister Resident of the United States at Switzerland, is expected to return home soon, and resume the editorial charge of the Independent Democrat.

—— The Thirty-Seventh Anniversary of the Portsmouth Baptist Association was held at Dover the 13th and 14th inst. Annual sermon by Rev. J. J. Peck of South Amesbury, Mass.

—— Samuel C. Eastman, of Croydon, committed suicide in that town on the morning of the 11th inst., by hanging. He was subject to fits of insanity, and no doubt took his life under maniacal influences. He was about fifty years of age, and depended on the town for his support.

—— The fifteth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. Oliver Brooks and his wife, of Dover, was celebrated at their residence, in that city, last Tuesday. There was a large gathering of their children, grandchildren and friends, and the occasion was one of the great interest.

—— The town of Exeter, last week, appointed a committee to receive and invest the bequest of Wm. Robinson to said town. The Committee consists of the Selectmen, with the addition of Woodbridge Odlin, C. H. Bell, J. L. Merrill, and Wm. P. Moulton. They are to have no pecuniary compensation.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On the night of Sept. 8, (as we learn from the Mirror,) the Village of South Acworth was excited from a bold robbery which occurred about half a mile off on the road leading to Lempster, and near the bridge crossing Cold River, in the woods. Mr. Henry French about sundown went from the village to the woods, and at 8 o'clock, after getting part way home, he was met by a man who struck him, and stabbed him in the right breast, and robbed him of the sum of $450 and a $40 dollar note, and escaped. French was partly insensible for some time, but was brought home by a friend, and is recovering, not being mortally wounded.

SOUTH AMERICA.—Advices concerning the war between Paraguay on the one side and Brazil, the Argentine confederation and Uruguay are received, and state that Lopez has taken command of the Paraguayans in person, and is moving cautiously. The allies claim that the navy of the Paraguayans was nearly annihilated in the battle of Riachado, and that on land the Paraguayans had suffered material reverse. The Brazilians have 17,000 troops in the field. A Montevideo paper says a United States fleet would soon appear on the South American coast to demand non-interference with the free navigation of the Plate river by Brazil and an indemnity for American vessels destroyed by the pirates in Brazilian waters.

☞ Gen. Meigs, in a published letter, makes a comparison of dates and gives facts to show that the Secretary of State is not liable to the charge of having deceived the President, or of having caused the Powhattan to be diverted from the purpose to the President had assigned her without his knowledge. "I myself," he says, "suggested to the President the name of the Powhattan and of her commander, and prepared orders in relation to her movements for his signature, and this I did on the 31st of March or the 1st of April, three or four days before the Sumter expedition was resolved upon. The Fickens expedition was planned and ordered with the knowledge of the President, the Secretary of State, Lieut. Gen. Scott, Col. E. D. Keyes and myself."

WHALERS.—Honolulu dates of Aug. 16 have been received. The whalers James Maury, Joseph Maxwell and Richmond had arrived from the Artic. The James Maury was under bond with 150 sailors, comprising the crews of vessels burned by the Shenandoah. She left the Arctic about the time that the Nile departed, and reports that the Shenandoah had captured thirty vessels, of which twenty-six were burned and four bonded. Their names have heretofore been published. The Maxwell reports that ten whalers escaped.

— By far the most dangerous counterfeits that have come before the public in a long time made their appearance in Troy, N. Y., on Wednesday. They are admirably executed imitations of United States one hundred dollar three years' compound interest notes.

Local.

☞ On Sunday last, between the hours of twelve and one o'clock, fire was communicated to the woods in Greenland and Portsmouth, known as the "Cedar Swamp," and continued to rage with unabated fury through the entire afternoon and evening, burning over a very large tract of timber land—how large we have not heard estimated, but should judge that at least fifty acres of cedar growth were destroyed. The flames, as they dashed madly across the railroad track, (the Eastern R. R. running through the middle of the swamp) caught the dry sleepers on fire; and when the train filled with returning soldiers of the 14th Maine regiment came over that section of the road in the middle of the afternoon, the wind from the cars fanned the fire into such a blaze as to cause it to appear to the looker-on as if the whole train was on fire. It is said by those who saw it that it was one of the most magnificent and yet awful sights that they ever witnessed.

Later in the afternoon, about two o'clock, fire broke out in a pasture thickly grown with pine trees and heavy underbrush, situated near the Plains, and owned by Mr Andrew Gardner. This latter fire also raged until checked by ploughing furrows around it, men standing by to prevent it from rushing over the upturned soil. At one time Mr. G.'s buildings were in imminent danger of destruction. The burning cinders driven by the high wind alighted on the barn and in the immediate vicinity, and had it not been for the timely arrival of "Six's" boys with their Engine, it is possible that the farm buildings would have been destroyed. Mr. Ira Seymour, Foreman of Atlantic No. 6, with commendable alacrity put the suction hose of his engine into a well near by, and transferring what little water it contained to the exposed end and roof of the barn, rendered it so damp as to prevent the ignition by any spark which chanced to drop upon it.

The woods and pasture land, although checked to a considerable extent, continued to burn until extinguished by the timely rain of Sunday night.

☞ A citizen wishes to inquire if nothing is to be done to relieve Pleasant street in the vicinity of the Post Office the coming season from having such an amount of standing water as people were obliged to wade through last winter. Another citizen wishes to know if Congress street cannot be relieved of some of the loafing and vile language which make it so unpleasant for decent people at night. To him we would say that we long since despaired of any improvement in that direction, and had much rather undertake Hercules' little job of cleansing the Augean stables. The only way anything can be done is for the shopkeepers to make their complaints before court of those who obstruct their sidewalks.

☞ By their card in another column it will be seen that the Messrs. Rand, formerly of this city, have taken the Parks House in Boston, at which central location they will be most happy to receive and entertain all their friends from this section.

☞ We acknowledge the courtesy of tickets to the Complimentary dinner to the Amoskeag Veterans, at Hillsboro' on Wednesday, and also to their ball at Hillsboro' Bridge on the same evening.

☞ Father Kemp's Old Folks are to appear early in October, when in addition to their old music, they will favor us with some fine new solos and quartets not yet before the public.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—No action will be taken by the Executive Department on the Mississippi amended Constitution, recently received, and all others which may be sent here from the South, further than to communicate them to Congress.

Of six Parish Judges in the city of New Orleans, three are graduates of the rebel army. The offices of Sheriff and Clerk of Probate, the two most lucrative offices in the State, are held by signers of the Ordinance of Secession. Over twenty original Union men have recently been removed by Gov. Welles, to make room for as many original secessionists. These statements are made by Louisianians, who asking for the removal of Gov. Welles.

It is true that information was received not long ago that President Juarez had fled to El Paso from Chihuahua, but from the tenor of same advices it does not follow that the fortunes of the Liberals are irretrievably destroyed. However that may be it is certain there is no change in the policy heretofore pursued by our Government in relation to Mexican affairs.

In Washington, on Sunday, at a hotel dinner table a wounded Union Captain threatened to box Herschell V. Johnson's ears if he did not stop his treasonable talk. Herschell dried up.

— At the sale of Government transports at the Washington Navy Yard on Friday, seventeen vessels were offered, all but two of which were sold. The sale realized $171,590, being about $50,000 more than the appraisement.

THE NATION:
A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.

This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make a earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.

The criticism of books and works of art will form one of the most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith, Oxford, Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Joseph Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Tuckerman, Bayard Taylor, C. A. Bristed, C. L. Brace, William Lloyd Garrison, James Parton, Gail Hamilton.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE
AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. Bartley," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties, medium such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Agents for the American Watch Company,

Dacus's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into modification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do simply

IMPORTANT QUALITIES.

They will cure a Weakness in the Back, Pain in the side, a Lameness of the Knee, or of the Ankles, or Cold Feet, sooner and with more comfort than any other application.

Knoxville, Albany Co., Jan. 16, 1862.

DR. T. ALLCOCK—Dear Sir: Seventeen years ago I was sorely injured in my back. At length I was induced to use your plasters. I wore one constantly for six months, and did more hard work during that six months than in the preceding fifteen years. I have not worn a plaster for over eighteen months, and have had no return of the gnawing pain and weakness in my back, but have been entirely well.

I am your obedient servant,

JOHN G. CRARY.

Local.

☞ On Sunday, while the fire in the woods at Cedar Swamp was at its height, an extra train of 16 cars, bringing the 14th Maine Regt., on their way home to Augusta, came over the Eastern Railroad. On either side of the track the flames rose forty feet high, the noise drowning the sound of the train. It was a fearful sight to behold. The oil on the wheels took fire, and all along the train were seen revolving wheels of fire, while the 700 officers and men of the gallant 14th were nearly smothered in the dense smoke. Fortunately the long train drawn by the "Cape Ann" went through the terrible ordeal without accident, and as the cars passed beyond the burning district, the smoke rushed from the car windows into the air, giving an appearance of a train on fire.

In the evening Mr. Moran, Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, called on Mr. Bachelder, the Conductor of the train which was to start on its return, on its arrival from Portland, and informed him that it would be safe to pass over the road, as some of the ties were believed to be burned. Mr. Bachelder informed Mr. Superintendent Prescott, who happened to be in town, and Mr. Prescott at ten o'clock on Sunday night, with Conductor Bachelder and a few railroad men proceeded with an engine and car to examine the road bed. The flames had nearly subsided, and on proceeding slowly through the burnt district, everything was found right, and the engine returned to Portsmouth, when the long-deferred rain began and the Extra returned to Boston.

☞ Workmen are building a culvert across the great cesspool at the Creek, preparatory to filling up that great reservoir of stench. After harping upon the need for such an action two or three years, now that it is about to be a fact accomplished, we wish to call attention to another pestilential hole nearer the heart of the city. We refer to the receptacle of filth between the road bed of the Concord Railroad and what was formerly the south shore of the pond, near the Steam Factory, a nauseous compound, the exhalations of whose reeking ooze might well generate cholera or fever.

GOOD.—The wretched old stone pavement on Middle street, between Congress and Warren, has been torn up, and will be replaced by a good brick pavement. This improvement is due to the private enterprise of a number of our citizens, as the property abutting thereon is under a lien to the Government. We hope we shall live to Chronicle the removal of the last of these miserable old sidewalks, which can be compared to nothing but a corduroy road.

☞ Our comic editor has revived a little, under the influence of the rain, and propounds the following to the Bourbons we have among us:—

Why is a drink of whiskey like Lake Winnepisaukee?

Because 'tis "a smile of the great spirit."

He deserves a punch for that.

HAYTIEN REBELLION.—It appears from the latest Port au Prince advices that President Geffrard of Hayti left that place on August 25 for the seat of war, taking with him sixteen hundred men. The insurgents had been repulsed in all their advances, and the recapture from them of the town of Cape Haytien was daily expected. It was rumored that Fort St. Michel had already been captured by the national troops, with sixty prisoners. Several of the Haytien newspapers denounce the excesses committed by the revolutionary leaders in breaking open stores and robbing merchants to pay their soldiers.

— The South Carolina Reconstruction Convention met Wednesday last, choosing Judge Wardlow temporary President, and adjourned until next day to await a message from Gov. Perry. Nearly all the members are original secessionists, and the rebel army is largely represented.

— Brownsville correspondence says Gen. Sheridan's display of force along the Rio Grande is making Maximilian's officers very nervous, and by balls and entertainments they endeavor to conciliate the dreaded Northmen.

— New Orleans correspondence says Gen. Canby has issued orders directing the registry of voters, ruling out those who left the State after the draft was ordered, also aliens. The people of Shreveport have petitioned for the removal of the colored troops.

— Sufficient iron and rolling stock have been contracted for to equip the entire line of railroad from Macon to Savannah, thus completing the railroad communication with the North.

— A daily mail now leaves Washington for Charleston, and a train has been run from Philadelphia to Lynchburg, without change of cars, a feat never before accomplished.

— A single locomotive on the New Jersey Road recently drew 127 cars, containing 635 tons of coal.

GOLD, Monday, 143 1-2.

A CARD.—The subscriber takes this method to tender his heartfelt thanks to the Officers and members of Atlantic Engine Company No. 6 for their valuable assistance at the late fire on his premises, on Sunday last. By their opportune arrival and assiduous endeavors, the barn, house and the surrounding buildings were saved from destruction, and he wishes to assure them that this act of kindness of their's will not be forgotten, and hopes that some day his appreciation of their services may be manifested in some more tangible form.

He is also under many obligations to those citizens of Portsmouth, as also his neighbors, who so kindly volunteered their aid on that occasion. Verily, friends in need are friends indeed. ANDREW GARDNER.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

THE EIGHTH WONDER of the fashionable world, is Sozodont. Ladies as they see their unsullied teeth and rosy gums reflected in their toilet mirrors, and gentlemen as their white incisors flash through their dark moustaches, wonder how the benighted folk of twenty years ago got along without the teeth-beautifying, breath-perfuming Sozodont. 7

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Traversing thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons and escape, and almost unknown journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a more clear, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, aims, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

Brother Miller:—You suppressed my advertisement as it contraband. The citizens of Portsmouth must be in the freedom which spiritual communion confers upon Heaven's especial favorites. The true idea of Heaven is not a fable. Men need God's wisdom to enlighten, Christ's teachings to confirm, Nature's revealings to immortalize the whole. Man needs a conviction that this life is a mystery and that all he seeks to encourage him is a true faith in Christ's farewell doctrines, "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you."

Coal at Cost.

The Eagle Hill Mutual Coal Company.

The subscriber has succeeded in obtaining a limited number of shares in this popular Company, which has proved such a success to Boston and vicinity, for the purpose of enabling the citizens of Portsmouth to obtain their coal at a saving of three or four dollars per ton. Full information will be given and a small amount of stock furnished on application to

JOHN S. HARVEY,

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 of Boston's, and are delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the crookings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and secure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabiaia, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

IS WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in	15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEW.—The Boston Journal's special dispatch from Washington says:

A few days since a distinguished New England Senator, noted for his plainess of speech, said to President Johnson, it was published and extensively believed that he (the President) intended in his future policy to ignore the radical element, and asked if such was the case. Mr. Johnson in reply declared that he never at any time had even intimated that he intended to cut radicals; that he allowed the largest latitude of opinion in regard to the right of colored people to vote; that all he had done or was doing toward the re-organization of the South was an experiment that might be successful and might not; and, if unsuccessful, that of one thing the radicals and others may be satisfied, namely—that the freedmen of the South should be fully protected in their freedom and their rights.

— An excellent authority on the harvests states that the English crops, with the exception of wheat, will exceed the general estimate. The wheat crop on the continent is very good.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1865.

GEORGIA.—Gen. Steedman has issued an order at Augusta, Ga., that all firearms, together with all ammunition and munitions of war whatever, now in the hands of private persons in Georgia, must be turned over to the Provost Marshals. All persons not complying with the order will be arrested. The Marshals are allowed to grant permits to use firearms for sporting purposes to such persons as they may deem proper to have them.

Gen. King has also issued an order at Augusta forbidding the making of gold contracts, and directing that hereafter, whenever contracts or agreements in writing are entered into between parties, the consideration therein named to be paid shall be in lawful money of the United States—that is, in the paper currency issued and declared a legal tender by the Government.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. Geo. Pierce, pastor of the First Baptist Society, Manchester, has tendered his resignation.

—— In Manchester, on Saturday, a wallet containing several thousand dollars and valuable papers was found underneath a plank walk on Mechanic street. It had probably been stolen and hid there, and the thief it is likely had been unable to find the hiding-place.

—— The Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of New Hampshire has now twenty-one working organizations. During the past year the venerable Bishop Chase, of Claremont, has confirmed one hundred and ten persons, consecrated one Church, and ordained three deacons and three priests.

☞ The New York Herald says there is no reason for any sudden rise in the price of fuel. "It is true," it says, "that has been a small falling off in the supply this season, as compared with last; but it must be borne in mind that the Government demand has also diminished, and just keep cool at present, and before the return of frost there will be plenty of coal to warm us, at reasonable prices."

☞ The price of white paper has gone up a little, partly because the dry weather has stopped the mills, but chiefly because a great demand exists for School Books at the South, where they are very scarce, and where a million or two of new scholars are wanting books immediately.

— A cargo of corn arrived at Providence on Friday night from Virginia, the first for years.

— The sale of shoes in Haverhill for the month of August amounted to about $700,000.

— Light gymnastic exercises are to be introduced in the public schools of Philadelphia.

— Last week a German girl, while in anger, pushed a boy overboard from an emigrant ship in Baltimore harbor. In falling, he caught her dress and she was drowned. The boy was picked up.

— Brig. Gen. Dickson was nearly killed at Galena, Ill., the other day, by the brother of a rebel spy who was sentenced to death by a court martial over which the General presided.

— The warehouses fronting on East and Cherry streets, New York, which were destroyed by fire Sunday evening, with all their contents, involves a loss of $300,000. The conflagration is one of the most destructive for months.

— In New York on Saturday night, Richard Hill of Boston knocked down, jumped upon and bit a piece out of the lip of a Frenchman named Felix Marse, at a drinking house on Church street, and was placed under $2500 bail to answer.

— A boy named Thomas Hollen of Boston secreted himself under a baggage crate on the steamboat train for New York on the 14th, and on reaching on New London, when the crate was transferred from the train to the steamer, he was dragged off with it and badly injured. He was taken to the almshouse at New London.

— About ten weeks ago one Charles Eaton disappeared from his home in Worcester, Mass., and remained absent until last Friday, when he reappeared, reduced almost to a skeleton, and laboring under an aberration of mind. He states that during the whole time of his absence he has lived on Wigwam Hill, and subsisted on turnips, green corn, apples, &c., which he has obtained from the fields.

— The London Money Market Review, speaking of the Confederate bonds, acknowledges their utter uselessness, and suggests that the agents of the late rebel government, both in England and America, could not possibly have been left bare of resources and property; and that the question whether such property could be attached and reclaimed for the bondholders is one of their active consideration.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TONY.

Theodore Atkinson—The Dark Day, 1780.

The Honorable Theodore Atkinson departed this life on the 22d September, 1779, aged eighty-two years. He was the son of the Honorable Theodore Atkinson, was born at New Castle, December 20th, 1697, and was educated at Harvard College, where he was graduated in 1718. Soon after he left college, he received a commission as Lieutenant at the fort, and in 1720 was appointed Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, which office he held several years, and during that time, made himself acquainted with the forms of legal proceedings, and was afterwards admitted to practice, as an Attorney at law. Before he was thirty years of age, he was sent to Canada, as one of the commissioners to procure the release of the prisoners, and to remonstrate with the Governor of that province, against his exciting the Indians to war. For many years he had the command of the first regiment of militia in the province, and was several times called into actual service, during the war with the French and Indians. He held the offices of Collector of the Customs, Naval Officer and Sheriff of the province. In 1734, he was admitted to a seat in the Council, and in 1741, was appointed Secretary of the province; which office he resigned after several years, in favor of his son, who succeeded him. He was one of the delegates to the Congress which met at Albany in June, 1754. Immediately on his return, he was appointed Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Judicature, and after the death of his son in 1769, was re-appointed Secretary of the province; and continued to exercise these offices until the revolution. Colonel Atkinson was a person of intelligence and lively imagination; he was remarkably fond of wit and repartee, and on this account encouraged a familiarity with persons of the same habits and disposition, notwithstanding a difference in rank or station in life, or a dissimilarity in other respects. This induced him to take a person named Joseph Moses with him as a waiter, when he was sent as Commissary to the army; he knew very well that Moses would not be obsequious as a servant, but would afford him amusement by his wit. Captain John Chamberlain, the representative from Merrimack, was of his character; Colonel Atkinson once asked him what had been done with a certain act which had been sent down from the Council; Chamberlain told him, that there were objections to it in the House, and that it would not pass. Atkinson said "I wish you were all in Heaven." Chamberlain replied, I should have no objection, only that it would be an eternal separation from the honorable his Majesty's Council. In his last will he gave a legacy of two hundred pounds sterling to the Episcopal church in this town, the interest of which he ordered to be expended in bread, which was to be distributed on Sunday to the poor of the parish.

The 19th day of May, 1780, was remarkable for its uncommon darkness. The morning was cloudy with a little rain. Between ten and eleven o'clock the darkness increased, and began to assume the appearance of evening. Fowls went to roost, and cattle collected round the barn-yards, as at the approach of night. Before noon it became so dark, as to be difficult to read without a candle; and lights were necessary at dinner, and to transact the ordinary work of a family through the afternoon. The evening was enveloped in total darkness; the sky could not be distinguished from the ground. The clouds began to separate, and the vapors to disperse a little before midnight, and some glimmerings of light appeared. The next morning was cloudy, but not unusually dark. Mr. Adams gives the following rational account of it.

For several weeks previous there had been extensive fires in the woods, and the westerly wind had driven the smoke and cinders, with which the air was charged, all over the country. On the morning of the 19th, the wind came in various directions, but principally from the eastward, and brought with it a thick fog; these counter currents meeting, stopped the progress of the clouds, and formed different strata of them; and as light is always reflected from the surface, they became more impervious to it, than a more dense cloud, which presents only one surface. The atmosphere was likewise filled with clouds of smoke and cinders, as well as with vapor, which gave them a dirty yellowish hue. Pieces of burnt leaves were continually falling, and "the rain water was covered with a sooty scum." The darkness extended throughout New England, and was observed several leagues at sea.

— The Alabama State Convention decided, fifty-eight to thirty-four, against repudiation of the rebel State debt.

— Cholera prevails at Constantinople, and cases of it exist at Barcelona and Malta. A general fear of it pervades all the coasts of the Mediterranean.

— At Webster, Mass., on the 9th inst., Francis McCue, being drunk, quarreled with his wife, and seizing a lighted kerosene lamp, broke it over her head, setting her on fire, and causing her death.

— On Friday night, in Litchfield, Ct., a young man named Thomas Redding, a returned soldier, was shot by the husband of a lady on whom he was attempting to commit a gross assault.

— The New York book trade sale, last week, is represented as the most successful of the thirty or forty years trade sale series, the amount of sales being a quarter of a million. School books for the South were in great demand.

HOOP SKIRT ACCIDENTS.—Mrs. Spaulding Hervey, of Milford, Mass., sustained a serious injury Sunday morning, the scalp being completely torn from her head, by falling down the cellar stairs in her dwelling, and striking the edge of a box in her descent. Being a person of heavy weight, her fall was violent, and it is feared she may not recover. The accident was caused by her hoop skirt catching on the stairs.

Ann Farrell of Columbus, Ind., was riding in a buggy with a gentleman on Saturday last, when the horse ran away. The young lady tried to jump out, but her hoops caught on the buggy, and she was dragged about half a mile. The horse then ran into a mill-race, and Miss Farrell was drowned.

NECK ACCIDENTS.—Thomas Frost of Perry, Me., came to his death in a singular manner last week. He was in the act of getting over a fence, when he lost his balance and fell backwards to the ground, injuring his neck so badly that he died next morning.

While Israel Giles was gathering pears for Lyman Holman, of South Danvers, Mass., the other day, he accidentally fell from the tree and dislocated his neck, but, strange to say, it was afterwards made to resume its natural condition, so that he suffered no other trouble from it than a severe lameness. We think we have heard that a dislocation of the neck necessarily ruptures the spinal cord and produces death, but this case would seem to disprove the universality of this rule.

ODD FELLOWS.—At Baltimore, on Monday, the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows took place. Grand Sire Veitch presided. Representatives from all the States and several of the British Provinces were in attendance. This is the first time for five years when the brethren from all parts of the country mingled together. Mutual congratulations were interchanged and much kindly feeling evinced. Communications are re-opening with the lodges in various Southern States, in a liberal spirit.

The Grand Secretary, James L. Ridgely, showed that the condition of the order in various jurisdictions was very prosperous during the fiscal year, ending Sept. 1st. He received from State Grand Lodges and encampments $16,031, while there was remaining unpaid $2,485, making an aggregate of $19,496, a larger sum than had been received since the organization of the Supreme Lodge. Contributions to the Wildey monument fund have increased to nearly $12,000.

☞ Major Sargent of the Freedmen's Bureau reports from Arkansas the case of a bedogged slaveholder who refuses to recognize the Emancipation Proclamation. A freedman having ineffectually tried to reclaim his personal property from the premises of his former master, was furnished by the Provost Marshal with a circular indorsed with an authorization to take his property. The master returned the circular, indorsing upon it that he considered the bearer his property, and that "When I am perfectly satisfied that the slaves have been emancipated by such authority as is recognized as constitutional by our high courts of law and equity, then, and not till then, will I make contracts with slaves, or regard them in any other light than as the property of those who have purchased or raised them." Whereupon this contumacious planter was arrested and fined $50.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S POLICY.—The semi-official announcement made by the Washington Agent of the Associated Press, describing the course determined on by President Johnson with respect to the Constitutions of the seceded States, accords with the opinion prevalent in many quarters that the President relies upon Congress to reconstruct the South. He will leave the responsibility of obtaining effectual guarantees against future attempts at revolution, and the question of efficient protection for the freedmen, with Congress. This view of his policy agrees with those apparently authentic accounts that represent the Executive as averse to breaking with the Radicals, desirous that impartial suffrage should be established throughout the South, and fully intent on maintaining and defending the rights of the freedmen.—Transcript.

☞ At Westerly, R. I., a large meeting of working men and women was held Saturday evening, at which the resolutions in favor of eleven hours for a day's work, of protecting children from overwork, and in favor of a State and New England Convention, were adopted.

— The South Carolina Convention has repealed the ordinance of secession. There were three votes in the negative. {Do those boobies suppose that repealing that ordinance brings them back into the Union? or that secession took them out? So it would seem. But their case is like that of the single pirate or other outlaw. His head is liable to all the penalties of the law he has broken, but he has lost now the power and privileges he held under it. The Convention should have declared the act of secession null and void. But nobody expected them to do so. Though thou bray a fool in a mortar with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.

THE NATION:

A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.

This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.

The criticism of books and works of Art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Joel H. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Tuckerman, Bayard Taylor, C. A. Bristed, C. L. Brace, William Lloyd Garrison, James Parton, Gail Hamilton.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The First has the name

"AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name

"APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name

"P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. BARTLEY," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease? Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

THE BEST STRENGTHENING Plaster is the Porous Plaster of Dr. Allcock.

They are warranted to keep good twenty years, but may be returned for fresh plasters without charge.

IMPORTANT QUALITIES.

They will cure a Weakness in the Back, Pain in the Side, a Lameness of the Knee, or of the Ankles, or Cold Feet, sooner and with more comfort than any other application.

Knoxville, Albany Co., Jan. 16, 1862.

Dr. T. ALLCOCK—Dear Sir: Seventeen years ago I was sorely injured in my back. At length I was induced to use your plasters. I wore one constantly for six months, and did more hard work during that six months than in the preceding fifteen years. I have not worn a plaster for over eighteen months, and have had no return of the gnawing pain and weakness in my back, but have been entirely well.

I am your obedient servant,
JOHN G. CRARY.

Local.

☞ There is a bit of scenery on the west side of the Eastern Road, near Rowley, that will well repay scrutiny. The contrast of mountain and meadow, the sudden transition from prairie to precipice, may be taken in at a glance from the car window as we whirl swiftly past. The little motts or groves of timber, springing up like islands from the level of the marsh; the great stacks of salt hay, standing in the open plain or nestling for shelter at the edge of the groves; the vistas opened between the different islands of timber, the rocky headlands running toward the east, the bright colors of the woodbine climbing upon the face of the dark granite, and the range of hills in the background, make up a picture altogether charming.

☞ We learn that Father John Bede of Barry has been appointed by the Bishop of the Diocese of Portland as the future shepherd of the Catholic flock in this city. He comes hure with high recommendations, and it is hoped that the church will receive a new impetus under his administration.

☞ We understand that the Rockingham Mills are soon to resume operations.

☞ We are indebted to Hon. Gilman Marston for a copy of Judge Advocate Bingham's argument in reply to the several counsel for the conspirators for the assassination of President Lincoln.

☞ Our streets, by the copious rain of Sunday night and Monday, are now free of dust, for the first time in several weeks.

[Communication.]

☞ One of the very best books called forth by the war is that by the Tribune correspondent, Mr. Richardson, entitled "The Field, the Dungeon and the Escape," an advertisement of which I see in your paper. With nearly all the scenes described by Mr. R. in the first division of his book I am personally conversant, having been in that portion of the South at the time of which he writes, and to me the faithfulness of his portrayal is very striking. Political bias has given his record no trait of unfairness, and his graphic pen presents a picture of the state of affairs more clear in detail than any other I have yet seen. The insight given into the motives and hopes of the leaders of the rebellion by this portion of the book, is alone worth more than the price of the volume, while the whole work is in a style that cannot fail to interest and please the reader who really desires to know how much fortitude and heroism were displayed by the men who sacrificed comfort and life to evoke a glorious finale to the fearful struggle in which our country was so lately engaged.

ION.

PUB. DOCS.—It appears that during the rebellion the quotas of public documents for all the States were printed by Congress as usual and laid aside. They will now be distributed.

GOLD, Tuesday, 144.

— Additional reports from Arkansas and Mississippi concerning freedmen, represent these people as thriving handsomely under the management of the Freedmen's Bureau.

— R. B. Rhett, Jr., is soon to resume the publication of the Charleston Mercury. The Independent African will be started about the same time by T. Hurley, a white man, and John Brown, a black man. It will probably not agree with the Mercury very closely.

FREE TRANSLATION.—"Autum poinbile"—gold biles the pot.

OIL.—Is palm oil of the same nature as elbow-grease?

— A Hotel has been built at Bull Run, Wahu Gen. McDowell was there, he found it a miserable place to stop at.

— The income of the English Marquis of Westminster is said to be $10,000 a day; nevertheless, he is disgustingly mean and penurious.

— A charge of 328 kegs of powder was exploded in a San Juan mine, recently. It opened the way to about $20,000, which the miners got in a couple of weeks.

— A monster pig-trough has been manufactured at Dorchester, for a swincry in England. The trough is five hundred feet long, and is shaped like a horse-shoe. Two thousand pigs will be able to dine at once.

— A whale was shot at Surrey, Maine last week. He swam ashore between two small reefs, and there was not room enough for him to turn round, and he could not back out. A farmer, hearing the noise, went to the shore with his gun and shot the big fish.

A New Bedford physician has found a living fly in a box of pills which had been shut and pasted up several years.—EX.

A man must have taken something "with a fly in it" to tell such a story with the expectation that it would be believed.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of the Tribune, at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night, of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson.

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $2 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the combine of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your APERIENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, telling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.

Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

☞ The Americans in Buenos Ayres had a grand celebration on the 4th of July, concluding with a magnificent banquet, at which the Vice President of the Republic and the Governor of the Province, with their Ministers, were present, and speeches made. H. R. Helper, the American Consul, drew a curious parallel between Jackson and Johnson, which is thus reported:

Not the least among the seventy-odd names of distinguished army and navy commanders from the South who have heroically proved their devotion to the Union in the late terrible conflict—names which, in a great measure, constitute the modern roll of Southern honor—is that of Andrew Johnson, formerly of South Carolina, now President of the United States, who is perhaps, in many particulars, more like Andrew Jackson than any other man in America. They were both born in North Carolina, of which State President Polk was also a native. Both—all three in fact—emigrated to Tennessee, and, while residing there, were elected to the Presidency. The full name of each is composed of thirteen letters, the number being suggestive of the original thirteen States; which States, more than three quarters of a century since, achieved their independence of Great Britain. Each has, (and very properly, as, showing that their parents were people of sense,) but one prenomen, and that is Andrew. The cognomen of each is a word of two syllables, and the terminating syllable of each is son. The prefix of the one name is Jack, while that of the other is John. Now Jack and John, as is well known, signify one and the same thing. It follows then, that in Andrew Johnson, we have a man who is neither more nor less than Andrew Jackson—the same tough old hickory," the able and incorruptible statesman, for whom, it is said, the patriotic Dutchmen of Pennsylvania have been steadily voting, at every presidential election during the last forty years! (Uproarous laughter and applause, and bravos for the Dutchmen of Pennsylvania.)

But the parallel does not end here. Both received appointment as generals of militia. Before becoming President, each served his adopted State, first as a representative in Congress, and afterward as a Senator of the United States. Both were called to the presidency in times of great national peril; both were Southern men, and it became the duty of each to deal stringently, with the disaffection and treason of their neighbors. One annulled nullification; and the other suppressed a gigantic rebellion.

— The Oswego Times says that "with a view of improving their stock, farmers are importing fine mules!"

— A wagon arrived in Carson City, recently, with the immense load of 21,000 pounds, and drawn by twelve animals.

— England never yet mustered one army of one hundred thousand men. She has more than that number, but they are scattered all over the earth.

— Dr. Barry, a surgeon in the British army, and for several years inspector of hospitals in Montreal, recently died on the island of Corfu, when it was discovered he was a woman, and had been a mother.

—There are in Berlin twelve thousand cellars inhabited, in six thousand three hundred of which different trades are carried on. The thirteenth part of the population, or forty-six thousand persons, inhabit those dens.

—Montana Territory, which began to be settled three years ago, now has a population of 50,000. Its Capital is Virginia City, on the Jefferson Fork of the Upper Missouri. Sidney Edgerton, of Ohio, is Governor.

— From a return of the condition of the Russian peasants, just published at St. Petersburg, it appears that 4,668,585 peasants are still under engagements to work for the land-owners, and that 5,112,432 are either entirely free from any obligation to their ancient masters, or shortly will be so. Of these 2,839,307 are now freeholders.

— During the past twelve years no man has left the office of State Treasurer of Ohio with an untarnished reputation. That officer handles ten millions a year, and is paid the pitiful salary of $1500 a year. And in order to earn this he has to find securities to the amount of $600,000.

— The Indian names which designate so many of our naval vessels are the subject of many transformations by Jack. He calls the Wissahickon the "Widow Higgins;" the Miami the "Missus;" and now the Miantonomah has been christened by the same authority "My-aunt-knows-no-man," and the Shockocken the "Shocking corn."

— A false telegram was sent from England to Bombay, Aug. 7, stating that the U. S. Secretary of the Treasury had announced the amount of cotton in the Southern States to be 2,000,000 of bales, exclusive of the new crop. The falsehood had the effect to stop all business in cotton and almost to create a panic.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1865

SOUTH CAROLINA. — The Charleston Courier of the 15th, contains Governor Perry's message to the State Convention. He acknowledges the death of slavery, and counsels wise, just and humane treatment of the freedmen, by which they may become as strongly attached to the whites as while they were slaves. Legislation will be required to regulate the relative duties of employer and employee. The Governor suggests changes in the State Constitution, making it more popular and republican in form. It is the reproach of South Carolina that it is less so than any other State in the Union.

He is opposed to the suffrage of the freedmen in their present ignorant and degraded condition as little less than folly and madness. He contends that this is the white man's government and the white man's only, that the Supreme Court has decided that negroes are not citizens, and that each State has the unquestioned right to decide for herself who shall vote. He suggests that the election of Governor, members of Congress and the Legislature and Presidential electors be made directly by the people, and that the Legislature should be elected and convened in season to order an election of Congressmen before the first Monday of December. "The future," he says, "will be bright and glorious. As long as civilization continues, this great Republic will flourish and increase in numbers, wealth and grandeur. In less than ten years we shall realize in the loss of slavery a blessing in disguise to ourselves and our children." He notifies the Convention of the re-establishment of the civil law and courts, and withdrawal of negro troops from the interior to garrisons on the coast. The presence of white troops will be necessary for some time to enforce the relative duties of freedmen and employers.

Gov. Perry does as well as could be expected;—but he has not yet learned the alphabet of freedom:—he has only some dim idea of the rights of a State;—none at all of the rights of a man!—And he is wedded, as the reader will see, to all the old Calhoun heresies. But "in less than ten years" strange to say, the loss of slavery is to be revealed as a blessing! So says Gov. Perry in Charleston. But a copperhead paper in New England, has lately denounced the change as a great evil.

METHODIST OPINION.—The Methodist comments as follows upon the Pastoral Address of the Southern Methodist bishops:

It is clear that these Southern leaders have learned no wisdom from the past: that they cherish with fondness the souvenirs of the rebellion; that they are determined to foster in the minds of their flocks the opinion and the spirit which led to the rebellion. Loyal men will indignantly ask, "For what end is this done? Is it their design to make the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church the nursery of future treasons and future outbreaks against the authority of the Union?"

In this document the bishops have written the death warrant of Southern Methodism. No church which thus cherishes a hatred of loyal men because of their devotion to freedom and the Union, can stand before the American people. The ever-intensifying indignation against the pro-slavery and rebellious spirit will shorten its days. The Southern bishops have offered to them an oblivion of the past, and the opportunity of entering upon a new life. They have preferred to flaunt their past, odious as it is to all true men, in our faces, and glory in it as a mark of distinction. Henceforth they are known and read of us all.

It is highly probable, in view of the above article, that the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States will have its missions, schools and classes, all over the land, and let the "Church South" take care of itself as it may.

CHURCH GOSSIP IN NEW YORK. Burleigh, the gossip writer for the Boston Journal, tells about New York Churchmen in this fashion:

Young Stephen H. Tyng has an exchange of pulpits with Dr. Storrs, Congregationalist, on Sunday next. This exchange is one of the test cases of the famed "forty associates" to put the pastoral of Bishop Potter to the test. Young Tyng's church is called the "Church of the Holy Trinity." It is a new edifice. And as his leading men are some of them converted Congregationalists, and are churchmen only in the use of the service, and still have a hankering after the "old corn of the land," the stand their rector has taken is quite easy to be understood, and indicates how he has their support in this new defiant movement. A large number of stanch anti-churchmen, while in New England, are here members of the Episcopal Communion. Not a few are Roman Catholics, and among the converts to Rome is numbered one of the sons of Dea. Willis, so long the editor of the Boston Recorder.

A story is told here of Bishop Southgate that is too good to be lost. He, as all know who know him, magnifies his office and makes much of his talents. Some chums of his who knew him in his earlier days made a visit to his church, to look on the dignity that they used to chase over the hills and help at school over tall places in his lessons. The visitors were plain country persons from away down East, and never knew much of fashionable churches or the symbols that are placed on altar cloths and chancels. On entering the church they saw the well known initials "I. H. S." in a conspicuous place, in large elegant gold letters. One said to the other, "There, just look at that. Just like him. Got his name up. I, Horatio Southgate."

A PLEASANT SUMMER LETTER.
Correspondence Boston Sat. Eve. Gaz.

Rural Delight, Sept. 14.

I am at Newington, N. H., from which I have before written in former years, but then it was a chicken in the egg compared with the Newington of to-day. It has become a fashionable watering place for many visitors from your metropolis, and promises are many years to be a second Newport or Saratoga. There were eleven here the last year, and as many the present if they were counted. The town is so widely extended that quite a number goes a very little ways, like a pocketful of small currency. There was a new arrival yesterday of a young lady with an enormous waterfall and a very large trunk, who disappeared in a cloud, before she could be counted, as the wagon in which she was borne plunged through the dust. The large quantity of dust prevents us from seeing a great deal that is going on. Indeed I have never known a town of this size to have such a disproportion of dust to its other productions.

Newington, however, has this advantage: It stretches along the bank of the Piscataqua river, a noble stream that bears upon its broad bosom the productions of the whole world—or might do so if such were required, and hereon there is no dust, as I have this very day experienced while engaged in luring from the depths of its waters some of the finny tribe, called by the natives "coners." There was no dust there, but rather the reverse, for the boat leaked and my feet were saturated with the briny fluid. The Piscataqua is remarkable for its fish; indeed it takes its name from the fact—some refined and cultivated savage of the ante-N. E. rum period having named it in good strong latin, Piscat, a place to catch fish, and Aqua, lots of 'em, as I have to-day and often before realized.

Newington is remarkable for many fine drives and many localities presenting rare beauties. The great Bay that wakes out of the Piscataqua forms the northern and western bound of the town. That it should be thus bounded by a great river and a great bay seems to show that the early settlers had a foreshadowing of its importance, and could not give it less magnificent limits, which indeed proved their wisdom, for it has been found of late years a very hard matter to keep the town within bounds, as some of its records show, and with any less it would have gone right over.

The old place has its local histories, one day to waken the fervor of legendists. It is in this town that Bloody-Fight-Point is situated, where the belligerent estates of Portsmouth and Dover met to decide by feats of arms the right to certain possessions. But the fight didn't come off by reason of a compromise between the parties and the point took the name as above in commemoration of what might have happened. Such is the story told me by the oldest inhabitant, who was there and saw the whole of it.

It boasts one of the oldest church structures in the State—a massive pile, that will accommodate two hundred people. It is still "run" by the old school of Christians that established it, as far as the matter is understood, and the resident minister is pronounced a very fine man. He was selected for the place because he had been, I learn, formerly a missionary, and was endowed with remarkable powers of endurance. The town slumbered on a volcano, if I may use so bold and original an expression, a short time since, as heresies had infused their contaminations into the church in the form of abolitionism. The town had never failed in its devotion to the Democratic party, and the innovation of the woolly abomination was not to be tolerated. A committee was therefore appointed by the selectmen to attend church and ascertain the fact to a certainty before proceeding, and the result has proved the wisdom of the step, for the former "incumbrance"—as my informant will persist in calling him—the offender, has been removed, and the present incumbent gives every satisfaction. This looks at first a little the union of Church and State, but it had two good effects: it got rid of an evil and got the committee to church. SOJOURNER.

— Beauregard has taken the oath of allegiance and applied for pardon. This is the gentleman mentioned in Jeff. Davis's couplet, after the surrender of Sumter:

"With cannon, mortar and petard,
We send to Abe our Beauregard."

— An attempt to get up an indignation meeting in Newport, to protest against the recent action of the school committee, allowing colored children in the public schools of that city, proved a failure.

—A riot took place at Niagara Falls last week, during which four houses of ill-fame were destroyed. Two of them were burnt to the ground. The rioters were led by the son of a police officer who had been murdered by a gang of thieves and cutthroats who harbored in the dens of infamy.

— Judah P. Benjamin has been for many years separated from his wife, who has resided for a long time in Paris. Judah is not a lady's man. He is said to be on his way to Australia, with a view of practising there at the bar. The Chicago Republican says his voluntary exile to a part of the world famous as a penal settlement, reveals the innate yearnings of his dark soul for an atmosphere where he is sure to meet with congenial criminals.

— William S. Tower, of Hingham, has recently completed a bucket for exhibition at the Fair of the Hingham Agricultural and Horticultural Society. As a specimen of handicraft it is a wonderful production. There are

In the staves,	10,161 pieces.
In the bottom,	8,130 pieces.
In the cover,	24,197 pieces.
In the handle,	1,008 pieces.
In the stand,	4,072 pieces.
In all,	47,568 pieces.

Rather dangerous business to kick that bucket, if you wished to save the pieces.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A man calling himself Jones, and pretending to be a son of Hiram Jones of Candia, took a pair of cattle to Manchester on Saturday, and sold them to a butcher, who suspecting they were stolen, put off paying for them till Monday,—but took care of the cattle, and sent to Candia, but no Hiram Jones lived at the place specified,—and the man disappeared. The cattle were large, of red color,—and were probably stolen from some pasture, in Nottingham, or vicinity.

—— On Monday afternoon, a steam boiler in J. B. Moulton's tannery at North Weare, exploded, and stove the building, went across the road, and seven or eight rods from the tannery broke the post of a barn. Two boys, in the tannery at the time, were thrown some distance, and one of them so scalded and burnt that he soon died. He was about 10 years old.

—— Two young men from Suncook, fast and drunken, went into Manchester in a carriage, Monday evening, and drove round. Past midnight the watchmen found their horse and wagon standing in the street, and one of the young men asleep on the wagon seat, almost chilled through, as was the horse. The watch put the horse into a stable, and the man into the Police station.

—— On Tuesday at Dover, Charles E. Finkham, of Farmington, who has been on trial for the murder of his father Thomas Finkham, was found guilty of manslaughter, and sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment. The murder was committed the fourth of July, and the murderer and his father had both partaken of strong drink, without which the deed would not have been committed.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—"Extra Billy" Smith has arrived from Richmond. He is very humble, and notwithstanding his declaration that he would suffer eternal condemnation before applying to a tailor for a pardon, is as eager to get hold of the precious document as any of his rebellious comrades. Billy's appearance is decidedly seedy.

An unofficial letter from an officer connected with Freedmen's affairs in Mississippi, received by Maj. Gen. Howard, on Monday, says that most of the militia now being organized in that State refuse to be mustered under any other but the State flag, and openly proclaim their determination never to serve in any capacity under the stars and stripes. The same letter states that regularly organized gangs, composed principally of returned rebel soldiers, have been formed at Vicksburg and other places in the State, for the purpose of embarrassing the actions of Government officials in Mississippi.

☞ A Nashville dispatch of Tuesday says an investigation by a board of officers is going on relative to the sending of a detachment by Gen. Thomas to Alabama in search of stray government cattle. While near Gaylesville the squad, in command of Lieut. Thompson, were attacked by a sheriff with a posse of men who claimed to be acting under orders from Gov. Parsons of Alabama. One of the soldiers was killed. The Sheriff and the man who killed the soldier escaped, nineteen of the Sheriff's men, however, were captured. A thorough investigation will be made by Gen. Thomas and Governor Parsons.

The trial of Champ Ferguson has closed. The decision of Court has been forwarded to Gen. Stoneman. Meantime Ferguson remains in close confinement at the penitentiary. Yesterday he attempted to make a statement of his case, which was suppressed by his counsel.

LICENSES AND REVENUE LAW.—Much misunderstanding exists in regard to the 79th section of the United States Revenue Law relating to licenses to liquor dealers. The following are its provisions:

Retail dealers in liquors shall pay twenty-five dollars for each license. * * * But nothing herein contained shall authorize the sale of any spirits, wines or malt liquors, to be drank on the premises.

BREADSTUFFS.—Information at the Agricultural Bureau in Washington goes to show that the recent rise in the price of wheat and flour results from speculative combinations rather than from scarcity in the crop. The wheat yield, though less than last year, is vastly more than can be consumed by the American people.

☞ The trial of the steamboat burners before a military Commission began on Tuesday, at St. Louis, and the case of Wm. Murphy was taken up. Col. Mills, Attorney for the prisoner, has given notice that he shall summon as witnesses Jefferson Davis, Secretaries Mallory and Seddon, of the rebel government, and Admirals Farragut and Porter.

☞ At Portland, on Tuesday, an auction sale of locomotives, came off by order of Government: six locomotive engines, built for government at a cost of $27,800 each. They are 5 feet gauge, 16 inch cylinder, and 24 inch stroke; and are splendid machines. They were bought by private parties at the following prices: $11,600: 11,250; and four at $10,500 each.

THE NATION:

A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.

This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make as earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really judicial spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.

The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. BARTLETT," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Agents for the American Watch Company.

A Card to Invalids.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the Cure of Nervous Weakness, Early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been already cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, Free of Charge.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain equivalive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time of cure designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

Local.

☞ A good story was related to us the other day by an old resident of this city. Some twenty years ago more or less, at one of our old-fashioned-Jefferson Hall town elections, through the wirepulling of some fun-loving gentlemen, Capt. T., a man of good position in society, was elected as hog-reeve, a responsibility as important as that of an alderman at the present day, altho' the honor was not quite so apparent. A few days after being qualified, the Captain was standing in the doorway of the Athenæum building, when he was accosted by Mr. H—. A huge grunter was vigorously rooting away in the centre of Market Square, and H— noticing it, told Captain T. that there was business for him, ordering him to arrest the porker, T. promptly responded, "I will, and I command you to help me!" In thus exercising the privileges of his office, our friend the hog-reeve, got the laugh on H—, who was obliged by law to obey the order given him, and did it in good style. He never after reminded that functionary of his duty.

☞ We miss the great elm on Gates street, near Pleasant. Situated in an angle of a house, its increasing size rendered it necessary to remove the building or the tree. We should have chosen the former, but the owner was not of our mind, and so the old monarch was doomed to lose his leafy crown and perish by the axe, as many a monarch before him has suffered for encroachment.

☞ One of the busiest spots in the city is Mr. Philbrick's stone and marble yard, at the foot of State street; the constant click, click, of the hammers, from morning till night, in sunshine and storm, summer and winter, giving assurance that in this line there is "something doing," and that Mr. P. is the man who knows how to do it.

☞ The most novel sight pertaining to navigation we ever saw, was witnessed on Wednesday afternoon. About five hundred sail of vessels (mostly schooners) were off Lower Harbor, coming in for shelter from an anticipated storm. These craft were fishing vessels engaged in mackereling. All along the coast, from Great Boar's Head to Fort Constitution, and as far out as the Shoals, nothing else could be discerned but the white canvass sails of this innumerable fleet. We set the number of boats at 500; there might have been a thousand for aught we know.

☞ Advices from Cape Town, C. G. H., under date of July 28, report intelligence received there by electric telegraph of the total wreck at Green Point of ship Pisciataqua, Tompson, from Cardiff, bound to Bassillion. She was abandoned, condemned and sold for £565. The Picataqua was built and owned at this port.

☞ The riggers are at work upon the new ship built by Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, for some time past lying at Pier Wharf. We believe that as yet there has been no sale of the ship and that she still remains incognito.

☞ Sch. Undine was spoken Wednesday afternoon by steamer Pioneer, in tow of a fishing schooner, inside the Isles of Shoals, bound into this harbor.

☞ An opportunity to obtain a convenient house in a central location is afforded by Auctioneer Morse's sale to-day of the house corner of Daniel and Bow streets.

LOUISIANA.—The New Orleans Delta learns that President Johnson has appointed J. Madison Welles Provisional Governor of Louisiana, and has given him the same authority as vested in Gov. Sharkey of Miss. The Delta thinks the members of the State Convention can be elected in 30 days, and an election for members of Congress, members of the Legislature and State officers can take place before November. It hopes the U. S. Senators will be sent to Washington in time for the meeting of Congress.

It is expected that Memphis will soon be abolished as a military post.

— The report that Juarez designed leaving Mexico is contradicted in a private letter.

— It is said that there is a girl on Cache Creek, Cal., who weighs 226 lbs., and who is but five years old.

— It is said Alex. H. Stephens will soon be released from Fort Warren and return to Georgia, to co-operate with ex-Governor Brown and others in reconstructing that State.

— Two young Virginians, recently discharged from the Union army, on their return to their homes, were warned to leave by ex-rebel soldiers, or they would be assassinated.

— In New York, Tuesday night, the American Rice mills in South street were destroyed by fire with all their contents. The building adjoining, occupied by Mr. Rentz, grocer and ship chandler, was also seriously damaged. Total loss estimated at half a million. So say the papers; but the loss sounds big.

HAYTI.—Rev. Arthur Waring of Hayti, now in New York, says it is the general opinion of the people of Hayti that the present revolution will succeed, and that Pres. Geffrard will be overthrown. Mr. Waring represents the grievances of the revolutionists to be the tendency of Geffrard to hold the government during his lifetime, a provision not made by the original constitution of the republic, but grafted on it in an irregular manner. Another complaint against Geffrard is his desire to discourage all forms of Christianity save the Roman Catholic. Geffrard, instead of being a merciful man and a friend of education, is represented to be a shedder of blood unnecessarily, and adverse to any educational scheme unless under the Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Waring says Salnave is not an ambitious man, but is moved by patriotic motives; and that among the aspirations of the people of Hayti is a desire for a reunion with the Dominican republic, the sections of the island having been separated in 1844; but the Dominicans will never consent to that as long as it is possible for a President to retain office for life.

The New York World is anxious about the supposed theological heresies of Henry Ward Beecher. It has not liked his political truths for some time. Its present solicitude relates to the reports that Mr. B. is inclined to believe in a modified hell. This disturbs the World's consistent conservatism. It desires a creed as stable and unchangeable as its Democratic platform.—Transcript.

[Uncle Toby has observed for several days past, that the copperhead papers generally are much exercised about the religion of other people—not about their own, nor that of their supporters. We thought the Rev. Mr. Naseby was a myth, and the "Noo Dispensashun" a burlesque,—but they are hardly a match for the new copperhead apostles. The old churches will probably outlive the Noo Dispensation.]

NEW ORGAN.—A very powerful organ has just been put up in the Congress square Universalist Church, Portland. It has three full sets of keys, and two and a half octaves of pedal keys; 3000 pipes; 54 registers, viz. 12 in swell, 11 in choir, 11 in pedal, and 12 in great organ. There are 8 full reed stops, and 10 solo stops proper.

— A New Haven sailor recently had a falling out with his wife, and was found by the police, who entered the house where he was, in the act of cutting the bed in twain, half for his wife and half for himself.

— The Louisville Journal expresses its firm conviction that if only legal, loyal votes had been cast at the recent election in Kentucky, there would have been a decided majority elected to both Houses of the Legislature favorable to the constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery throughout the United States.

— William Lloyd Garrison and E. H. Chapin will address the people at the Champlain Valley Fair in Vergennes, Vermont, on Thursday, September 28.

— Two Catholic priests have been arrested in Missouri for persisting in preaching without taking the oath prescribed by the new constitution.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

THE EIGHTH WONDER of the fashionable world, is Sozodont. Ladies as they see their unsullied teeth and rosy gums reflected in their toilet mirrors, and gentlemen as their white incisors flash through their dark moustaches, wonder how the benighted folk of twenty years ago got along without the teeth-beautifying, breath-perfuming Sozodont. 7

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his Capture and Imprisonment for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the motives, motions, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the 'slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

Coal at Cost.

The Eagle Hill Mutual Coal Company.

The subscriber has succeeded in obtaining a limited number of shares in this popular Company, which has proved such a success in Boston and vicinity, for the purpose of enabling the citizens of Portsmouth to obtain their coal at a saving of three or four dollars per ton. Full information will be given and a small amount of stock furnished on application to

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same as principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 400 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croaking of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,—I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of the best Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Calixtio, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.

Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which lights them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Side, and others.

THE RAIN.

All night long the clouds were weeping
Great round tears of falling rain;
All night long the wind was sobbing,
As if nature's heart was throbbing,
With a mighty burst of pain.

How the great trees of the forest
Groaned their long arms to and fro;
How the trembling branches quivered,
While the air around was shivered,
Into thrilling notes of woe.

It would seem as if some anguish
Held the earth in writhing pain;
But I heard not on the morrow,
She would rise from out her sorrow,
Stronger, fairer for the rain.

O, the wealth of verdure springing
Into life and strength and light!
Every seed and bud is swelling,
And the beauty in them dwelling,
Soon will open to the sight.

Soon the winds will die with sobbing,
And the clouds will cease to weep;
For the spring repeats the story,
Resurrection unto glory,
From the winter's dreamless sleep.

All our knowledge comes with sorrow,
Faith is strengthened by our fears;
And our life is better, purer,
Love is sweeter, heaven surer,
Through the discipline of years.

— As the battery was going into camp at New Haven on Monday, an old battery horse, grazing in a lot, hearing a bugle call, jumped the fence, took his old position in line, and moved out to camp with the battery. So much for the force of habit.

American and Foreign Patents.
C. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837;
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, it not unmeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. E. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and industry on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1865.

THE INDIANS.—A political paper now before us, in an article on the late Indian difficulties, goes out of the way to say something against the men who endeavor to do good in ways which other men neglect or ridicule. It contains this paragraph:

The Indians of the United States receive but little attention from the most of that class of men called Philanthropists. These have their thoughts and time absorbed in the welfare of the Negro, though one would suppose that the red faces—or Copperfaces—(perhaps it is the "copper" color of the Indian which makes them so indifferent) would equally awaken their philanthropy and commiseration. But such is not the fact, and to the neglect, in part, may be traced Indian cruelties, wars, sympathy with the rebellion, and as a consequence fresh commissions, standing armies and enormous expenses.

All this is very far from the truth. If the writer of it believes what he says, he must be profoundly ignorant of the whole subject. The Indians, during the past four years, have been, by the force of events, almost beyond the reach of American philanthropists, for to a great extent they have helped the rebels. But American Philanthropists, especially those of New England, for forty years previous to the rebellion, had done what they could to benefit the red man or "Copperface," as the copper-head paper calls him in the above extract.

Thomas Jefferson spoke for the Indian as well as the negro: and Jefferson, when President, and before, established a policy of kindness and care, by the U. S. government, for Indian welfare and comfort.

This policy was continued till the slave State of Georgia nullified the U. S. laws and defied the U. S. Courts, in Gen. Jackson's administration! Evarts of Boston and Worcester of Salem, and Grimke of South Carolina, and many others did what they could,—suffered some things,—and Missionaries of the American Board were imprisoned in Georgia, in defiance of the highest Court in the land. Gen. Jackson, then President, tho' he resisted South Carolina nullification, bowed meekly before that of Georgia,—and from that day the policy of the U. S. government was changed toward the Indian. Slavery said he must leave Georgia;—and he went, in defiance of the law. Slavery said he must be buried from Florida, exactly as it had said before, Florida must be bought. It was bought, very dear,—and the Indian was driven out and bought out, at a cost of $40,000,000 or $50,000,000, and a long, wasting war.

In the same bad policy, different tribes of Indians were moved from widely different parts of our great country,—and being brought near together, naturally became discordant and troublesome. These causes, and not neglect by "abolition" philanthropists, led to Indian difficulties.

But to a very great extent, the same men who have for years labored and prayed, and spoken, for the black man, have done so for the red man also. And any writer who asserts or insinuates the contrary, either lies under a great mistake, or lies without any mistake at all.

☞ The New York correspondent of the London Daily News paints in lively colors the ugly look the negro question is assuming in America. So says an item of the latest news from England. Well, let them paint, as much as much as they please, and let traitors and cowards on this side of the water paint also, in the same way. The people of the free states, that have settled the rebellion by heavy and repeated blows, at immense cost, will settle this question also. There must be equal representation, equal rights, and equal burdens, as far as may be, for loyal men,—and if any one or more will rebel against this,—why settle him with as much force as may be needful.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The first United States colored regiment, which has been in service three years, is about to be mustered out. The majority of the men composing it were raised in Washington and the adjouring counties of Maryland and Virginia. The colored people of Washington are making preparations to give the regiment a public reception.

The Freedmen's Bureau has made application to the Secretary of the Interior for a grant of certain unoccupied Government ground in Washington city, on which to erect suitable buildings for the use of the colored schools now being organized there. If the application meets with a favorable response, school accommodations will be provided for about eight thousand freedmen.

— Late accounts from Constantinople place the destruction of buildings by the Stamboul fire at 2800; 22,000 persons were rendered houseless. One estimate is high as 12,000 buildings.

— The journals of the Charenta (France) mention that certain fruits, such as figs, peaches, &c., are so abundant that, although the growers give them away to whoever will accept them, large quantities are left to perish.

CIRCUMLOCUTION OUTDONE.

The following letter, received by S. R. Niles, Advertising Agent, Boston, from the Mayor of one of our Eastern cities, in answer to a bill sent the city for advertising, is so palpable a hit at the "red tape" style that we print it entire:

His Highness has received the bill and returns it to be receipted, as his Dukeship cannot allow his fiscal agents to consider it until this has been done. After it has been receipted and the stamp properly canceled, if it should be sent again to His Honor it will be placed in the hands of the Noble City Clerk, who will lay it away, until the next monthly meeting, for consideration. If the venerable and highly educated City Council then condescend to "consider" it, the Noble Clerk will place his cabalistic initials upon it in token of that fact, and it will then be laid by for the consideration of the Noble Committee on Accounts. When that pure and unbribed body arrive at that point in their herculean labors where it shall become their duty to place their undefiled orbs of vision upon the sacred document, which will probably be within three or four lunar months after it is placed in their holy keeping, if they shall then "approve" of its extortionate demands, they will place their immaculate names upon it and it will be returned to the sacred keeping of the Noble City Clerk by one of the fleet-footed messengers who continually wait to do their bidding. The Noble Clerk will then keep it a proper time in the secret archives, when he will seek to communicate to His Royal Dukeship the astounding fact that there is a bill! His Dukeship being absorbed in the affairs of State will not deign to hear the Noble Clerk, but the Clerk will persist, on bended knees, until His Royal Highness acknowledges that there is a bill. After this has been conceded, the undefiled and high-minded scribe, after a proper time shall have elapsed—say six months—will again remind His Dukeship that there is a bill. If His Imperial Tycoonship has not forgotten the fact, he may order the unclean document brought into his royal presence by the page in waiting, to be filed in due form for future consideration; but happy indeed should the poor suppliant for a mere pittance be, if his bill should arrive thus far towards a favorable consideration by his most sublime and majestic Highness.

When the bill shall have been properly filed, it will lay until the absorbing cares of State and the overwhelming duties attending the administration of municipal affairs shall so far relax as to render it safe for some one of the myriad of minions in waiting upon His Majesty to remind him of the fact that an approved bill awaits the attention of His Excellency. When this is done, if His Highness should be in a happy mood, he may condescend to touch the tip of the jewel-d pen, while some one of the Royal Private Secretaries shall inscribe the imperial signature on a warrant for the payment of the mere bagatelle for which you ask to be remunerated. If it should so happen that his royal mind could not be brought to consider the matter, and the presentation of the subject at an improper moment should irritate the Earl, the bill would be consigned to oblivion, never after to be mentioned in the Royal Presence, not even in a whisper. After the imperial warrant shall have been drawn, it will be sent by a trusty messenger, enclosed in a perfumed envelope and encased in a jeweled casket of untold value, to the Treasurer, who will receive it for consideration. After he has "considered" it a sufficient time—say three or four months—if he has no other business pressing on his great financial brain, he will condescend to keep the royal warrant and investigate its legality. If strictly legal, which may be ascertained in from six to ten weeks, the great fiscal agent of the city may condescend to inform you that the bill will be paid. This is always very gratifying to all applicants, as the Noble Treasurer has a playful way of informing them that it is impossible to fix any definite time when the same will happen; but, under ordinary circumstances, any party having a just claim against the city may reckon with safety on having it paid in from two to four years after it is presented—provided that he will take a city note or bond, or make the noble officers in waiting "satisfied" that all is right.

As your claim is very small, and it takes quite an amount to satisfy the royal minions who have charge of the avenues to the Imperial Mint, it may be best to present the city with the trifling amount you claim. I merely suggest this.

His Highness awaits the return of the bill.

REGIRA OF CANADIAN YOUTH.—The Catholic Bishop of Toronto reports a great loss of population in his diocese, and therefore refrains from rebuilding St. Patrick's Church. He says the young men are leaving the country in every direction. His clergy have lately given him a census of their parishes, by which it appears that the Catholic population is 12,000 less than it was in 1861. In Toronto City alone, Catholic have gone away to the United States to obtain employment to the number of 4000. There are, therefore, but 8000 left. In Lower Canada it is much the same. The people are leaving it in tens of thousands. In default of the annexation of Canada to this country, the people seem to be annexing themselves to it pretty fast.

EMMIGRATION TO VIRGINIA. — The Lynchburg Virginian says that a portion of the farmers of Central Virginia, feeling the necessity for the immediate adoption of measures to secure a reliable class of laborers, have organized a society for the encouragement of emigration to the State, to be styled "The Virginia Central Immigration Society." They prefer English and Scotch laborers, and an agent is to be sent to England and Scotland to encourage emigration.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Dunbarton celebrated its Centennial Sept. 13; there is no railroad, lawyer, physician, nor town pauper in the place.

—— Capt. N. H. Brown, late of the 1st N. H. Cavalry, has been held to bail in Concord, on a charge of fraudulently converting to his own use $300 belonging to the town of Warner. The deed was done in connection with paying bounties.

—— The S. J. Court at Dover, sent John Rowe to the State Prison for 5 years, for breaking into a store in Milton and stealing; George Reynolds, 5 years for entering a house in Somersworth and stealing; Sam'l Davis jr. 3 years, for stealing from a returned soldier; and Enoch Hays 2 years for entering a house and stealing.

HON. J. HOLT has published a reply to the recent speech of Montgomery Blair. He concludes as follows:

In February, 1861, I was denounced by Jacob Thompson, ex-member of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet, because, in co-operaton with that illustrious old soldier and patriot, Gen. Scott, I had attempted to reinforce Fort Sumter; and now, in 1865, I am denounced by an ex-member of Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet, because, as he has alleged, by necessary implication, I not only did not attempt to reinforce Fort Sumter, but actually prevented General Scott from doing so. The opinon is confidently entertained that I shall suffer no more from this denunciation than I did from the first.

GENERAL CASS.—The old Democratic veteran at Detroit, on occasion of a meeting held in that city to consult on measures for raising a monument to the fallen heroes of Michigan, sent a letter to the Chairman, inclosing $1000. In the letter he says:

"We have gained a great victory in the maintenance of the supremacy of the Constitution, and in the successful suppression of the rebellion which sought its overthrow. We may as well trust that this lesson of the power and energy of the American people will insure the stability of our glorious Constitution for ages to come, and will aid in the progress of free institutions throughout the world. While we look forward with bright hopes to the future, let us not forget how much we owe both to those who have been taken from us and those who are yet happily among us, and who, under Divine Providence, by their services and sufferings, without a parallel in history, brought to a happy conclusion the terrible conflict in which we were engaged."

THE LONDON TIMES AND THE COTTON LOAN.—The publication of that "happy family," the English holders of the Confederate cotton loan, is a good idea, and will doubtless be as pleasant to the parties themselves as sunshine is to owls. That disinterested sheet, the London Times, will particularly hail the revelation, as it shows that its editor and employees had no less than $750,000 invested, that is to say, done up in the cotton loan. The greater part of this sum was the generous contribution of Spence of Liverpool, the notorious "J. S.," whose essays in the Times seemed to have for their principal object to supply the falsehoods which Mackay, on this side of the water, omitted. Next came the financial editor, whose judment on great business enterprises after this must be considered particularly valuable. And finally came the editor himself, the supposed impersonation (until the late Mr. Cobden tore off the mask) of all that is disinterested, unbiased and incorruptible. Now, (says the Boston Journal) the secret of the Times' devotion to the rebel cause is transparent to the world, even the world of its British admirers; and it is henceforth to bear the stigma of being, what it is, an unprincipled and venal sheet.

— "Bessie," the wife of Tom Moore, is dead. She was one of the most charming of women, and self-sacrificing of wives and mothers. Moore's private correspondence, publi-hed by Lord Russell, is full of the most loving and grateful tributes to her excellences, and the noble editor, who knew her well and had observed her long, fully confirms the poet's praises. Her place in literature will last as long as men or women preserve any remembrance of Tom Moore. Trans.

HIGH PRICE FOR A COLT.—John Peck, esq., of Haverstraw, Rockland county, sold last Friday a five year old colt, raised on his farm at Samsondale, for the handsome sum of ten thousand dollars, cash, the highest price, we believe, ever given in this country for a colt. Said colt stands sixteen hands and one inch in height; dark bay, and is a perfect beauty. His dam is a Bush Messenger and Green Mountain Morgan; his sire is the celebrated Hamiltonian of Orange county. The colt was bought by Guy Miller, esq., of Orange county, a gentleman that knows something about horseflesh, and who considers him a bargain at that price.—Rockland County (N. Y.) Messenger.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for October contains Fall Fashions, colored and uncolored; Drawing Lessons, and the usual variety of polite literature.

— On Friday a hundred barrels of flour were seized on the frontier while on the way from Montreal to New York. In about seventy-five of them tin cases filled with high wines, three gallons in each, were discovered.

— F. H. Smith of Birmingham, Conn., lately coughed up an ounce ball which went nearly through his head in the battle of Averysboro', N. C., and could not be previously extracted.

☞ The late gale drove two vessels ashore on Cape Cod;—one was the brig Cemantha Hopkins, (of Eden, Me.,) Capt. Warren B. Hamor, from Philadelphia for Boston, with a cargo of 333 tons coal. Five men were drowned. The captain swam ashore, and a boy was saved. Capt. Hamor saved nothing but what he stood in. The Cemantha Hopkins was a good vessel, 181 tons register, built at Eden, Me., in 1857, and was owned by Capt. Hamor and others, and was not insured. It is a coincidence that the brig C. H. Frost, which was wrecked at the same time and place, also lost five of her crew, the captain and only one man being saved from each vessel.

— Eight convicts escaped from the Auburn (N. Y.) prison the other day, two of whom were shot dead by the officers, four recaptured and two got away.

— In Portland, two stores were burnt Sept. 20, early in the morning. The fire was incendiary, and the man who set it has been arrested. He has confessed that he is the guilty party. He is supposed to be the man who set the Augusta fire, as he was there at the time. He had trouble with some soldiers and came to Portland the next day. Jones was arrested at Yarmouth, and was well armed with revolvers. He set the fire out of spite to toward the owner of the building in which the fire originated.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The First has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.," no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. Bartley," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Dunn's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Impaired Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILLS have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

AN EXPENSIVE MEERSCHAUM.—A man residing in this city entered a variety store a day or two since, and seeing a beautiful meerschaum pipe in the show-case, stole behind the counter and pocketed the coveted prize. He was observed, however, by one of inmates of the establishment, who informed the proprietor, and the thief was shortly after notified that to save trouble and exposure it would be well to return that pipe. The man stoutly denied the theft, and so the matter was placed in the hands of the police, and to prevent the serving of a writ and a consequent trial before a public court, our indiscreet friend was obliged to fork over $45 and return the pipe to its owner. That little sum would have bought for him a good pipe and lots of tobacco.

☞ In obedience to a time-honored custom, the workmen at the Navy Yard commence work this (Friday) morning at three minutes before 7 o'clock. The rule is to begin labor at the Yard at this season of the year as many minutes before seven A. M. as the sun sets before six P. M., until the sun rises at six o'clock in the morning, when work is resumed at seven, or an hour after sunrise, and continuing so to do until the 20th of March, when the ten-hour system takes the place of the varying time.

☞ We learn that Leach, the man who shot Kidder at Kittery Foreside a few months ago, made his escape on Wednesday last from the jail at Alfred, Me.,—where he has been confined since his examination—and has not yet been found. His trial was to have taken place at this term of Court, which commenced its session at Alfred on Monday. As the matter now stands, his case will not commence just yet.

☞ The new Plumber's Shop in progress of construction at the Navy Yard is rapidly approaching completion, being ready for roofing. It is located on a spot where was formerly a dock, which being filled with salt water, was used principally for the reception of timber for preservation. This pond of water has been filled up, and is now covered by a large and handsome workshop.

☞ Acting Volunteer Lieut. Charles C. Ricker has been assigned to the duties of Master at this Navy Yard, in place of Acting Master Hawkins. Mr. Ricker is a native of this city, a young men of ambition and enterprise, and well calculated to fill his new position with credit to himself. He has been promoted once or twice for meritorious service during the war.

☞ The great fleet of vessels that filled our harbor on Wednesday, spread their white wings on Thursday and skimmed over the blue water to the eastward — a beautiful sight.

☞ J. P. Morse, Esq., sold the house corner of Bow and Daniel street at auction on Thursday. Samuel S. Foye was the purchaser, at $1850.

☞ The side-wheel steamer Tioga sailed on Thursday morning. Through mismanagement on the part of somebody, she got aground in the river, but the rising tide set her on her way again.

ALABAMA.—A Montgomery dispatch of Sept. 20th says:

The Reconstruction Convention to-day adopted resolutions requesting the Provisional Governor to call out the militia immediately to repress disorder and lawlessness which exist in many counties. The ordinance for the abolition of slavery was defeated at length, when further consideration was postponed until to-morrow.

[Not a very promising piece of reconstruction, surely. Its wisdom, and its force too, resemble those of the famous Southern Commercial Conventions they used to have, years ago. Their chief use will be to amuse the foolish people for a time, until something better will be poured down upon them from the Higher Powers.]

GOLD, Thursday, 144.

— Long John Went worth of Chicago has bought Gen. Grant's old war-horse Jack, which he gave to the Chicago Fair, for $475.

— A citizen of Western Tennessee is about to bring a suit against a prominent rebel neighbor for inducing his son, a minor, to enter the rebel service as a substitute. The action will be for damages by the loss of the services of the son.

— A part of the money stolen from the St. Albans banks by Young and his gang, and which had been deposited with the Montreal Chief of Police, and by him returned to the thieves, has been refunded by the Canadian government.

— The Norfolk (Pa.,) Herald replies to some abuse of Massachusetts by a democratic paper as follows: "Massachusetts threw the tea overboard, and the first battle of the Revolution was fought at Lexington. She leads off in all reforms that result in the benefit of the people and in favor of an intelligent government, and that is the reason why she is denounced by all demagogues, pot-house politicians, dummies, fools, traitors and copperheads.

THE NEW YORK UNION CONVENTION nominated Gen. Barlow for Secretary of State, and unanimously adopted a series of Resolutions:

Congratulating the people on the overthrow of the rebellion, the return of peace, the preservation of the Union and extinction of slavery;

Giving thanks to our soldiers and sailors;

Deploring the death by assassination of President Lincoln;

Recognizing in Andrew Johnson a statesman of ability, experience and high-toned patriotism and unsullied integrity, and renewing to his administration the assurance of cordial support; approving his sentiments of kindness and confidence toward those communities and individuals lately in rebellion, who accept the perpetuation of the Union and the perpetual prohibition of slavery; approving the initial steps towards reconstruction;

Regarding the several States in the Union as having jurisdiction over all local and domestic affairs especially reserved by the constitution, and trusting that whenever it shall be deemed compatible with the public safety to restore to the States lately in rebellion the renewed exercise of those rights, it will be done in the faith and on the basis that they be exercised in the spirit of equal and impartial justice, and with a view to the elevation and perpetuation of the citizenship of all their people;

Expressing full confidence in the restoration of the national supremacy;

Recognizing the national debt as a sacred obligation, and demanding of Congress legislation making taxes equal and impartial upon all classes; indorsing the determination of the Government to assume no portion of the rebel debt; expecting at the hands of the Government large reduction of expenditures, and a wise and economical administration of public affairs;

Expressing confidence in the President's management of foreign affairs, and adhering to the Monroe doctrine; tendering congratulations to Mr. Seward for his providential escape from the knife of the assassin, and rejoicing that his distinguished services are still continued to the nation.

— A female congress has been convened at Leipsic, and the women of Germany have been invited to send delegates, for the purpose of organizing industrial and artistic exhibitions of female handicraft, relief and pension associations; industrial, commercial and economical schools for ladies; and of advocating the admission of ladies to the public lecture rooms of academies and universities from which they are at present excluded.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the more already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

THE NATION:

A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.

This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make no earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration, and misrepresentation to which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.

The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Tuckerman, Bayard Taylor, C. A. Bristed, C. L. Brace, William Lloyd Garrison, James Parton, Gail Hamilton.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curaçao, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the medicinal value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the tre ment Physicians for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabbalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curaçao, S. A.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

IS WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost

ONE CENT AN HOUR

for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30	"
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15	"

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plater are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

A SOUTHERN CANDIDATE.—The Richmond Republic publishes the manifesto of "J. Sugs," ex-rebel quartermaster, and now candidate for Congress in Virginia. It is funny, but has some hard hits in it, as will be seen in the following extract:

You hav the rite to no the prinsipals will guvern my kongresknal kareer. I am not the person to kounsele or ekuiverkait. My prinsipals air those of the American Egul, which, whar the karkus is, is ollers gethurd togethur. In relashun to the niggur, I oxsept the situashun. Slaivery is ded, and so will the niggurs bo, befo long. I am in faivur of a ginural amnesty to all the 20,000 dolar men, sein they had nuthin to do with bringin on the war, or fitin in it when it was brot. Boath of these was did by the poor men, but those of that klass who maid nuthin by the waw I konsider sufishuntly punished, and those who did ort to be pardund for gettin rich at the expens of the rebelyun. All I have to say in konklushun is, that if enny man doubts my loialty enny longur, he is a misurable traitur, and I will kik him as sune as civil guverment is re-estabished.

JEWS IN NEW YORK.—The Jews in this city are a numerous people. Much of the heavy business is in their hands. The German and Italian trade they chiefly monopolize. Houses of worship for this people are increasing, and some of them are among the most costly and imposing edifices in the city. For a long time they held worship down town. But trade has driven up the Jew as well as the Christian from the lower quarters, and a new and elegant synagogue on Thirty-fourth street, near Broadway, has been consecrated this week. But agitation disturbs the ancient people of Isreal as well as other sects. "Shall there be an organ in the synagogue? Shall the house be pewed? Shall women be taken from the gallery and families sit together in pews as in a Christian church? Shall Sabbath schools be opened to keep the Jewish youth from the seductive wiles of Sabbath schools among the Gentiles?" These are questions agitated, and on them "New School" congregations have been gathered.—Burleigh.

KETCHUM, THE FORGER.—Wilkes' Spirit of the Times, says of young Ketchum the forger:

He belonged to a class of wealthy sympathizers with the rebellion, who devoted the large means at their control to help along the wicked cause, by depreciating the federal currency, and forcing up the price of gold. In this evil way, he has contributed largely to doubling and trebling the price of every pound of bread or meat that has gone into the poor man's mouth during the last two years, or that has been bought by the Government for Union soldiers. He has fallen simply as a part of the rebellion, which he and his Wall street associates did their utmost to sustain, and he should be made to share the fortunes of its fall. Let us, then, have no false sympathy; but simply strict justice for poor rich young Mr. Ketchum.

EQUALIZING THE TWO WORLDS.—Some years ago a gentleman died. His widow inherited his property and collected the insurance on his life, and very soon enlarged, repaired, and fitted up her residence in quite a luxurious style. A friend calling, expressed some little surprise that she had made these nice arrangements so soon after the decease of Mr. ——. "Why shouldn't I do it?" replied the practical "relic." "My husband, good man that he was, is enjoying a glorious mansion in the skies; and of course he wishes me to be as comfortable as possible here on earth." Who says that woman's faith was not shown by her works? Trans.

INN SIGN.—The following is a copy of a poetical invitation on the sign of The Beehive, an old inn at Abingdon, kept by William Honey:

"Within this Hive we're all alive,
Good liquor makes us funny;
If you are dry, step in and try
The flavor of our Honey."

Notes and Queries.

— The Convention of telegraphers in Chicago voted to discontenance female operators. [Why?]

— In the city of Taunton, Mass., in a population of 16,995, there are 1192 persons over twenty years of age who can neither read nor write. Where is the schoolmaster?—Exchange.

ANS.—The schoolmaster is there,—but he was not where these people came from: they were not born in New England.

— Beer glasses are very small indeed in Wisconsin. A returned soldier who likes beer—as some returned soldiers do—asked the beverage dispenser, who was serving him not long ago, for his handkerchief, and on receiving the "wipe" tying one end of it carefully and tight around the handle of the mug, gave the other end to the landlord to hold. The beverage dispenser inquired the reason of this strange proceeding, and the veteran responded that the mug was so small he was afraid of swallowing it by accident.

It is a pure oxide of Iron and Manganese. It mixes readily with Linseed Oil, adding two gallons less per 100 lbs. than any mineral, and possesses more body than any other paint. It forms a glossy, enduring, durable metallic cover, protecting wood from decay, and iron or other metals from rust or corrosion.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1865.

A colored clergyman belonging in Washington, and his wife, were recently ousted from their seats in a railroad car, on the Central railroad, Va., and ordered into the colored people's car at the instigation of certain persons of white complexion calling themselves ladies. This was done in the face of a protest by Federal officers.

[This shows the white ladies to be as weak as the colored clergymen and wife. The latter should voluntarily have gone with their own people at first, all the more because they were proscribed. They were justly snubbed, for being snobs. But both parties acted as well as could be expected in poor old proud Virginia,—where a black aristocracy apes the white. Can anything be more ridiculous than aristocracy in rags?]

TEXAS.—Late advices from Texas say that Gov. Hamilton cautions persons who had bought State property from those who unlawfully obtained it at the breaking up of the Confederate army, that they are liable to both civil and criminal prosecution, unless they return it.

The military require all the negroes to obtain a certificate from their employer showing they obtain an honest living. If thay cannot do this they are set to work on the streets.

[That is a wholesome regulation for black negroes in Galveston: it might be well to try it on white ones in Portsmouth. It would either repair the streets nicely, or, what would be better, clear them of loafers.]

☞ The Alabama Reconstruction Convention is a very remarkable body for its stupid and dogged adherence to the rump of slavery. It gets up petitions for the pardon of Jeff. Davis and amnesty to all,—and then an item comes in this shape;

The chain gang system for the punishment of negroes has been adopted in the Montgomery Convention.

Then a committee offers this report:

All ordinances, resolutions and proceedings of the convention of 1861, with so much of the constitution adopted in said convention as conflicts with the constitution of the United States are hereby declared null and void. This ordinance is made a special order for Wednesday.

Then a special ordinance was reported, abolishing slavery: great discussion ensued,—and lastly a report has been receiv d dated Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 20, that the ordinance abolishing slavery was postponed without debate.

BEFORE THE DELUGE—AND AFTER.—Before.—I don't think there will be much of a shower.

After.—O, how every thing has been washed away or changed.

Before:—say two or three years ago, in the midst of the war, the former editor of the Boston Courier said:

If we would suppose it possible for the war to abolish slavery, as we do not, in such case would it not abolish specie and everything else of value.

After:—only last week, the new editor of the same paper said:

The pulpit and the church at the South have done more than all other institutions, to keep the people attached to the accursed institution of slavery!

Before the late deluge, the institution was valuable, and included all other values: but now accursed. Who will say there has not been a shower?

— The Secretary of the Treasury has decided to anticipate the payment of interest on 5-20 coupon bonds, which becomes due November 1st, and the same will be paid on and after September 25th, upon the presentation of the coupons to Assistant Treasurers and designated depositories authorized to pay interest on government securities.

— Thomas C. Boardman, for many years Cashier of the East Haddam, Conn., Bank, was almost instantly killed Monday night, while standing on the wharf at East Haddam. The hawser of a steamer parted, and an iron hook attached to it struck him on the head and breast, felling him to the ground and inflicting a fatal wound.

— Jeff. Davis' treasure, brought to Washington in charge of a Treasury agent, has been counted in the Treasurer's office, and found to consist of $87,000 in gold coin, $9000 in silver coin, mostly Mexican dollars, old coinage, and thirty bars of silver; total value slightly over $100,000.

The Great Lions of the day are Sir Morton Peto and his band of English railroad capitalists. One would think, to read the newspapers, that they had come over here to give each man a fine estate. At St. Louis the inhabitants forgot Gen. Grant in their absorption of Sir Peto, but on hearing he was in the city, they kindly sent him an invitation to dinner where Sir Peto was the hero of the occasion. The staff of the Lt. Gen. were not invited.—Trans.

— Eben Fuller, apothecary, had been in business in Augusta forty-six years previous to the late fire. He has been insured the whole time, but never before had occasion to call upon any company to make good a loss by fire. He has drawn a prize at last.

— "Mrs. Grundy" is dead, with her twelfth issue. They contained some good things, but were all weekly children.

CROPS IN THE U. S.—The U. S. Commissioner of Agriculture, at Washington, reports the condition of the crops to the 1st of September: Wheat—quality not good, especially in the West, where it was affected by blight and rust, and wet weather during harvest. There is not so much of the old crop in the hands of the farmers as has been supposed. Oats—one of the largest crops ever raised in the country. Hay was greatly injured at the West but very little at the East. The quality is good except in Ohio, Illinois and Missouri. Corn escaped material injury at the West. It is the greatest crop ever raised in the loyal States. Buckwheat if not injured by premature frost will be good. Potatoes—indications of rot in many localities and in some places much injured. The yield, however, will be good, as the amount planted is greater than last year. Hops ripened well in all the States except New York; there it is injured 4 1 4 tenths from line. The crop is, therefore, seriously injured, as New York in 1860 produced nine and three-quarter millions of the eleven millions in the country. Fattening hogs show a decrease of about one-tenth from last year, and that the hogs are smaller and younger than usual.

FAILURE OF THE WHEAT SPECULATION AT CHICAGO.—The Chicago Times of Tuesday says the "corner" in the wheat market at that place collapsed on Monday, and prices receded at one jump from $1.50 to $1.40 and then slowly fell off to $1.37, rallying towards the close, however to $1.39. A greater reduction in prices would have been established, but that the market is still so largely oversold that a large artificial demand is created, which still sustains prices above their proper level. This "corner" has been the most complete affair ever engineered in this city, and has for several weeks past laid an embargo on shipments of grain. The commercial embarrassments of which it has been the occasion, have been many and deeply felt.

[The same kind of engineers that made this corner in Chicago, have made golden corners in New York city for two or three years. Ketchum was one of them;—and it would be well for the people if failure or Jack Ketch should lay hold on some Chicago Ketchum.]

HOG WINDER.—The Army and Navy Journal gives the following reminiscences of this porcine celebrity—one of those swine that have never got rid of the devils which originally entered into them:

In the course of the Werz trial, the character of the infamous J. H. Winder has been pretty thoroughly sifted. He is called "Hog Winder"—a name which most persons supposed to have been given to him on account of his prison achievements, but which in fact had been fastened upon him long before the opening of the rebellion. We happen to know that, when Winder was on garrison duty, a dozen years ago or more ago, in one of the Northern States, he used to publicly express his hate of the North. Repeatedly, at the clustering of the officers, at the end of dress parade, he would give vent to the most violent detestation of the Union, and particularly of the North, "I wish the grass would grow in yonder city, that high." he would say, stretching out his hand in explanatory gesture. On one such occasion a brother officer said to him "Winder, you an officer of the United States and talk so; you ought to have the epaulets stripped off from your shoulders!" Winder was one of Davis's pets, when the latter became Secretary of War, and was measuring every man in the old army to see what part he would have, or could have, for or against the insurrection he then saw to be impending. He could frequently be seen around the War Office in Washington, under Pierce's administration; and he was a fit man for the hellish post of Confederate jailor.

☞ Part 49 of the Rebellion Record, containing fine steel portraits of Major Gens. Augur and Averill, is received from D. Van Nostrand, publisher, 192 Broadway, New York. An interesting and exhaustive work on the subject of which it treats.

☞ Hours at Home, for October, completing the first volume of this new candidate for popular favor, is received through the agent, Mr. J. H. Foster. As it has deserved, so it has received a liberal patronage.

— In Baltimore, Thursday afternoon, the City Council gave a grand entertainment to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Druid Hill, Park Pavilion.

— The tax list shows that there are over four million of dollars invested in Newport by persons from abroad who usually reside there but a portion of the year. This sum constitutes nearly one-fourth of the entire taxable property, including both personal and real estate.

— In the town of Hopkinton, Mass., a hermit by the name of Seth Bailey is living in a hut, a short distance from the road, built of boards and stones, and banked with earth and turf to the eaves. He is 78 years of age, was born in Natick, and for nearly half a century has lived in this hut alone.

— Major Von Hammerstein, an Austrian Baron formerly on McClellan's staff, was recently mustered out of service and received $1700 for back pay and allowances. He went into a New York gambling saloon and was fleeced out of his whole means and is now carrying the musket of a private soldier in our regular army.

THE WIRZ TRIAL.—On Thursday, 9, B. Walker gave testimony of the speech made by Howell Cobb at Andersonville about hanging prisoners, &c. Cobb recommended Wirz as a meritorious and efficient officer.

Ambrose Spencer testified the odor from the stockade could be detected two miles off. The country was fertile and densely wooded. The crops, including vegetables, in 1864, were large. Witness knew of ladies in the neighborhood gathering clothing and food for the relief of the prisoners, about which Gen. Winder said, with an oath, he believed the whole country was becoming Yankee, and he'd be d——d if he would'nt put a stop to it. He used other language in respect to these ladies, too gross for a newspaper.

Dr. B. J. Head, who was on duty at Andersonville in July and August, 1864, testified to the sufferings of the prisoners from disease and the want of a proper diet. He and his wife sent supplies in, and he in consequence was the recipient of outrageous language from Winder and others.

Charles H. Russell was re-called and related two instances of cruelty by James Duncan, a rebel in charge of the distribution of bread. He kicked a man who asked for a crust so that he died in several days thereafter, and treated another in the same manner for a similar request.

Witness was asked if Duncan was in the Court, who said that he was and pointed him out. Duncan after standing and showing himself, was informed by the Court that he must remain there. It seems that he is a witness for the defense. [And a fellow criminal, whose testimony will do little towards clearing Wirz.]

Samuel M. Riker testified besides that the prisoners were robbed both at Richmond and at Andesonville.

Benjamin B. Dyke, a rebel railroad agent at Andersonville, testified that there was a good deal of provisions, including vegetables, there at all times.

A. Henshaw testified to seeing a man shot for reaching over the "dead line" for a bit of bread.

Thomas Walsh testified that no rations were issued on the 26th March, 1864, and not until 3 P. M. the next day; none on the 1st of April, and not until the next day at 5 o'clock, and then only a pint of meal and two or three ounces of mule flesh. The prisoners got rations on the 4th of July, but being full of maggots, they threw them away. Wirz said on one occasion: "May God Almighty damn me if I don't shoot with my revolver the first man who attempts to leave the ranks."

Evidence for the United States is expected to close Saturday. The Government has shown a disposition to allow the prisoner opportunity for defense, having subpoenaed about seventy witnesses, thirty of whom have arrived in Washington. This is not all that the prisoner, through his counsel, desires. He wants witnesses sought after and brought to the city. But this cannot be done for want of money, only $200 dollars in all having been subscribed to assist him. Several witnesses, deemed important, have left, not having the means to pay their ordinary expenses. Under these circumstances both the prisoner and counsel seem despondent, while they attach no blame to the prosecution.

TEXAS AND ALABAMA.—Gen. Sheridan has returned from Texas to New Orleans. Gov. Hamilton of Texas directs that the present organization of districts and towns for holding courts be continued. All negroes must be on an equality with white men in respect to trial and punishment of crime. Gov. H. has his eyes in his head, where Solomon says wise men have them. The other Governors down that way seem to have their eyes "holden."

Gen. Woods, commanding in Alabama, directs his officers to enforce discipline, and prevent improper and unnecessary intercourse between the citizens and soldiers.

MEXICO. — The New Orleans Times' Mexican correspondent, under date of Aug. 28, says military operations will be actively resumed on the first of October. The country is rapidly going to destruction between the French, liberals and guerrillas. Cortinas had made a capture of $100,000 in silver.

Juarez was still at Chihuahua. Many arbitrary arrests were reported by Maximilian's government. The Liberals are masters of Durango, and have captured several hundred Belgians.

— The Kennebec Journal gives official returns from 451 towns in Maine, where Gov. Cony gets 53,449 votes, Howard 31,117; Cony's majority, 22,322. About 2000 more votes are to come in, but they are nearly a tie. Adding the soldiers' vote, Cony's majority will be about 23,000.

— The Kennebec Journal states that many men are engaged in cleaning bricks on the scene of the late great fire in Augusta, and says: "The activity of an earnest enterprise is everywhere visible and determination pulsates in all hearts." By which we infer that the burnt district is to be rebuilt at once.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The First has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near approaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm. Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.," others "P. S. Bartlett," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertized in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Darne's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our expulsion. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

ASSISTING THESE EFFORTS OF NATURE.

Local.

☞ The severe drought of the past two or three months seems to have ended and the dust which has been whirling through our streets at every motion of the air, insinuating into the eyes, ears, mouth, nostrils and pores of everybody, now lies pliably quiet at our feet. The refreshing rain of Sunday night together with the few showers we have since been favored with, have given almost everything upon which it fell a clean and healthy appearance truly refreshing after so long a period of sickly yellow heat.

But while the rain has cleaned houses, washed windows, sidewalks and streets, it came too late to benefit vegetation, all of which, except perhaps cabbages parsnips and a few other roots, are beyond resuscitation. The burning weather has pinched and blighted the fall feed, and affected in the same manner, vines, fruit, corn, &c. And we incline to the belief that milk, squashes, apples, potatoes, corn and grain of every description will command rather high prices this fall.

☞ The schooner Alabama, a Gloucester fishing vessel, on Thursday when about 35 miles E. S. E. of this harbor discovered the wreck of the schooner Undine of Portland, Connecticut, having lost her mainmast, fore topmast, and having her foremost wrenched out of its place, hanging at an angle of 90 degrees over the vessel's side. The schooner was loaded with lumber, and had lost about two-thirds of her deck-load. She was nearly filled with water. It is said that her crew were saved, having been taken off of the wreck by the steamer Montreal bound for Portland. The Undine was towed into our Lower Harbor by the Alabama and from thence to Tucker's Wharf by the steamer Pioneer.

☞ The tug-boat Portfire at the Navy Yard is being furnished with new boilers, her old ones having been completely worn out.

The steamer Emerald is again in running order, and makes the regular trips to and from the Yard.

The steamer Fox lies at the Navy Yard Landing under "banked fires" ready to rally to the support of the Emerald in case the latter steamer breaks down.

☞ Col. Jacob Zeilin, Commandant U. S. Marine Corps, paid an official visit to the Navy Yard Marine Barracks on Thursday. The troops were paraded for review in full dress, commanded by Lieut. Henry J. Bishop, and made a most creditable appearance. Col. Zeilin, after inspecting this body of men and the garrison, left for Headquarters at Washington in the afternoon train of the same day.

☞ The Supposition that the ship Eagle Wing, Hickey, from Boston, had arrived at Bombay, is an error. The Bombay dispatch said Cabria W. was signed "Smith." It should have read Calvin W. Smith, who is the present agent of the Tudor Company in Bombay. The Eagle Wing was 195 days out, Aug. 25.

☞ Mr. Wendell will offer the public the usual varied assortment of goods at his auction rooms to-day. He also sells a brick dwelling on State street. See his advertisement.

☞ An excellent opportunity for a business man is offered in our advertising columns, by the agent of the Phenix Life Insurance Co., under the head of Wanted.

☞ The California Minstrels give their first concert at the Temple this evening, when all who wish to laugh will do well to be on hand.

☞ We learn that the keel of a new vessel is to be laid immediately at the shipyard of Mr. John Neal, Kittery Foreside.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

THE GREAT SEPTEMBER GALE occurred 50 years ago to-day, Sept. 23. Little damage was done in Portsmouth or in our harbor, but trees were blown down; and in many places on the coast, much property was destroyed, and some lives were lost.

☞ A big story is told of great amounts of diamonds, topaz, and other precious stores, found in the Mount Cenis Tunnel, by the workmen, one of whom was murdered by the others, &c. &c. It has a doubtful sound.

— Jeremiah Townsend, the cashier of the New Haven Savings Bank, who embezzled the funds, has been sentenced to seven years in the State Prison.

— The losses by the fire in Augusta are footed up in the Journal at $536,870; insurance $255,050. People are at work cleaning and piling up bricks, and re-building will begin at once.

—A man named Love has been arrested in Chicago, for having stolen bonds in his hands.

LINES

To the Clergyman who preached from the text,

"Jesus said, Let the dead bury their dead."

Strong heart and true! on sorrow's troubled deep
You walked with faith sublime as resignation;
And waiting not beside your dead to weep,
Spoke words of resignation.

No longer without knowledge of that pain
By which the soul grows larger and maturer,
Your heart, from murm'ring kept all unprofane,
Rose into language purer.

By unseen hands uplifted and sustained,
The might of Christ's divine confession feeling
In sure belief of love to be regained,
Your anguish changed to healing.

And, as you go to "weep with those that weep,"
Your soul will speak through its new consecration;
For He who "gives to His beloved sleep,"
Gives wine of consolation.

Oh friend! press onward to eternal heights;
God's ends are reached through human aspirations,—
And duties done are but the guiding lights
That lead us to translation.

Portland, Me., Sept. 22, 1865.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and navy, both East and W. Gulf, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fast, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

THE NATION:

A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.

This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of our political writing of the day is marred.

The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.

A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.

It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Cornell), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Tuckerman, Bayard Taylor, C. A. Bristed, C. L. Bruce, William Lloyd Garrison, James Parton, Gail Hamilton.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Calistis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my great gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUES,

Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in	15	minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30	"
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15	"

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented; the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Bendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SINGULAR CASE.—A Justice of Jersey City had a case before him which completely nonplussed the venerable Solon, and sent him to hunting up authorities and precedents therefor to no effect. A widow, "fair, fat and forty," applied for a warrant for the arrest of a gentleman who had made himself obnoxious to her by a long course of annoyance. The offender was an ardent suitor for her hand, but his affection was not reciprocated, a persistent refusal meeting every proposition of matrimony. The lady, however, was not unwilling to become the mother-in-law of the anxious lover, and proferred him the hand of either of her young and blooming daughters. Strange to say, this arrangement did not suit the suitor, and his importunities being continued, the widow was forced to try legal measures to keep him away. But the Justice was compelled to dismiss the complaint, and the unprotected female left the court in despair.

MAJOR-GENERAL F. C. Barlow, nominated by the Union Republicans of New York for their Secretary of State, has one of the most brilliant records of any General in the army. He was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 19, 1834, and is now, therefore, only about thirty-one years old. He graduated at Harvard College in 1855; studied law, and was in the practice of his profession in New York when the war broke out. He enlisted as a private in a regiment of "three months' men" from that State; rose to the rank of first lieutenant; was afterwards commissioned Lieutenant Colonel of the 61st New York, and was made Colonel during the siege of Yorktown. At Fair Oaks he was acting-brigadier. Throughout the Peninsular campaign he distinguished himself by his valor and conduct.

At Antietam he led his regiment with eminent bravery and success, and after capturing two stands of colors and 300 prisoners, was twice wounded and carried off the field for dead. He recovered in time to go through the campaigns of Chancellorsville and Gettysburg. On the first day of the latter battle he was again severely wounded. In Grant's campaigns with the army of the Potomac he commanded the most brilliant division of the most brilliant corps of the army, Hancock's. Towards the close of last year, while our forces were before Richmond, he was so exhausted by his wounds and labors that he obtained a furlough and went abroad for a few months. He returned in time to take part in the closing scenes of the war.

General Barlow combines, in an eminent degree, coolness with dash, the power to direct with the power to lead soldiers. His order to his regiment, brigade or division was ever "come on," not "go on." He has received wounds enough to kill ten men, but still lives to lead a political campaign which promises to be as sharply contested as any of the desperate military enterprises in which he has been engaged. He has in Massachusetts a large number of attached friends who will hear of his new distinction with special gratification.—Transcript.

WIFE AND SQUAWS,—I heard an anecdote of Kaffirland to-day, which, though perfectly irrelevant to our adventures here, is so amusing that I must record it, particularly as my informant vouched for its truth. At an outpost far up the country resided an officer and wife. The latter was warned by her husband not to venture alone far from the house; but one day, imprudently going beyond her usual limits, she encountered a wild-looking Kaffir, who took her by the hand, and would be moved by no entreaties to suffer her to depart. He made her sit down, and untying her bonnet, let down her long fair hair, at which he expressed rapturous admiration. He next took off her gloves, and appeared enchanted with her white hands; and then proceeded to divest her of her shoes and stockings, and wondered at her little white feet. The next morning the lady and her husband were awakened at an early hour by a chattering under their window; and on inquiring the cause of the disturbance, the gentleman was accosted by the hero of the previous day, who had been so impressed by the charms of our fair country woman, that he had come with twelve squaws, to make the liberal offer of exchanging them for the gentleman's wife, and was not a little surprised when his generous terms were refused!—Major Paget's "Camp and Cantonment."

☞ At Cape Cod, in consequence of late storms, the famous wreck of the "Nawset," has once more made its appearance in the very spot where it was deserted by "Mr. Fells and Mr. Sibrie" in 1626. Such is Cape Cod.

"Ever shifting, shifting, shifting,
With the drifting
Currents of the ocean main."

—Richmond papers contain the proceedings of the Episcopal Convention of Virginia. Bishop Johns earnestly recommends union with the Northern branch of the church. Considerable debate took place on a motion to appoint a committee on the subject.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1865.

IN THE WIRE TRIAL, on Friday, near the close of the session one of the witnesses testified to several murders committed by the prisoner, and identified him as the person who, riding up as he and another were carrying the corpse of a prisoner to the dead house, asked them by what authority they were there, and when answered—"By proper authority"—shot his comrade dead on the spot. The prisoner was directed to stand up, that he might be identified with more certainty, when he became excessively agitated, and after attempting in a stuttering and incoherent manner to address the witness and the Court, seemed about to sink down in convulsions, when the court was cleared and he was taken in charge by his physician.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has instructed his deputies to pay out no more $100 compound interest notes, and those now in circulation will be withdrawn as fast as they may be received in the ordinary course of business. By such a course it is hoped to prevent any considerable circulation of the dangerous counterfeits recently discovered.

☞ The Circus to-day will hardly be forgotten. We see it highly spoken of in our exchanges, and clip the following notice from a Concord paper:

Stone & Rosston's Circus, is the best that has been here for many years. Their horses are very superior, and their equestrian and gymnastic performances are wonderful indeed. Nothing equal to them has ever before been seen here. These, with the performing dogs and "comic mules," make up an exhibition that cannot fail to gratify all who are fond of such "shows," as we confess we are. There is no sham about this concern; it is all that it claims to be; and we commend it to the favor of the public wherever it may go.

THE STEAMER TRIAL.—The trial at the dock between the Algonquin and Winooski commenced in New York on Friday.—The fires were started in both vessels within a few minutes of each other, but the former got her engines at work an hour and twenty minutes before her rival. The Winooski expended 2500 pounds more coal than the Algonquin in raising steam.

☞ That best of juvenile Magazines, Our Young Folks, is received from the publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields.

GOLD, Saturday, 143 1-2.

— The merchants of Baltimore gave a grand banquet to the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows on Friday evening.

— An unknown man in the night train from the West, shot himself dead in a sleeping car near the Suspension Bridge on the 22d.

— The recent fires in the woods west of Kennebunk burnt from five to eight hundred acres of land, about two hundred of it covered with valuable growth.

— In some districts in London, a system of ventilation of sewers is now introduced. Powdered charcoal is suspended in sewer openings, which absorbs all noxious gas.

— Four prisoners broke from jail at Burlington, Tuesday night, by choking a turnkey who went in his rounds and seizing the keys. They are yet at large.

— Walter Brown of Portland, Me., challenges any man in New England to row a race of three or five miles in shell boats, to take place in Portland harbor in four weeks after the signing of the articles, for $250 or $500 a side.

— An unknown man, while trying to steal a ride on the top of one of the cars of the Shore Line, was so badly injured, probably while trying to sit up being struck by a bridge, on Thursday night, that he died when the train reached Fairhaven, Conn.

— The Tribune's dispatch says the President recently said to an eminent person that in the event of the reorganization of his Cabinet, he should not object to the selection of a thorough Southern man, believing that it would strengthen the general desire for conciliation.

— Mr. Jacob Stickney, of Newburyport, 21 years old, was performing his duty as measurer of charcoal on Friday. This is the 67th consecutive year in town office. He has been elected to various offices and taken the official oath 223 times. We have known persons to become intoxicated by undergoing what they termed "taking the oath" a much less number of times.

— Two men met with a fatal accident in an iron foundry, in Brooklyn, N. Y., on Monday afternoon. They were preparing to cast a bed-plate for a steamer, of about five hundred pounds weight. They carried the molten substance in ladles, the whole weighing some two hundred pounds. While passing along a scaffolding, the plank broke, and the men fell a distance of about five feet. The melted iron fell upon them, and they were so dreadfully injured that they died on Tuesday.

☞ There be those among newspaper publishers—and they are not few either—who so far distrust Advertising Agents, as to consider them rather an injury than a benefit to the profession. But we have always regarded good, fair, reliable Agents in the large cities, as friends and valuable helpers to the country press; and our dealings with such during the last six months must have amounted to at least a couple of thousand dollars, for out-of-town advertising. We have very much preferred to pay commission to such Agents as S. R. Niles of Boston, S. M. Pettengill & Co. of Boston and New York, John Hooper & Co. and Pease & Co. of New York, and Joy, Coe Co. of New York and Philadelphia, and perhaps a few others, rather than bother ourselves and our patrons in those cities with the details of each individual case. And then we have found it exceedingly convenient to be able to draw on them when we would, not only for money, but for many an article of more value because more needed and more useful, and which could not be procured here—and which we have always found them ready, able and willing to forward at the shortest notice, and selected most judiciously. No, no, don't say a word to us against a good Advertising Agency—for we always regard them as partners in business.

And besides the old and reliable standard houses above mentioned—whom we have tested to the length of a baker's dozen of years, and say a round twenty thousand dollars or more, and never found wanting—a new star has recently arisen among them; and one, too, which among the many unstable and meteoric new ones, which from time to time transiently flit and glimmer above the horizon, is at least eminently worthy to become one of the fixed luminaries of the press. We refer to Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co. of Boston, whom, after considerable business intercourse and varied experience with them, we have no hesitation in freely approving and endorsing, as entirely trustworthy and entitled to confidence—liberal in terms, courteous and pleasant, prompt in payment, and in every respect worthy of encouragement and patronage, by press and public.

☞ At the "First National Horse Fair," so called, at the Riverside Trotting Park, Boston, on Friday, in the trot for horses which had never trotted for money, three horses went for the purses of $75, $30, and $10—J. H. Ferguson & Co.'s brown mare Katy, of this city, H. H. Smith's stallion Duroc, and Wm. Woodruff's black mare Lady Bliss—mile heats, best 3 in 5. Lady Bliss won the race and first purse of $75; Katy second and winning $30; Duroc distanced on the first heat. Ferguson's horse drew the pole, but Woodruff took it immediately after the start; Mr. F. drove the first heat himself, another driver the second, and Mike Carroll the third, which was very handsomely done, and won by Lady Bliss by a mere half length, Katy's time thus being say 2:48,—which it is said she has beat before in 2:41. The time of the three heats was 2:45, 2:49 1-4, 2:47 1-2; and if Carroll had driven Katy from the first, we think her chance would have been much improved. Duroc show perhaps more speed than either, but when he broke he went all to pieces.

There was also a trot between three horses that had never beat three minutes—Woodruff's Lady Bliss again, Hon. Smith's blk. m. Jessie Wales, and George M. Patchen jr.,—mile heats, best 3 in 5. The Lady was tired with her first race, and Patchen took the first heat in 2:41, Jessie well up. It was a very pretty trot. Second heat won by Jessie, in 2:36 1-2; third, by the same, in 2:37 1-2; and the fourth ditto, time 2:38 1-4—giving Jessie the race. This promising young mare belongs to Geo. Wales of Concord, and he may well consider her a good one.

A running race, mile and repeat, made a good deal of sport—two of the three horses keeping so near together on the first heat that a single blanket would have covered both for most of the way, and the boy rider who won laid almost flat down on the neck of his horse all the way, and fairly lifted his animal by the bit at every step as they crossed the score. He was by far the lightest rider of the three, and a boy as small and smart as he on the other horses might have reversed the verdict. Especially was this the case with the veteran jockey Wm. Woodruff's mare, which he would ride himself at the last minute, because his boy didn't ride to suit him, and his overweight caused him to be badly beaten at the first heat; time of winner, 2:09 3-4.

There was also an extra brush trot of a mile between green horses, between beats; won by Frank Berry's Sneak in 2:46.

The second heat of the running race, Woodruff put the boy on his mare, and horse and rider both laid down to well their work, and came in second and took second money—time 2:13.

There was plenty of sport—the last trot for the day being a sweepstakes for $1000, in two purses of $750 and $250; best 3 in 5, mile heats—for which Frank Vernam, Sorrell Dan and Gen. McClellan went. Won by Vernam—Sorrell Dan taking second money—time 2:34 1-2, 2:35, 2:36 1-4

Local.

☞ Mr. Charles W. Babbitt, Carpenter, U. S. N., attached to this Navy Yard, died on Saturday morning, after a brief illness of one week. He was 53 years of age, and a most worthy and exemplary man. Flags were displayed at half-mast at the Navy Yard on Saturday in honor of the memory of the deceased. The funeral will take place from his house at the Yard on Monday, Sept. 25, at 4 o'clock P. M.—Officers of the Navy and Marine Corps, and friends of the deceased are respectfully invited to attend.

☞ On Friday evening fire was discovered in a barn belonging to Mr. George Swett of York, Me., and before any assistance could be procured it was entirely consumed. It contained about fifty tons of hay besides farming implements of various descriptions. It was a new building constructed at great expense. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

☞ Mr. J. W. K. Card has sold his line of omnibuses to Mr. C. H. Brown, an experienced driver, who will hereafter convey passengers between this city and Newcastle by this convenient method.

☞ Signor Ferdinand, the great aerial performer, who was reported killed in Vermont, is not dead, but will not make his appearance in connection with Stone & Rosston's Circus in our city to-day.

☞ The skillful and successful Dr. Campbell will commence his visits to Portsmouth, to-morrow. See his advertisements of all sorts.

☞ The last chance to hear Cotton and Murphy's Troupe is this evening. Lovers of comic opera can here find something to suit them. As "live" a troupe as we have seen for many a day, their performance on Saturday evening gave great satisfaction to a large audience. A duet for cornets was executed very finely.

THE NUPTIAL TIE has been described as a knot fixed with the tongue which the teeth cannot unloose. But the teeth themselves, if beautiful by the aid of Sozodont, are powerful agents in producing the fascination which leads to marriage. The charm, to which this delicious preparation lends to the breath, too, has a decidedly hymeneal tendency. White teeth and a pure breath! What heart can resist them? e25eod1w 8

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE
AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name "AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name "APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name "P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warrant ed in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near appeaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.," no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. Bartlett," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles called watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Agents for the American Watch Company,

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums. Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1326, New York City.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

ASSISTING THESE EFFORTS OF NATURE.

Local.

☞ On Sunday last, two men, father and son, named Woodward, taking a sail boat, left this city for the Shoals,—or the fishing grounds near by,—with the intention of spending the week in fishing. On Friday, their boat was on its beam ends just outside the harbor, and as no tidings can be obtained of the crew, it is supposed that both are drowned. A barrel of water which they carried away with them was found afloat near the boat, and it is conjectured that a sudden gust of wind shifted the water cask, which might have lain fore and aft, and thus capsized the boat.

The victims of the supposed disaster resided at the foot of Daniel street in this city, and both of them are represented to have been steady, quiet and respectable men. The father, James A. Woodward, was a sailmaker, and worked on the Navy Yard until two or three months ago. The son was a sailor, and has been in the U. S. service for the past three years.

POLICE COURT.—Here we are once more in the savory-smelling-seven-by-nine low-storied-unswept and ungarnished apartment where justice "hangs out," and where trangressors of the law receive their doom. But few spectators are present, and only two or three cases on the docket, and while waiting a few minutes for the court to open we look about us and scan the faces of those unfortunates who are here arraigned, and reflect that this is a huge world, and that there are a great many people who inhabit it, all of whom are not alike, but differ in character as much as in complexion or feature.

Daniel Mc Kannon is one of those who differ. Daniel enters this metropolitan village without any money, having, as he avers, walked all the way from Salem, Mass., with ten cents in his pants at the commencement of his journey hither and exhausted the whole of it on the route. Arriving here penniless, he casts about for means wherewith to strengthen the inner man and recuperate his wasted energies o'ertaxed by his pedestrian exercise,—which means that he wanted something to eat,—and so he calmly resolves to fabricate an untruthful story in relation to his circumstances, and after rehearsing his contemplated falsehood in quiet solitude by the wayside, he "takes his staff and travels on 'till he a tavern sees in view," and entering this hotel he informs the landlord or barkeeper thereof that he commanded a schooner that was wrecked, out of which he alone was saved,—saved without a cent to help him towards his home. The heart of the proprietor of the establishment was touched by his tale, and he performed the part of the good Samaritan towards Daniel by taking him to his house, giving him his supper, and offering him a lodging for the night, all of which being tearfully accepted. But D. proved himself an ingrate by arising in the night abstracting seven or eight dollars from the vest pocket of his benefactor and then leaving. This was alleged in the complaint, and after the testimony was rendered for the complainant, our shipwrecked mariner was asked if he wish to interrogate the witness. The tar, rising, answered that "he had just one question to ask and that was that he was just as innocent as the man in the moon or an unborn babe," (illustrations of extreme innocence the reader will perceive,) and that he concocted this lie that he told, out of the poorest motives! This question(?) not requiring an immediate answer was not considered, but McKannon was considered not guilty and ordered to be discharged.

Wm. Langdon, for an assault upon his daughter is fined $2 and costs, taxed at $5.04.

Mary A. Marden and Emma Langdon, for assault upon their father were fined $2 each and one-half the costs, $3-86.

These two cases seem to have grown out of a family tumult in which the father, enraged by strong drink, attacks his wife, and the daughters interfering, provokes a general row, in which all get punished, more or less. A sad sight indeed to behold a family arrayed one against the other, with murder in their looks and hatred in their hearts, fresh from a home of misery, ruin and disgrace, all brought about by the influence of rum. Once he was a man of property and respected by those who knew him.

"With wheat his field was covered o'er,
Plenty sat smiling at his door;"

But now how changed. A cheerless home, with its deserted rooms and barren walls, greets his bleared vision, and as he enters his abode the hollow sound of his footstep laughs mockingly at his every movement, and taunts him of by-gone days of happiness—days never again to return.

PORTSMOUTH BOOKS.—We learn that a new edition of 900 copies of Mr. J. H. Head's popular work, "Jewels from the Quarry of the Mind," is now in press and will be published for the holidays. Judging from the title page and vignette, which we have seen, the book will be very tastefully gotten up. Mr. Head's work on Tableaux has run through three editions, and is now a standard work on the subject of which it treats.

Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

From the Portsmouth Journal

GREAT GALE FIFTY YEARS AGO TO-DAY.

Saturday the 23d of Sept. 1815, is memorable in the recollection of our older inhabitants, as the day on which the wind was felt throughout New England with more tremendous force than has since been experienced, or had then been recollected by the oldest inhabitant. On Friday the 22d, with a north-east wind it rained copiously through the day. On Saturday morning the storm renewed—at 9 o'clock the wind blew strong from the east, at 11 it changed to the south east and the violence of the wind increased, until at 12 o'clock, when we left school in Church street, we entered the gale in its full fury. The spire of the old North Church swayed to and fro as it never did before nor since till the day it was taken down. Trees was prostrated in every direction, chimnies were blown down, and such boys as had a fair wind home, with a slight spring were borne along a yard or two before reaching the ground.

The tide rose very high clearing the wharves of lumber, overflowing the South bridge and running through Puddle Dock up to Pleasant street. The Washington 74 at the Navy Yard parted her cables, and the house in which she was built on the island was only saved by the roof being lashed down with ropes. The disasters were not so severe here as in many other places.

All fruit trees which stood the gale were completely cleared of their fruit. Boards and shingles might be seen flying through the air, and the besom of destruction appeared at the time to be sweeping over us. The rain was impregnated with salt, not only on the coast but also in the interior for twenty miles. Before 2 o'clock the wind subsided, and the storm was over. Much damage was done in almost every town on the coast. Boston and New York suffered much. In Providence the tide rose 12 feet higher than the spring tides, and about 500 buildings were destroyed in that town. It was a memorable day, and is as fresh in our recollection as the scenes of yesterday.

NATIONAL SYSTEM OF EDUCATION.—An extract on our first page makes reference to this important subject, which is engaging the attention of the friends of progress in our country. We have looked over "Some reasons for the immediate establishment of a National System of Education for the United States," by Charles Brooks of Medford. He goes very fully into the subject, showing its importance, practicability and necessity. He closes the seventh reason for a National System in the following language:

"The Anglo-Saxon blood, on this side of the globe, must faithfully educate and peaceably lead the other races. It is our destiny, and we must fulfil it. We must, therefore, establish a national system of free and universal culture upon the broadest basis of pure democratic republicanism; and then carry it into effect by the united wisdom and the resistless energy of a rich, powerful, intelligent, and Christian people.

Such a system, united to our thousand years of future growth, and nameless millions of inhabitants, will place us at the head of the nations, while it becomes the progressive agency, the conservative power, and the eternal blessing of our national life.

Let us neither delay nor falter. God has been with us; and if we are loyal to his cause of human improvement he will be with us still. We have taught the nations how to fly across the ocean by our steamboats, we have magnetized the world by our monitors; let us now educate the world by our free schools, free colleges, and free universities."

In a late number of the Portsmouth Journal, you make mention of a man having three sons in the army, and ask if any family can show a better record.

Mr. Robert G. Bly of Epping, lately deceased, had five sons in the army, viz: M. V. G. Bly, and Elbridge G. Bly in 2d N. H., Woodbury G. Bly, 83 N. H., James M. in 11th N. H., and Ass, in the 11th, who was killed in the battle of the Wilderness. M. V. G. was wounded in the first Bull Run battle, and he and Elbridge are veterans yet in the 2d N. H. Woodbury G. who was wounded four times, and James, were honorably discharged on return of their regiments, and all, but Ass, who had but just enlisted when Grant started for Richmond, were promoted, and were in all the battles in which their regiments were engaged, and served valiantly and truly.

If there is a better record of any family in New Hampshire, who are they? I cannot forbear to remark, that it somewhat singular, that the late William Bly worked most of his time for, and resided in a house belonging to Dr. Nat Batchelder.

PAUTUCKAWAY.

All the partially civilized tribes of Indians, Creeks, Cherokees, &c., removed from the Southern States to the territory set apart west of Arkansas, and who had forfeited their position by joining for the most part, in the rebellion, are to be pardoned and reinstated as before, by the Government. They had been deceived and cheated. A Convention of all the tribes has just been held and a new treaty been signed by the whole nine. They repudiate the past, and place themselves under the protection of the Union for the future. One condition is, the abolition of slavery, (for they had slaves,) and giving the blacks equal rights.

The Southern Methodists refuse, so far to re-unite with their Northern brethren, though the great body in Tennessee and the border Slave States are anxious for reconciliation. The pastoral address of the Southern Bishops of this State, charge that "a large portion, if not a majority of Northern Methodists, have become incurably radical, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men. They preach another gospel!" Let us, they say, "abide in our lot and be true to our calling, doing what we can to spread Scripture holiness through these lands, and oppose the tide of fanaticism." These Bishops are Andrew, Pierce and Paine. The fanaticism and heresy referred to, is nothing more nor less we believe, than the unity of Northern Methodists on the slave question.

The Government has been in correspondence with Dr. Smart, Surgeon at Fort Constitution, in relation to the accommodation of patients at that place, with a view to break up the Hospital at Manchester and transfer what few patients there may be to Fort Constitution. We hope all Hospitals will be broken up that can be properly, in order to curtail expenses.

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 20 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

A WILL BROKEN AND KEPT.—In New York city, according to Burleigh, some time ago a gentleman died and left, by will, a million of dollars to be given away—chiefly for the benefit of children, poor, neglected and outcast. His brother was the executor named in the will. About a dozen societies demanded the legacy, as their institutions came within the intent of the donor as expressed in the will. The litigants were so fierce that they threw the will into court, for the executor did not know what to do. The court broke the will, deciding that it was void. The whole estate came into the hands of the brother, who was the executor. He resolved to distribute the money according to the desire of his brother as really as if the will had been sustained. Already he had given away $750,000 among different institutions, and $150,000 to the News Boys Lodging Rooms of this city. He has the balance of the million to distribute, and claimants are as plenty as autumn leaves. It is a rare thing for a man, with a million of dollers in his hands, to give it away because a dead brother desired it to be done.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says the Salisbury gathering upon the beach on Wednesday exceeded any former year in numbers, not less than 15,000 and perhaps 20,000 persons being present. Nearly all of Salisbury was there, half of Amesbury, quarter part of Newburyport, a multitude from Seabrook, and hundreds of carriages from West Newbury, Newbury, Bradford, Haverhill, and the New Hampshire towns within twenty miles. The people were very orderly. The weather was fine—no better day could have been selected in the whole year, and all seemed to enjoy the huge picnic.

"A MISSISSIPPI RIFLEMAN" complains, through the columns of the Philadelphia Press of his Copperhead friends in that city who, during the rebellion were with him in sentiment, but absent from the field of danger where he risked his life against the Federal armies. After entreating these Southern sympathizers not to bother him with more professions of their friendship, he says:

During the sanguinary struggle, the South did not ask for idle sympathy; we wanted men, powder, arms, ammunition, provisions, clothing, dollars and cents. One man in the ranks, one woman in the sick ward, one dollar in the treasury, one charge of powder, or one yard of bandage was worth more than all the gas which has been let off by sneaking, cowardly men and women in the North who profess such friendship.

MR. C. A. DANA, the late Assistant Secretary of War, and now editor of the Chicago Republican, gives the following reason for the abuse heaped upon him by the New York World:

It was his lot while serving in the war office to be repeatedly applied to by the World, or by its representatives, for passes to admit correspondents and reporters of that journal to the different armies in the field; and he always refused them on account of the notoriously treasonable and disloyal character of The World. He accordingly recognizes the perfect right of that journal to abuse him with all the resources of its great invective faculty, and he trusts it will continue to exercise the privilege with all its might.

— The steamship Colorado, from San Francisco for Panama, on the 18th, took $1,350,000 in gold for New York, and $68,000 for England. The tide flows in the proper direction now.

— Seventy-two millions of dollars had accumulated in the U. S. Treasury on Wednesday last. This is the first time since the breaking out of the rebellion that there has been a surplus of public funds.

— Hydrophobia is prevailing to an alarming extent in Indianapolis. The Journal says about twenty persons have been bitten by mad dogs within a few days. A number of cases have proved fatal.

— Late reports to our Government, from Smyrna, report the cholera still on the increase and the mortality alarming. From Barcelona reports come that the cholera was raging there—the deaths on the 1st inst. reaching 42.

— The towboat Nimrod blew up at Pittsburg on Friday morning, killing the captain instantly. The fireman was blown ashore, receiving fatal injuries. The engineer, his wife and boy are missing, and supposed to be lost. Several others were seriously injured.

THE NATION:
A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.
This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred. The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.
A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.
It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Tuckerman, Bayard Taylor, C. A. Bristed, C. L. Brace, William Lloyd Garrison, James Parton, Gail Hamilton.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1865.

THE NEW DISPENSATION.—Burleigh gives us the following item from New York:

Religious service has been held in the Cooper Institute for several Sundays, and men from the South have been advertised to preach. The whole affair has been a mystery until recently. It now turns out to be a secession movement. New York is regarded as missionary ground, and these good Southern gentlemen have volunteered to enlighten the citizens of this city on religious matters. It is a queer movement, and Cooper Institute is a queer place for the demonstration.

There is no harm in this movement.—Let them send their missionaries, not only to New York, but to Boston, Portsmouth, and all northern cities.—In return, every religious sect will now have its missionaries all over the land, the bible may be distributed and children taught to read, without having the colporteur and teacher thrust into prison, as in the "good old times" over the loss of which some fossils are groaning.

THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.—The Commonwealth contains a statement made to its editor by an eminent Western Senator who has just passed through Washington, having had an interview with the President. Mr. Johnson assured the Senator he should submit the result of his effort at re-construction to Congress, which, as the judge of the qualification and election of its members, would have the whole question open to it. He would neither advise nor recommend any course to be pursued in the matter, but allow Congress to do as it thinks fit. The President further assured our informant that he believed there would be no occasion for a division among his supporters on the question of suffrage, but claimed that no party policy had been adopted for negro suffrage, and therefore it should not be urged upon him as a Republican measure.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Tribune's dispatch says the evidence in the boat-burners' trial shows that Jeff. Davis sent men to burn the great bridge near Nashville, and that Benjamin promised $400,000 for their services.

A new issue of fifty-cent currency will soon be made. The present issue has been too extensively counterfeited. The head of Treasurer Spinner will take the place of the figure of justice.

— Gen. Slocum has resigned his commission and is now en route for New York.

— Three tons of sharks were caught at Double Beach, New Haven, last week.

— Some irreverent person calls the knitting machine "a darned good invention."

— The movement to reduce the hours of labor in the mills at Woonsocket, R. I., to to eleven hours has been successful.

— It took a fast young man just five weeks to finish a fortune of $200,000 in Paris. He had the loretles to assist him.

— A farmer near St. Paul, Minn., raised 16,000 bushels of wheat on 500 acres, which he has contracted to deliver at $1 per bushel.

— A newspaper correspondent writes that the inhabitants of Oil City "resemble be lower class of scare crows under the influence of a powerful galvanic battery."

— Out of 22,770 destitutes fed by the Freedmen's Bureau at Sheridan, Miss., but 770 are negroes. Similar comparisons are recorded of many other neigborhoods South.

— The corn crop is so promising in Southwestern Virginia that farmers have engaged to sell it for twenty-five cents per bushel. Harvesting is now going on successfully.

— A new oyster bed, said to be from three to five miles in extent, has just been discovered at Stamford, Ct. The Stamfordites are in a great state of excitement about the matter. We incline to the belief that the oysters are likely to get the most stirred up by the discovery.

— In Stratford, Conn., a colored man named "John" while attempting to climb over a fence, Saturday, dragging a loaded gun after him, was shot in the neck by its discharge. He was severely but not dangerously wounded. A great many persons in this vicinity have been dangerously injured by being "shot in the neck."

— The Alabama State Convention passed an ordinance abolishing slavery, by a vote of eighty-nine to three. The ordinance abrogates all previous relations of the slaves, protects the person and property of freedmen, and guards the State against the evils likely to arise from sudden emancipation. The Convention also passed an ordinance dividing the State into Congressional districts.

— Italian papers announce the death of Theresa Kossuth, wife of the famous Hungarian poet, at Turin, on the 1st inst. She was fifty-five years of age. Her remains are to be sent to Genoa for interment, by the side of her only daughter, who died a few years ago. This loss leaves the Ex-Dictator of Hungary almost alone of his family, with which death has been busy for some time past.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— N. W. Farwell, Esq. of Lewiston, Me., has leased the Great Falls Bleachery and has already put it in operation.

—— Mrs. J. Bowen was severely injured on the 17th inst., by being thrown from a carriage into a hole in front of Mr. George Post's store, in Lebanon. It is feared her hip bone is broken. Rather a poor place to have a Post-hole.

—— The Court in Session at Nashua adjourned on Wednesday to attend the funeral of Hon. Mark Farley, a venerable member of the Bar, who died at the residence of his son, in Lunenburg, Mass., at the age of 84. His remains were brought to Hollis, the place of his former residence, where the funeral services took place.

—— Mr. David Long of Candia, dropped down dead very suddenly on Sunday morning, 17th inst. He arose about three o'clock and looked to see what time it was by the clock, when he suddenly fell and expired. He was nearly 70 years of age.—It is supposed he died of heart disease.

—— Miss Sarah Lane, of Candia, died suddenly at the McLean Lyceum at Somerville, Mass., on Sunday, while sitting at breakfast. She had been employed in the Asylum 40 years. She was 70 years old.

DAVIS FROM A SOUTHERN POINT OF VIEW.—The Oct. number of Harper's Magazine, has a long article, written by Gen. Jordan, Chief of Staff to Gen. Beauregard, severely criticising Jeff. Davis's capacity to conduct the rebellion he was so eager to inaugurate. The obstinate perseverance of Davis in error, against the evidence of facts plain to those around him,—the favoritism he exercised both in the appointment of civil and military officers,—his lack of those qualities the supposed possession of which raised him to the head of the confederate government,—are statements supported by Gen. Jordan with great apparent candor and profuse reference to campaigns and battles.

The puffers of Davis compared him to Washington. Gen. Jordan finds in him more resemblance to James II. and George III; and certainly the cause of which he is bigoted, if incompetent, advocate was worse than that of which either of those monarchs was the champion.

A NEW VERSION OF "ENOCH ARDEN." The St. Louis Republican relates a singular incident which lately occurred at Carondelet, Mo. A Mr. G., four years ago, went away to the wars with Gen. Price, leaving a wife and two children. Hearing nothing from her husband, the woman, after a time, yielded to the sympathy and love of a neighbor, a Mr. Turner, and married him. Fresh olive buds were added to the family wreath, and everything went on smoothly. On Monday last, however, the original Mr. G. entered the domicile of the happy Mr. and Mrs. Turner. After the first surprise was over the three calmly seated themselves to consider the anomalous position of the parties toward each other. After a full exposition of their sentiments the two men started down the street, leaving the lady of their desires to make her decision uninfluenced by either. When the two returned the lady announced that she had chosen to cling to her last love. Mr. G., though evidently disappointed, acquiesced, only claiming his children as blood of his blood. This claim could not be controverted, and the father and children quietly and sadly bade adieu to the woman they had known as wife and mother and departed for the South.

FENIANS FLOCKING TO IRELAND.—The Cork correspondent of Saunders' News Letter writes that since the termination of the American war, every steamship which arrives off Cork harbor on her homeward voyage from New York and Boston, lands on these shores large numbers of young men who had served in the Republican army, all of whom carry on their persons revolvers, pistols, rifled guns, daggers, and and short swords, which they openly expose in their perambulations through the city. These arrivals are ever ready to intrude their conversation on all whom they chance to meet, boasting of the preparations making in America by the Fenian Brotherhood for the invasion of Ireland. This fact is well known at Dublin Castle, and astonishment is expressed that active measures are not adopted to check the spread of the evil.

— It is said an official investigation of the accounts of Dr. Dorsey, late Treasurer of Ohio, shows that he had not embezzled a single dollar.

— The coal dealers of Boston made another rise in the price on Friday. The fact is the dealers "raise" it a great deal faster than the miners can.

— S. Woodmansee, of Lisbon, Conn., planted some common field corn on the 6th of June, that in 72 days grew to a height of 160 inches.

— One of the handsomest ladies in Winstead, Conn., is the mother of ten children, though but 32 years old. So says the Herald of that place. "Handsome is that handsome does."

— A calculus, or stone, an inch in diameter, was taken from the bladder of a boy, six years old, in New Britain, Conn., a few days since.

Local.

☞ The energy with which government employees pursue their various avocations is proverbial. At the concert by the California Minstrels, the other evening, a conundrum was proposed to Bones, viz: "Wy are tall people the laziest in the world?" The answer was—"Because they lie longer in bed than any others;" but Bones declared he knew a great many people "a heap lazier dan dat," and on being asked who they were replied—"Them fellersober here on de Navy Yard," a bit that told. It reminded us of a little incident we heard a while ago. On one of the intensly hot days toward the end of the drouth, quite a number of clerks were gathered in one of the offices at the Yard. The weather was such that all a man could be expected to do was draw his breath—and salary. The gentlemen who usually devote their talents to the service of Uncle Sam, now devoted them to keeping comfortable. Suddenly a noise was heard in the yard, outside the building, invading the almost perfect quiet that had reigned. Roused from a soporific state, one of the party inquired rather indignantly, "What's that noise?" to which a ready reply was returned: "Oh, that's some greenhorn at work!" and serious thoughts were entertained of procuring the discharge of a man who could so grossly infringe the rules of propriety as to work, but as that involved the necessity that some one should go forth and discover who the offender was, he escaped.

☞ The elegant Weather Vanes advertised by Messrs. Jewell & Co., of Waltham, are beyond question the best articles of the sort made in the country—the manufacturer confining himself exclusively to this branch of art, (and while his work shows him to be a skillful mechanic, his original designs or copies from life, prove him no mean artist,) and having had long and large experience in making and putting up Vanes.

☞ The original Raynor Christie Minstrels, who have been on a very successful Canadian tour since they were last here, open their budget of music and mirth at the Temple this evening.

☞ Among the patents issued for the week ending Sept. 19, was one to Henry Remick, of this city, for barber's chair and stool.

☞ Dr. Campbell may be found at the Franklin House to-day, for consultation by the sick. See his advertisements.

☞ Harper, for October, comes to us with its usual great variety of useful and entertaining reading. This number contains three illustrated articles. The article on Jeff. Davis, referred to elsewhere, is one of great interest. For sale by Messrs. A. Williams & Co., Boston, and J. H. Foster, in this city.

☞ We have received a printed copy of the Journal of proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of this State at their late annual session in Manchester.

— An ingenious Frenchman has made a mosaic composed of insects. It contains more than 45,000 beetles, besides big and little bugs of various hues.

— The manager of the Chestnut Street Theatre announces that Josephine Orton receives the largest salary ever paid to any to any stock actress in Philadelphia.

— The Charleston News of the 16th says: "The thermometer in our office has been standing so long at ninety degrees, and at present there is so little danger of its falling, that we have drawn the nail by which it was suspended."

— John C. Crowley, a refugee from Virginia on account of his loyalty, and who passed a portion of his time during the rebellion in Pittsfield, Mass., supporting himself by working as a tailor, and by the sale of some jewels, the relics of his former wealth, is now running for Congress in the Richmond, Va., district.

— Burley, the Lake pirate, made his escape from the Sandusky jail last week. All the doors were found unlocked. He left a note in his cell, saying he had gone out for a walk, and perhaps would return shortly. This is said to be likely, as the authorities have got a clue to his retreat.

— A letter from Fernandina, Fla., to the Savannah Herald says that the notorious Finnegan had returned, and was sorry he ever went into the rebellion. Freedmen are the most numerous population at Fernandina. They are industrious, orderly, temperate and frugal. Times are hard there, and rents higher than in New York. There is a great monopoly in groceries, provisions and dry goods.

— A dispatch from Shreveport, Louisiana, says:—"The Provost Marshal of the Freedmen has arrested the Judge, Sheriff, District Attorney and Jury of the 10th Judicial District, for trying a negro on a charge of larceny. The Superintendent of Freedmen says the jurisdiction over negroes during the existing interpretation of the civil law, belongs exclusively to his bureau. The Judge gives notice of an appeal."

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The First has the name

"AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name

"APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name

"P. S. BARTLEIT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near appeaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm. Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. BARTLEY," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcana Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

ROBBINS & APPLETON,

Agents for the American Watch Company.

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the disease arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address J. A. DURNO, P. O. Box 1255, New York City.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding party or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply

ASSISTING THESE EFFORTS OF NATURE.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.—Dr. Campbell, the very successful practitioner in diseases of the head, ears and throat, arrived in Portsmouth yesterday, and is now prepared to receive patients at the Franklin House. The Doctor has left behind him in Manchester a most favorable impression, as the subjoined, clipped from the columns of the Daily Union of the 28th inst., plainly indicates:

"The most convincing testimony in proof of the Doctor's great success here and elsewhere, is that given by the patients he has cured, after other eminent practitioners had given them up, or pronounced them incurable. Numbers in and about this city are now rejoicing in the regained blessing of good hearing, while others are congratulating themselves on the substantial benefits received from Dr. C. for Catarrh and other kindred affections of the throat. To the residents of places where the Doctor may in future visit, we cordially recommend him, feeling assured that during his stay among them he will appear in the light of a public benefactor."

LYCEUM.—At a meeting of the Citizens' Lyceum Association on Saturday evening last, the following gentlemen were chosen officers for the ensuing year:

A. M. Payson, President.
James H. Head, Corresponding Sec'y.
E. P. Kimball, Treasurer.
A. C. Hoyt, Recording Sec'y.
C. A. Shannon, F. W. Miller, E. A. Joy, Executive Committee.

It is intended that this, the third course, will equal if not surpass the last two series of lectures. No pains has been spared by the Corresponding Secretary to engage the first talent in the country. Each lecture will be preceded by a Musical Entertainment, either vocal or instrumental, and with the new Temple and its increased number of seats, the Lyceum this season cannot fail to be as popular as ever with the public. The first Lecture, by John B. Gough, will be Oct. 23.

☞ Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. Brown, who appears with his well-known Dramatic Troupe, on Friday and Saturday evenings. Mr. Brown is now on his third annual tour. His reputation as manager and comedian is well known. This season he succeeded in securing a sterling company of dramatic artists, who will compare favorably in talent with most of our leading Metropolitan theatres. G. W. Pike, whose troupe was burned out by the great fire in Augusta, is now agent for this troupe, and is putting up some mammoth posters on the great bill-board near the North Church, such as no theatrical company ever displayed here before.

SOMETHING NEW.—We call attention to the advertisement of the Duplex Elliptic or double Spring Skirt. Though a recent invention, it has become very popular, and is rapidly obtaining the preference over other kinds in use. The rods in it are composed each of two delicate and well-tempered steel springs, which are ingeniously braided together edge to edge, the lower rods heavier, and having a double covering. This peculiarity of construction makes this skirt very durable, and so exceedingly flexible that it readily adapts itself to the form of the wearer, and allows of any amount of doubling and twisting without injury to its shape. These skirts are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical ever made. These are advantages which ladies, who have experienced the discomfort and inconvenience of single springs, will duly appreciate.

☞ The following appointments by brevet in the regular army have been made by the President since the publication of General Orders, No. 97, of May 26, 1865. We select from General Orders No. 133, such as have a local interest to our readers:

Major General by Brevet—Brig. Gen. Joseph Hooker, for gallant and meritorious services during the war, to date from March 13, 1865.

Brigadier Generals by Brevet—Brevet Cols. Henry W. Benham and John G. Foster, for gallant and meritorious services during the war, to date from Mar. 13, 1865.

POLICE COURT, Sept. 25.—Denis Kane, drunkenness, fined $5, and costs $4.86. His wife, whom he assaulted, with a levity common to her sex, paid his fine, and thus prevented the burly Denis from rendering the city a month's service at the Farm.

☞ The schooner T. A. Ward was sold at auction at the Navy Yard, on Monday, to Mr. Samuel C. Cobb of Boston, Mass., for the sum of $12,600. The steamers Monticello and Dawn were bid in at $40,500 and $18,000 respectively.

☞ A gross typographical error made us say Signor Ferdinand would not appear in our city, but he did appear in his daring and unexcelled feats; and the inside show of Rosston & Stone's great Circus also appeared like what it is, the best thing of the kind that has been here for years.

— A St. Albans (Vt.) correspondent denies the statement that the Canadian authorities restored to the banks of that place the money stolen by the rebel raiders.

GOLD, Monday, 143 1-2.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1865-6.

The Great Invention of the Age in

HOOP SKIRTS.

J. W. BRADLEY'S New Patent DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (or double) SPRING SKIRT.

THIS INVENTION consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Pure Refined Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most flexible, elastic and durable Spring ever used. They seldom bend or break, like the Single Springs, and consequently preserve their perfect and beautiful Shape more than twice as long as any Single Spring Skirt that ever has or can be made.

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any Lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced in all crowded Assemblies, Operas, Carriages, Railroad Cars, Church Pews, Arm Chairs, for Promenade and House Dress, as the Skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small space as easily and conveniently as a Silk or Muslin Dress.

A Lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Steel Spring Skirt for a single day will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For Children, Misses and Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

THE HOOPS are covered with 2-ply double twisted thread and will wear twice as long as the Single yarn covering which is used on all Single Steel Hoop Skirts. The three bottom rods on every Skirt are also Double Steel, and twice or double covered to prevent the covering from wearing off the rods when dragging down stairs, stone steps, &c., which they are constantly subject to when in use.

All are made of the new and elegant Corded Tapes, and are the best quality in every part, giving to the wearer the most graceful and perfect Shape possible, and are unquestionably the lightest, most desirable, comfortable and economical Skirt ever made.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. "Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The small pox prevails to some extent in Nashua.

—— The Veteran Artillery Association of Newburyport go to Concord this year for their annual excursion.

—— The damage resulting from the fires in the woodland on the Concord "Plains" last week, is estimate $15,000 to $20,000.

—— In the Concord Police Court, on Wednesday, John Wall was fined $50 and costs for keeping liquor for sale in a den called the Star Saloon, much frequented by soldiers, who had better be discharged.

—— Rt. Rev. Bishop Bacon, (Catholic) of Portland, on Sunday, 17th, bestowed the rite of confirmation on two hundred people, old and young, in Nashua. He also confirmed a large number in Lebanon on Wednesday.

—— Messrs. Dodge, Davis & Williams of Enfield, found 60 pounds of limestone rocks packed in the middle of a bale of cotton which they had recently purchased for their mill. At 50 cents per pound they think they prefer to furnish their rocks, as long as there are plenty of them thereabouts.

—— A fellow drove up to West Lebanon on Wednesday night with a nice horse and buggy, which he tried to pawn for $150. He was arrested on suspicion, and it was found he had stolen the team from Northfield, Vt. He was properly cared for.

SINGULAR ARREST.—Col. Guernsey, of the 26th N. Y. colored regiment, appears to be a man of discrimination and decision. He was tried before the Court of Sessions at New York on Wednesday for assaulting and placing in confinement the captain of the steamer Massasoit, while that vessel was proceeding from Hart's Island to that city with the regiment on board. It appears that a United States Paymaster with $40,000 was on board, and the Colonel, knowing there were thieves and pickpockets on the steamer, believed the captain was in league with them, and therefore arrested him and took possession of the boat. The court held that he was justified in doing as he did.

— A large number of colored people assembled on a bridge at Norfolk, Va., on Tuesday last, to witness a baptism. The bridge gave way, and many of the spectators suffered an involuntary immersion

— It is stated that the owner of the stallion "Fearnaught," who gave the challenge to trot against any horse in New England, has backed down since the offer of Mr. Shaw, the owner of McClellan, to accept the challenge.

— Great excitement has prevailed for some time at Jersey City concerning St. Boniface Church, which was believed to be haunted. Dismal groans and unearthly shrieks had driven away all explorers of the mystery until a few nights ago, when three determined individuals entered the church, notwithstanding the fearful noises, and soon discovered that the ghost was a dog belonging near by. The building being unfinished he had easily gained admission, and by his midnight howling scared the whole neighborhood.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not unmeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. At THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!
TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen,
I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to AGAIN to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

I feel for our five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicly, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,
I am very respectfully yours,

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.
Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Shea, and others.

— "Sir," asked a newly-fledged legislator of a fellow passenger on the Hudson river railroad, "are you going to the Legislature?" "No, thank God! not so bad as that. I'm going to the State prison!"

— An association has been formed in Indiana, for the purpose of introducing the Cashmere goat into this country. Sixteen of these animals have already been imported, under the auspices of the society.

— In Fall River, recently, Rev. Eli Thurston for a marriage fee received the extinguishment of a $2500 mortgage upon his homestead. We should call that one of the golden bonds of matrimony.

— In Louisana, families who before the war rolled in wealth and luxuries, having horses and carraiges and plenty of servants, now ride about in carts drawn by mules. The ladies do their own work—spin, weave and cook—and are better for it, no doubt — An eel three feet ten inches long, and weighing eight pounds, found its way, a few days since, through the waterpipe of the Lewiston (Me.) Mills Dye-House, and into the great boiling tank within. Not liking his "pent-up Utica," he flapped himself out of the tank upon the floor, was confiscated and skinned.

— To show the gigantic scale on which the war supplies were obtained, there remains on hand in one item 1,500,000 pairs of new shoes. The Quartermaster's Department have already sold 89,000 horses and mules, which have produced upward of six million dollars.

— Joseph R. Anderson, of the Richmond Tredegar Iron Works, who was pardoned on Wednesday last, has lost $1,200,000 by confiscation, damage to property and worthless rebel securities, of which he is the holder to the amount of a million of dollars and would seem to have been punished pretty severely in a pecuniary respect.

— An ancient colored gentlewoman in Chattanooga, ascertaining where the Freedmen's Bureau was kept, called in the other day and astonished the clerk by her confidential disclosure, to wit: "I have come for my bureau; now give me a pretty large one, with a glass top. I have a wash-stand at home, but it is too small to put my fixins in."

— An investigation by the Russian government shows that the frequent and terrible fires which have desolated large districts in Russia, destroying hundreds of villages and turning thousands of people out of their homes, were caused by Polish plotters, who incited "all true patriots" to lay waste the enemy's property. Women were employed in some of these incendiary deeds.

THE NATION:
A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.
This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred. The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.
A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.
It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1866.

VIRGINIA.—The military authorities of Richmond have ordered the jurisdiction of the Court of Conciliation of that city to be extended over the whole State of Virginia, in order to enable them to hear and render judgment in suits brought by loyal owners to recover possession of property confiscated by the rebel government

At a meeting in Richmond Saturday evening, Mr. Pendleton, one of the Congressional candidates who cannot swallow the test oath, said he thought it was wretched policy on the part of the outside States, as their existence depends upon an early admission to the inside, to send to Washington a delegation whose chief qualification consisted in a readiness to submit to any terms a conqueror may impose. To submit is not the right word. That is inevitable perhaps; but to court and solicit a continuation of a policy which excludes from the National Legislature almost every man who has really any qualification for such a place at any time, and especially at such a time as this, is wretched policy

[Poor Pendleton!—how fitly he represents the F. F. V. (foremost fools of Virginia,) who plunged into rebellion because the coal drivers bullied their convention into it. And now the poor fool expects to bully the U. S. Congress into receiving rebels not even reconstructed. Well: let 'em wriggle, we can stand it if they can.]

COPPERHEAD CONVENTION. — In New York City, Sept. 25, a meeting of the State Rights men was held at the Cooper Institute. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the Democratic nomination and platform as absolving them from all obligations to support the party ticket; proclaiming themselves for the Constitution as it is and the Union as it was, and affirming that all executive proclamations and decrees affecting the rights of States are unconstitutional, null and void, &c. The nomination of a State ticket was left to the decision of a committee. Thirty or thirty-five Assembly districts are said to have been represented.

☞ The London Times advises the British Government to assist in the capture of the pirate Shenandoah. That duty, however, seems to have already begun, for the Panama Star of the 16th inst. says that as soon as the dispatch reached Acapulco giving news of the destruction of American whalers by the rebel pirate Shenandoah, the commander of the English war steamer Devastation, then lying in the harbor, sought an interview with Capt. G. P. Scott, of the U. S. steamer Saranac, and informed him that he should set sail immediately with the Devastation in pursuit of the Shenandoah, and should treat the rebel cruiser as a pirate, and capture her wherever she might be found. He was as good as his word, and left the port as soon as his ship could be got under way.

NORTH CAROLINA.—A dispatch from Gov. Holden states that the returns show a sweeping triumph of the Unionists in every part of the State.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Gov. Perry has issued a proclamation ordering commanders of sub-districts and all officers serving within the military district of Charleston to assist in organizing the militia as a home police under commanders of the U. S. troops, for the preservation of order and the arrest of lawless characters. Each member of the militia is required to take the oath of allegiance.—The Convention has refused to allow negroes to form part of the basis of representation.

ALABAMA.—The ordnance declaring the act of secession null and void was unanimously adopted by the Alabama State Convention on the 25th, after having been debated all day. The Convention adopted the ordinance for the abolition of slavery with only three dissenting voices.

GOLD, Tuesday, 143 1-2.

— The Lawrence American says that on Friday morning the body of a man, recently deceased, was found in the woods near the Air-line road, in that city, and has been identified as that of Joseph Bell, a returned soldier belonging in Andover.

— There has been great disturbance at the Davenport brothers' seance in Paris The brothers were loudly hissed. The police cleared the room and returned the entrance money. One of the spectators discovered their secret.

— A railroad train which left Washington Monday afternoon for Richmond came in collision with another train near Alexandria. No one was killed, but a conductor named Stayne had both of his legs broken. No one else was seriously injured.

— The National Bank of Concord, Mass., was entered at dinner time on Monday, and robbed of about $300,000 in bonds and bills. About $50,000 of them belonged to the bank,—the rest to depositors. $20,000 reward is offered for the money and thief.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.

The various agricultural and other societies are now holding their fairs and exhibitions throughout the New England States. The Massachusetts Horticultural Society held their annual exhibition in their new hall on Tremont street last week, and the show of fruit was quite as good as in former years. The contributors are the same from year to year, and do not seem to obtain any new recruits for their ranks. Chas. M. Hovey, Marshall P. Wilder and a few others always carry off the prizes. This display of fruit is a good thing for the society, as the exhibition halls are full from the commencement to the close of the show.

The fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association commenced last Wednesday in Faneuil and Quincy Halls, and has been crowded with visitors ever since. This exhibition is of course superior to any thing of the kind before attempted, but it does not come up to the expectations of the people. The reason for this is that, notwithstanding the great strides made by inventors and mechanics during the war, the manufacturers have not the time to spare from their legitimate business to make up suitable articles for exhibition. Take the show of furniture for instance. Neither Paul & Co., Hixon & Co., Croome & Co., Ware & Co., or Lawrence, Wilde & Hull have a thing on exhibition. Now these above named firms are the leading houses of Boston in their particular line, and they have no time in this busy season to prepare anything suitable. Messrs. Beal & Hooper who also claim a position among the "first class" houses, have somehow managed, notwithstanding they are driven with work more than ever before, to make a very creditable display of furniture. John A. Ellis of Cambridge has two elegant mantels in walnut, and Drummond & Pritchard contribute a beautiful sideboard. Beyond this there is no display of furniture of any consequence. Lawrence, Wilde & Hull got partially ready a parlor suit in crimson brocatelle, valued at $700, and two mantel mirrors valued at $350 each, but they could not finish them in season. I forgot to mention that Mr. Rinn had a splendid walnut cabinet on exhibition. The other branches of trade were better represented, but do not come up to what was expected. The fair is a success, nevertheless, and will be until its close.

The National Horse Fair at the Riverside park has also attracted much attention, and many visitors, among whom were Ex-President Pierce, Gov. Smyth of N. H., Hon. Henry Wilson and others of less note. Among the horse men who entered their favorites is Mr. Henry H. Smith of New Market. He brought forward the "Jessie Wales," but "Artemus Ward" proved too much for her. Henry received the second premium of $25.

The large iron clad "Quinsigamond," to which your correspondent "Ion" alluded in a recent letter, is one of four vessels building at the Navy Yards, which are each of 3130 tons burthen. They are the "Passaconaway" at Portsmouth, Kalamazoo at New York, Shakamaxon at Philadelphia, and Quinsigamond at Charlestown.

Boston insurance offices suffered severely in the loss of the steamer "Shooting Star," which was wrecked between New Orleans and Galveston on the night of Sept. 6. The total amount insured here was $95,000, divided as follows:—Manufacturer's office, $10,000; Boylston, $12,500; Washington, $10,000; Neptune, $7500; Boston, $7500; Mercantile Marine, $8500; and China, $12,500.

Messrs. Buckley and Bancroft, furniture dealers, who were recently burned out of their warerooms over the Worcester depot, have leased the large hall over the Boston and Maine depot in Haymarket square.

Henry N. Hooper, Esq., one of Boston's most upright citizens, and at one time the President of the Mechanic Association, died in Roxbury last Tuesday.

A man who registered his name as Jos. McClashan in the book of the Webster House at half past two last Tuesday morning, and who was shown to a room in the third story, was discovered soon after, lying on the pavement, dead. He had probably fallen from the window in his sleep.

Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War, was in Boston last week, the guest of Congressman Hooper. L.

— Some fellow has written a letter to the Dublin Freeman, saying that Wm. H. Seward is the leader of the Fenian movement, and that the object is to conquer Canada and divide its territory among the Irish. And the editor of the Freeman is such a goose as to publish the stuff.

— Attorney-General Speed has decided that the rebel naval officers did not loose their citizenship by becoming traitors. Of course they became liable to suffer the pains and penalties which the law inflicts upon convicted traitors, but forfeiture of citizenship is not one of those pains and penalties. Belonging as they do to certain classes not pardoned by the President, they are liable at any time to be tried, convicted, and punished for treason.

GEN. HOWARD, Chief of the Freedmen's Bureau, has received an interesting report from Col. Thomas, Assistant Commissioner of Mississippi, in relation to freedmen's affairs in that State. He reports that 81 plantations, embracing 13,500 acres, are leased by freedmen in the States of Louisiana and Mississippi, while 120 plantations, consisting of 52,500 acres, are leased by loyal whites. About one-half the lands leased to white lessees has been abandoned, owing to the overflow of the Mississippi. In his report, Col. Thomas says:

A pressure is being brought to bear by returning citizens of all classes to get possession of their property. They are constantly writing letters to the President and the heads of the different bureaus at Washington, filled with all kinds of misrepresentations, in order to effect their purpose.

I have made no attempt to distribute lands in small lots to negroes, as I know it will meet with strong opposition from all parties. It will require a hero to execute it, and a military force to protect the freedmen during the term of their lease.

He believes he will yet find it necessary to withdraw many of his officers, for want of military protection, so averse are the planters to conforming to the free labor system.

"The organization of the militia in this State has created a greater panic among freedmen than any action of the Federal or late Confederate authorities. It will do more to disturb the relation of the freedmen to the whites of the State than anything which has yet been done. If the militia is organized as foreshadowed by the Governor's proclamation and endorsed by the President of the United States, I have no idea that the freedmen will remain quiet laborers in the cotton fields. They are excited and partially armed. They have some idea of what war is. They certainly know all about slavery, and have no idea of returning to any such condition. That collisions will occur—that a disturbed state of society will be the result—there is no question. The hope of organizing the labor of the State in such a way that the freedmen will return to the fields and assist in recruiting the agricultural wealth of the State as free laborers, seems to vanish with the promulgation of this militia order. I hear but little trouble between the freedmen and their employers. Nearly all the colored people of the State working on plantations have been contracted with, and employers are anxious to make contracts for the year 1866, for fear labor will be hard to get at the beginning of the season."

VIRGINIA F. F.'s.—We find the following in the Washington correspondence of the Muncie (Ind.) Times. This illustration of Virginia needs no comment. The facts stated, it is said, are strictly true, and of public notoriety at Washington:

Charlie Syphax, a colored man, having a considerable quantity of white blood in his veins, is a man of intelligence and excellent character, and is messenger to Secretary Harlan. It also happens that this colored man is a half brother to Mrs. Gen. Robert E. Lee, and grandson of George Washington Parke Custis, who was a stepson of George Washington! That is quite a pedigree, is it not? There are seven other men of the same patronage, all brothers, two of whom have been employees of the Interior Department for a number of years. It is also asserted as a well known fact, that Mrs. General Lee has in all some forty half-brothers and sisters of the same sort in and around that city.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S ADVICE. — In pardoning a distinguished Southerner the other day, the Post's Washington dispatch says:

The President told them to go home and urge the election of men to Congress, who will take the oath prescribed by law. It was of no use, the President said, to send those to Congress, who would not take the oath.

THE FIGURE OF JUSTICK.—The telegraph says that in the new issue of fifty-cent currency, the head of Treasurer Spinner will take the place of the figure of Justice, because the latter has been extensively counterfeited. We trust (says the Transcript) that this will be succeeded by the calling of new Conventions at the South, for in those now sitting the figure of Justice has been counterfeited byond all precedent.

— The Fenian Brotherhood is said to be getting so strong in Cork that that city will soon be withdrawn from British control. The only difficulty in the way is the want of a corkscrew, says the N. Y. Saturday Press.

— A letter from St. Paul, Minn., 15th inst., says the harvest is ended, and the granaries are overflowing with the golden grain. Taking the State through, the crop of wheat is larger than ever known before, the average yield being at least 25 bushels to the acre, and by many claimed to be 30.

Special Notices.

CAUTION FROM THE

AMERICAN WATCH COM'Y.

It having come to our knowledge that imitations of the American Watch have been put upon the market in great number, calculated by their utter worthlessness to injure the reputation of our genuine products, to protect our own interests and the public from imposition, we again publish the trade marks by which our Watches may invariably be known.

We manufacture four styles of Watches.

The FIRST has the name

"AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The SECOND has the name

"APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

The THIRD has the name

"P. S. BARTLETT, Waltham, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate.

All the above styles have the name American Watch Co. painted on the dial, and are warranted in every respect.

The FOURTH has the name "WM. ELLERY Boston, Mass.," engraved on the inside plate, and is not named on the dial.

All the above described Watches are made of various sizes, and are sold in gold or silver cases as may be required.

It is hardly possible for us to accurately describe the numerous imitations to which we have alluded. They are usually inscribed with names so near appoaching our own as to escape the observation of the unaccustomed buyer. Some are represented as made by the "Union Watch Co., of Boston, Mass.,"—no such company existing. Some are named the "Soldier's Watch," to be sold as our Fourth or Wm Ellery style, usually known as the "Soldier's Watch." Others are named the "Appleton Watch Co.;" others "P. S. BARTLEY," instead of our P. S. Bartlett; besides many varieties named in such a manner as to convey the idea that they are the veritable productions of the American Watch Company.

We also caution the public, and particularly soldiers, against buying certain articles CALLED watches, so freely advertised in illustrated papers as "Army Watches," "Officers' Watches," "Magic Time Observers," "Arcanum Watches," &c., the prices of which are stated to be from seven to sixteen dollars. A good watch, in these times, cannot be afforded for any such money.

A little attention from buyers will protect them from gross imposition.

Agents for the American Watch Company,

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the disease arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS A GENERAL ASSISTANT OF NATURE.

What is health? What is disease?

Health is when the supply and expenditure are equal. Disease when the supply and expenditure are unequal.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS impart certain expulsive powers to all matters in the body whose life is below the standard of the surrounding purity or which have remained longer than the time nature designed. So in fevers and in all that class of cases which run into mortification BRANDRETH'S PILL have marvelous curative qualities. Our bodies are continually changing, and it is by this change we live. Should matter remain in organs beyond the time nature designed, pain and inflammation set in, which is nothing more than a preparatory effort for our good. All Brandreth's Pills are supposed from the results to do is simply WORTHY OF MENTION.—On Monday, as the Band of Cotton & Murphy's Minstrels was playing in Congress street, a horse belonging to Mr. Dwight Hanscom of this city, took fright and ran away, considerably damaging the carriage to which he was attached. Mr. H. made known the fact to the manager of the Troupe, Mr. Smith, who inquired what amount would be necessary to repair the wagon, and being told, he immediately drew forth the money—some fifteen or twenty dollars, we believe—and gave it to Mr. Hanscom. This honorable conduct on the part of the representative of this justly celebrated Company elicited praise from every one cognizant of the affair.

We can unqualifiedly endorse their concerts as ranking A 1 in negro minstrelsy, as evidence of which statement we may refer to the fact that notwithstanding the large crowd (estimated at 3000,) attending the Circus on Monday evening, the Temple was filled with a most respectable audience to listen to their performances. We are pleased to learn that they intend visiting this city again in about two months. They open in Boston Oct 6th to fulfill an engagement of one month at Tremont Hall.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—We are pleased to learn that a portion of the work in remodeling the Capitol at Concord, is being done in this city. Mr. Woodbury Gerrish has been the last summer, and now is, at work doing the ornamental carving for that building. We were in his place of business last week, and noticed several very large Corinthian capitals, which are nearly finished—the workmanship of which is sufficient to establish the reputation of any one as a carver and designer. Mr. G. informs us that he has done the carving for several private dwellings in Concord this summer; and this, with what he receives here of house and ship work, keeps him busily employed the year round. We believe he is the only one in his line of business in the State; and he has for several years done all the plain and ornamental carving for this city and the neighboring towns. Mr. Gerrish is "native here and to the manor born," and as a man, he is an honor to any community; and as a mechanic, he is prompt, just and skillful, and deservedly merits the patronage of his fellow citizens.

JUSTICE.

POLICE COURT, Sept. 25.—How utterly powerless is a human being who tramples under foot the Divine law! Ages ago, the decrees went forth from the great Arbiter of the universe that "he that soweth to the wind should reap the whirlwind," but "that whatsoever a man soweth, that should he reap;" yet men have been slow to learn this great truth, but have recklessly scattered the seeds of sin about them until confronted by hideous thorns, which have sprung up as fruits of their early sowing, to pierce them at every turn. It is fallacy to suppose that one can tamper with fire and not get burned. It is equally absurd to presume that we can with impunity break God's changeless laws and escape the penalty thereof. Hence we see all around us victims of transgression, finger-posts along the highway of life, pointing to destruction's yawning pit.

John McColley assaulted Thomas Connor with a knife on Monday last, and the latter being possessed of a timid, shrinking disposition, didn't like it, and therefore caused McColley to be arrested and taken before this Court, where he was held to answer in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the October Court. Failing to get his sureties he was sent to jail.

☞ Those who failed to hear "Christy's" last evening should not fail to improve the opportunity afforded by the concert this evening. 'Tis the last to be given by that favorite company here.

ALABAMA.—A Montgomery (Ala.) letter of the 5th inst., says:

"Our negro population is gradually settling down to work. The novelty of freedom is wearing off, and the griping of hunger is beginning to do more than the lash did formerly. Montgomery is driving a brisk trade. The stores are full of goods, and the more attractive ones are full of ladies, whose graceful attire speaks of anything but distress or despair. The fact is, a great incubus is removed from the public mind. The firm policy of President Johnson has quieted doubts and dispelled prejudices. With the restoration of trade men's faces get brighter and the gloom is dispelled.

— The widow of the late Rev. T. S. King, with her family, expects to leave San Francisco for New York, on the steamer of the 3d of October.

— John Minor Botts has written another letter to Virginia, advising them to elect men to the next Congress who have not been mixed up in the late rebellion. Any others, he assures them, will not be admitted to the next Congress.

— The Portland Star says that in less than twenty-four hours after the fire in Augusta, every lot in the burnt district which the owners could dispose of was sold to parties in the city to build on.

— At Lawrence, Mass., Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock, Russell & Co.'s paper mill was nearly destroyed by fire. Loss $20,000 Cause unknown. Seven firemen were injured by the falling of a wall. One of them, Mr. Dennis Wholley of the "Essex" steam fire engine, it is feared will die. The net loss to the proprietors will be very severe, owing to the interruption to their business. It is one of the few paper mills having plenty of water.

— Dr. Perkins, of Newburyport, has caught a rat with red eyes. From the tip of his nose to the end of his tail is about 12 inches. He had been about the house for a week, and must have been domesticated by somebody, as he is quite tame, and will sit up and wipe his face with his paws like a kitten.

— The season has been an unfavorable one for the Hudson Bay whale fishery. A whaling captain, recently arrived at New London, says that no vessel has secured over five hundred barrels of oil, and that whales are very scarce.

— Ninety-five of one hundred New York teachers wrote to the Board of Education urging the retention of the right to flog. But the Board wisely decided to restrict that privilege to Principals, and require a record in each case.

THE NUPTIAL TIE has been described as a knot fixed with the tongue which the teeth cannot unloose. But the teeth themselves, if beautiful by the aid of Sozedont, are powerful agents in producing the fascination which leads to marriage. The charm, to which this delicious preparation lends to the breath, too, has a decidedly hymeneal tendency. White teeth and a pure breath! What heart can resist them? e25eod1w 8

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhea had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. "Filling three the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address — The New London Star says an onion weighing 1 1-4 pounds, can't be beat. That is true, but they will turn-up occasionally.

— In a game of cards, a good deal depends on good playing, and good playing on a good deal.

— The great race of the California State Fair, between Norfolk and Lodi, on the 18th was won by the former. Norfolk ran the first mile of the two-mile heat in 1:45, and completed the two miles in 3:30. In the second heat Norfolk made the first mile in 1:46, and the entire heat 3:38.

— A glass of ice water in Brownsville, Texas, is worth 12 cents. We have known ice to be sold for fifty cents a pound in specie, at San Antonio, but even then only five cents per glass was charged for ice water. By comparison, ice must be high or water very low at Brownsville.

— A Spaniard who was walking in Brooklyn, N. Y., with three children, Sunafternoon, was assailed by a mob of Irish women, who insisted that he was a "nagur," stealing white children, and was compelled to abandon the children and fly for his life. The police helped him out of his trouble.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (for the det of 1837,)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not possessed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is more SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber! and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for prosecution of services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, as well as accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

☞ All notices, or a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

—TESTIMONIALS.—

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TARGART

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!
TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen,
Some time ago I was a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabiallo, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.
New York, June 28th, 1866.

WE ASK
The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of
Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.
Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.
Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this invaluable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

THE PEACE MEN IN WAR AND WAR MEN IN PEACE.—The party which, by its attempted change of front in New York, is fairly characterized in the heading to this paragraph, is thus referred to in the last Army and Navy Journal:

But the most singular circumstance is that the old opponents of the war are just as anxious as its steadfast friends to avail themselves of the soldier's popularity. The millions of loyal Democrats and loyal Republicans who supported our arms all thro' the time of trial, are now actually jostled aside by their old foes, the copper-wire pullers, who are struggling in the competition for soldiers' votes! Men who one year ago declared the war was a failure, now recall with pride the achievements of the Union arms. Men who, regardless of the encouragement it then gave to the enemy to redouble his efforts, besought the Government to recall its armies from insurgent soil, now "rally round the flag" with touching fidelity and enthusiasm. Who now talks of "Lincoln's hirelings?"

☞ The London Times publishes a letter from the rebel ex-Secretary Benjamin on the cruelty of the Federal Government to rebel prisoners, and vindicating Jeff. Davis from the charge of inhumanity. He says the chief cause of the suffering was the course of the Federal Government relative to the exchange of prisoners. The Times the following day publishes a letter from a Federal naval officer denying Mr. Benjamin's statements in toto. Sec. Benjamin lies dreadfully; and his lies are useless now.

In Sacramento, recently, a woman procured the release of her husband from jail, and that night ran off with another fellow. Her object in procuring her husband's release was to leave somebody with the children.

— "What capital smacks those Gloucester fishermen have to go to sea in," exclaimed an appreciative gentleman, who had been looking the thing over. "Yes," replied his companion, "but they're not to be compared to the smacks they get on their return home."

— Californians found a piece of petrified wood full of nails, and the Colusa Sun asks who drove those nails in that wood. The Indians who inhabit the country have no idea of working in iron. An exchange thinks it is a piece of one of Solomon's ships that he sent to the land of Ophir after gold.

— An amusing incident occurred at the Vaudeville Theatre, Paris, during the representation of M. de Girardin's new piece "Les Deux Sœurs." Two pistols, simultaneously missed fire. Notwithstanding this mishap, the combatants by whom the weapons were used fell in the orthodox manner, as though mortally wounded. The effect is said to have been intensely ludicrous.

THE NATION:
A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.
This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.
The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.
A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.
It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1865.

"DON'T DRIVE US."—We are almost daily in the reception of letters from various portions of the South, all expressing willingness to accept in good faith the situation as it is and live up to it in good faith. Since beginning this article, we have received one from Georgia, from which we extract these words: "We hate no lover of the Union—we hate tyranny and fanaticism. We must, we will feel like men—we will at least try to do so. Don't drive us all mad or to despair."

We reiterate the sentiment—Don't drive the Southern people to despair. Adopt the President's platform, a platform of truthfulness, of generosity, and justice. The Southern people are Anglo-Saxons—don't drive them beyond the powers of human endurance, don't attempt to make them lose their self respect, their manhood, or to trample them into the mire. Such a policy will be as dangerous as it will be wicked.—Louisville Journal.

What are the poor creatures afraid of? Nobody wishes to drive them; nobody wishes to tyrannize over them. We don't want to trample them into the mire, or to make them lose their manhood. But on the other hand, they must not trample loyal men and United States soldiers into the mire,—nor must they deny manhood or self respect to the working men and women who cultivate their lands and earn their bread.—We only wish to prevent tyranny and fanaticism from ruling these as they have done. U. T.

KENTUCKY.—The reader will be interested in the following statement, from that well known Kentucky paper the Louisville Journal.

Within the last five years the anti-slavery sentiment has made rapid and thorough progress in this State. In the Presidential election of 1860, only one thousand three hundred and sixty-four votes were polled in Kentucky for Abraham Lincoln; in 1864, he received twenty-seven thousand seven hundred and eighty-six votes; and in our recent election, when the question of emancipation was presented to the people more directly than before, the anti-slavery amendment ticket received fifty-four thousand and eight votes. The ratio of increase thus shown in the anti-slavery vote of the State demonstrates one of the most marked popular revolutions of which we have any record. This political revolution, however, has not resulted from any change in the popular mind on the abstract question, as to the right or wrong of slavery, but is due to the effect which the recent war produced upon the institution. Secession gave the death-blow to slavery, not only in the rebellious States, but wherever it existed in the Union before that step.

There are in Kentucky but few abolitionists who oppose slavery from moral and social considerations; the controlling view, with emancipationists in the midst of us, is based upon principles of political economy. Slavery was never beneficial to Kentucky as a State, and the last war rendered it a positive material as well as political nuisance. This is the conviction which, during the five years past, has been rapidly growing in the minds of our people, and which will shortly lead to the removal of the institution from our borders. Kentucky's highest interest will be promoted by establishing the system of free labor throughout her limits as quick as possible, and we may safely predict that, before twelve months more elapse, there will not be found among our public men a solitary advocate of the slavery system.

How slowly a mere politician comes to see the truth of maxims that are self-evident to every man who lets his conscience have free course. We told the people more than twenty-five years ago, that it was safe to do right on this very subject,—and dangerous and even ruinous to do wrong! But the hypocrites were sure there was no bigger law than the constitution; and yet when they revolted against it, and thought they had dissolved the Union,—but the poor fools had only destroyed their own power and the slave power. They don't see the right even now,—but they see the fact of emancipation. They don't yet see the right of equal laws,—but they will see the fact, aye, and feel it too, if they stubbornly persist in regarding political economy while they disregard moral obligations. They are, however, doing as well as could be expected of men just emerging from the barbarism of Slavery. U. T.

☞ The ship Golconda, which arrived at Boston, from Calcutta, Tuesday, has a sacred Brahma cow, several Patnah goats, Hindoo sheep and East India deer, together with some Ganges geese, on freight. These are imported by Wm. Stark of Manchester, N. H., and are intended to increase the already large collection of rare birds and animals with which his park is beautified.

GHOSTLY COMMERCE.—The Stockton Independent mentions the shipment of dead Chinamen from that port.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— One vacancy in the Cadetship of West Point, is to be filled from the 1st Congressional District in New Hampshire.

—— The roof of the State Prison caught fire on Monday, by sparks from a chimney blowing under the slate. It was extinguished without much damage.

—— The N. H. Grand Veteran League is making progress. Gov. Smyth favors its objects, which are to find employment for the able and aid for the disabled.

—— Two years ago the house of Richard Melvin, esq., of Derry, was entered by night, and several articles stolen, including a gold watch. Last Sunday the watch was found on the door step, wrapped in a newspaper of the date of the theft.

—— One Chas. Keenan was held to bail at the Police Court in Concord, on Monday, in $2500, to be tried for the crime of rape, committed in a lonely house, under threat of death. The evidence is plainly against him, though doubtless some eminent counsel can be found to defend him.

GRAND COMMANDERY.—The annual convention of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of New Hampshire was held at Concord on Tuesday. After the transaction of general business the following officers were elected: R. E. G. Commander, Chas. A. Tufts, Dover; V. E. Dep. G. Commander, John H. George, Concord; E. G. Generalissimo, Isaac C. Elanders, Manchester; E. G. Capt. General, Henry O. Kent, Lancaster; E. G. Prelate, John D. Patterson, Manchester; E. G. Senior Warden, Abel Hutchins, Concord; E. G. DEMOCRATS IN REPUBLICAN UNIFORM. The New York Tribune has the following capital hit at the attempt of the New York Democrats to get in office by dressing up their candidates and speakers in Republican clothes:

When Col. Mosby was about to surprise a Union camp he generally dressed a few of his rebels in Union uniform and sent them ahead with instructions to pass the picket by loyal countersigns. The Democratic leaders are doing the same thing in this State. Haskin and Richmond, Van Buren and Brady, and that gay bugler Bennett, are riding ahead, shouting, "Hurrah for Johnson"; "Three cheers for the war," and "Hail Columbia!" They want to surprise the President and his whole Administration. We have heard these cries before. Keep a sharp look out ahead. Stand true to your guns, boys, and fire away at any suspicious persons.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Government advertising has been taken from the Republican and given to the Constitutional Union, a sheet which has until of late been among the most virulent in its abuse of the Republican administration.

Some few of the Collectors of Customs and Internal Revenue, recently appointed in the South, take the prescribed oath that they never gave aid or comfort to the rebellion, but the large majority who are unable to do so, file their bonds and enter upon the discharge of the discharge of their duties, trusting to Congress to remove the disability, and provide for the payment of their salaries.

One of the large gold mines in the wilderness region in Virginia is soon to be worked by a Northern man of capital and energy.

— The Worcester Spy announces the death in that city on Monday of Patrick Quirk, at the advance age of one hundred and seven years and six months. Mr. Quirk was born in Kerry, Ireland, in 1758. He was unusually hale and vigorous for one of his advanced age, being able till quite recently to attend church and public meetings.

— A St. Louis paper says that a company of merchants there have sent an agent to the English markets to purchase certain staple articles, and bring them here by way of New Orleans by steam. They estimate that they will get them at a cost of freight not great than what is charged between New York and St. Louis.

— "Billy," said a benevolent vender of food for stoves, as with cheerful visage he sat down to his matutinal repast, "is it cold?" "Very cold, father," was the reply. "Is the gutters froze, Billy," rejoined the parent. "Very hard, father, they is," was the response. "Ah!" sighed the old gentleman, "put up the coal two pence a pail, Billy. God help the poor!"

— Daniel Niven, who joined the Masonic order in Scotland 1783, is still living in Monticello, N. Y., having completed his ninety ninth year.

INDIAN WAR.—A dispatch from Fort Laramie, Sept. 26, says information was received from Gen. Conner's 8th column, under Col. Cole, to the 21st inst. It has been encamped near Fort Conner since the 20th. He has lost 600 horses and 200 mules, which were frozen to death in one night, on the 1st of September. He was attacked by a war party of Sioux, Cherokees and Wapahoes on Powder river. They were repulsed with heavy loss. Our loss was only four killed and two wounded. The Indians appeared in force and were driven ten miles. The next days the engagement was renewed and lasted until noon. The Indians were again defeated with great slaughter, their loss being from 200 to 600 killed and wounded. The Indians fled in every direction. Our troops were unable to pursue on account of the poor condition of our stock. Our loss was one killed and one officer and two men wounded. The Indians lost a large number of horses.

The Indians again attacked our troops on the 8th, and after a short and spirited engagement were totally routed and beautifully cleaned out. Their force was estimated at 3000. They lost many of their principal chiefs. Our total reported loss in the three engagements were seven killed, and one officer and two men wounded. Another battle was exbected on Powder river, but the Indians suddenly disappeared.

Col. Cole will encamp at Fort Conner until information is received from General Conner.

IN THE WIRZ TRIAL, on Tuesday, Judge Advocate Chipman called on the counsel for defense to procure their witnesses.

Mr. Baker said he was not prepared to go on, but would do so if the Court thought best.

Fathers Hamilton and Whellom testified that they were engaged in ministerial duties at Andersonville, the former stating that everything was done by Wirz for the physical and spiritual weltare of prisoners, and the latter that he never saw Wirz commit any violence on prisoners; knew the prisoners were hunted by dogs, but never heard of any being torn by them.

On cross-examination the latter stated he had heard prisoners say that Wirz was violent; did not know whether any spoiled meat was given prisoners, as he was too much engaged looking after the spiritual welfare of the prisoners.

Mr. Baker, one of Wirz's counsel, here applied for permission for the above clergyman to visit Wirz, but the Court referred him to the Secretary of War, as having all the power in the premises.

☞ Mr. W. F. Eaton, a Gen. Supt. of Freedmen, at St. Simons, S. C., sends to the Morning Star, a very sad account of the way in which the Baptist Churches of negroes in that region were managed—being ruled by men called leaders, who were appointed by the masters, and who were often profane, quarrelsome and licentious. The church at Beaufort, for instance, had five leaders, only two of whom now regard their vows as binding. We have always seen a wonderfully great number of members set down as Baptists at the South—but a judicious Baptist minister formerly of this city, used to say the figures did not indicate the true strength of the Church; and we now believe he was right.

☞ In Salem, Mass., on Monday, the horses attached to the carriage of Mrs. E. S. Peabody were frightened by the approach of a steam fire engine, and dashed down the street at full speed. The pole of the carriage dropped out, the driver was unable to guide the animals, and they run the carriage against a post. Mrs. Peabody was thrown to the ground, striking on the back of her head, which was fortunately protected by a large "waterfall," and probably saved her life. As it was, the blow deprived her of all consciousness for two hours, but no bones were broken, and the next morning she was in a comfortable condition.

HALL'S ARCTIC EXPEDITION.—By an arrival at New London, from the Arctic Ocean, we have advices from Capt. Hall, the explorer, who left the United States in 1864. His dispatch is dated Snow House, on the coast line of Rosewelcome; lat. 64.46 N., lon. 87.27 W., and was expressed 150 miles over the ice by dog sleighs to reach the open sea. He writes in good spirits, having obtained much valuable information in regard to the Franklin expedition. He expects to spend most of his time on King William's Sound, and desires that a vessel shall be sent in the spring of 1867 to bring him home.

— As a lad was passing a few days since, hugging up a keg of liquor, a comrade accosted him with, "What have you there, Tom?" He answered, "My father's spirit in arms!"

— The New York Tribune says the strikers in the mines of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company and the Pennsylvania Coal Company have come to their senses and gone to work, so that there will be no advance on the present price of coal, and the probability is that it will be lower.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. James S. Pierce for files of Panama papers.

PERU.—Our Panama files contain dates to the 3d inst. from Peru. The rebellion had made little or no progress in the two weeks previous. Two revolutionary men-of-war had caused much excitement in Callao by appearing off the harbor and demanding the surrender of the loyal fleet there, but drew off and steamed away for some reason best known to themselves. Montero, the revolutionary admiral, is undertaking to make the ships loading with guano at the Chinchas pay him the cash for their cargoes. He tried to stop the "Sierra Nevada," an American ship, built at this port, but the captain protested and put to sea. The "Amazonas" followed in pursuit, but did not overhaul her. If he pursues this line of policy, he will find himself involved in new an unpleasant difficulties. The P. S. N. Co.'s str. "Inca" has returned from her secret service trip. She met the Government ship, formerly the "Wild Pigeon," which was bought about three months ago to transport Gen. Castilla to some unknown portion of the world, at a place at the Galapagos. Gen. Castilla has been placed on board the Wild Pigeon, and will, as is supposed, be sent to Europe. The Wild Pigeon is also a Portsmouth built ship.

James R. Avery, indicted for stealing sundry surgical instruments at Portsmouth Navy Yard, also pleaded guilty.

VINE CULTURE.—The Los Angelos grape crop this year is twice as large as last, yet grapes are selling by the ton for three times as high price as last year. The cause is, that more wine is being made. The vineyards from which the celebrated California Wines of Messrs. Perkins, Stern & Co. are made are among the finest in Los Angelos. Thacher is the agent for their sale in this city.

HORSESHOES.

THE WHEELER HORSESHOE COMPANY offer for sale, corner of Portland and Traverse Streets, Boston, Horseshoe Bars and Shapes, and also finished Shoes of every variety of style and size. The iron is made from selected scrap, including old shoes, and is warranted as good as any in the market, and to wear as long as the best hand made shoes. The bars are drawn with a groove and a bevel, and with a seated, a flat, or a concave foot-form. This amount of work on the bar enables the blacksmith to make twice as many shoes a day as he can make from common shoe shapes, and the shoes are of better finish and quality when done. The iron in bars is offered at the ordinary price of common shapes, and the finished shoes much lower than hand-made shoes, with which alone they can be compared, and which in reality they are.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years, travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, in the East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

—Hon. Rodney French, formerly of New Bedford, was a member of the Colorado Constitutional Convention, and made an unsuccessful attempt to provide for negro suffrage.

— "Mamma," said a little fellow whose mother had forbade his drawing horses and ships on the mahogany sideboard with sharp nails, "mamma, this aint a nice house." "Why so?" was the reply. "Because at Peter Sickel's we can cut the sofa, and pull out the hair, and ride the shovel and tongs over the carpet; but here we dont have any fun at all.

— In the time of Bach it was customary to play during the communion a concerto or solo on the violin, violincello or other instrument. A somewhat similar practice is in vogue in some of our Episcopal churches, where the organist plays a voluntary during the taking up of the collection. A violin solo, however, at such a time now-a-days would create no little scandal.

— A reverend gentleman, on a recent Sunday evening, threw a new light upon a congregation at Stratford, England. He had been out in the afternoon with a cigar, and putting it into his coat pocket when he went into the vestry, either it or some fuzees he had also in his pocket set the coat on fire. There was quite a panic in the chapel, but happily it was cleared without the loss of life of limb.

Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and at SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other agency can the patentee the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to compile a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

"All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for us THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uninterrupted success proves not only his ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART

During eight months, the subscriber, in court of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen,

I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rheumatic Affections, &c.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire-may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Teller, they will find a friend to console and a Physician who has cured thousands in almost every part of the United States, who applied to Dr. J. broken down in health, now rejoice in all that makes life desirable and man happy. THE NATION:
A Weekly Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Art.
This journal will not be the organ of any party, sect or body. It will, on the contrary, make an earnest effort to bring to the discussion of political and social questions, a really critical spirit, and to wage war upon the vices of violence, exaggeration and misrepresentation by which so much of the political writing of the day is marred.
The criticism of books and works of art will form one of its most prominent features; and pains will be taken to have this task performed in every case by writers possessing special qualifications for it.
A special correspondent has started on a journey through the South. His letters will appear hereafter every week, and he is charged with the duty of simply reporting what he sees and hears, leaving the public as far as possible to draw its own inferences.
It embraces among its regular or occasional contributors the following names: Henry W. Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, John G. Whittier, Prof. Goldwin Smith (Oxford), Prof. Child (Harvard), Edmund Quincy, Prof. Whitney (Yale), Frederick Law Olmsted, Rev. Dr. Jos. P. Thompson, Rev. Dr. Bellows, Henry T. Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1865.

VIRGINIA.—The majority of the forty odd candidates for Congress in Virginia appear remarkably outspoken in their opinions. Three candidates from the Fredericksburg District, Christian, Douglass and Curtiss, addressed a meeting at Lancaster Court House; one of them, Christian, was against secession before it commenced, but supported the State and rebel Governments during the struggle. He claimed that he was not yet disqualified, and spoke of the test oath of 1862 as unconstitutional.

Douglass claimed to be an original secessionist, and that secession was the spontaneous work of the people. He stood on the same platform as all the other candidates, none of whom, except Curtiss, could take the test oath. Curtiss said he had always been opposed to the heresey of secession.

The meeting proposed to be held at Lynchburg to get up a petition to the President on behalf of Jeff. Davis, cannot be held under the General Orders issued some time since at Richmond.

[From present appearances, it seems probable that many of the late rebel States and Districts will send Representatives to Washington who cannot be admitted to seats,—and that the general state of things in those districts and States, will keep them on a long probation.]

A BAD VOYAGE.—In New York city on Wednesday, thirty-one seamen of the crew of the ship Calhoun from Liverpool, were arraigned for trial. Captain Page and some of the officers of the ship were prosecutors. According to their statement the crew endeavored to kill the cook, when the boatswain and third mate fired upon them. One man, named John Malone, was killed, and two men, named Lynch and Rafferty, badly wounded.

The captain and second mate were sick and did not join in the melee. The crew then made prisoners of the boatswain and third mate. The seamen say they were ill-treated, and that at last, when the cook mixed their bread with salt water, they carried it back to him, when he attacked them and they beat him. They thought that in arresting the two men who had shot three of their number they were acting according to law. The two men they meant to have dealt with in N. Y.; one man, a passenger, jumped overboard during the passage, and one of the officers died.

IN TENNESSEE, a gang of thirty or forty guerrillas, near Springfield, Robertson county, commenced indiscriminate robbery and murder upon the residents of that locality. Thomas J. Payne was killed, his house robbed and family outraged. At Adams Station, on the Kentucky and Edgefield road, they plundered all whom they caught. Robert Dorsey was bung to a tree, and then dragged on the ground. The exact number of the band is not known.

IN THE WIRZ TRIAL, on Wednesday, Baker, the counsel for the prisoner, got up a fuss with the Judge Advocate, which amounted to nothing; and the testimony did not amount to much.

KENTUCKY.—The Union Press announces the indictment of Major General Palmer and Brigadier General Brisbin for abduction of slaves and otherwise interfering with the slave laws of Kentucky, and suggests that Pres. Johnson be indicted by one of their grand juries. [This kind of Copperhead Unionism is exactly what is needful to open the eyes of some politicians, and even public officers, that they may see the need of crushing out the vipers, instead of warming them into new life and sharper venom.]

MARYLAND.—The Union Convention in the Second Congressional District met in East Baltimore, and nominated Hon. L. J. Thomas to succeed Col. Webster, now collector of the port. Resolutions were passed rejoicing over the suppression of the rebellion, expressing confidence in the administration of President Johnson, and earnestly opposing and repudiating the doctrine of State Sovereignty.

— One Daniel Hylands of St. John, N. B., in Portland jail on a charge of adultery, killed himself on Wednesday noon.

— The sale of Government vessels at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Wednesday, was very successful, the vessels bringing unusually good prices, some more than the Government paid for them.

— Mrs. J. O. Safford, now of Dorchester, Mass., but formerly of Portland, Me., has given a valuable house in the latter city to St. Stephens Episcopal Church, as a parsonage. She paid $8500 for the house,—and at Easter paid half the church's debt.

— On Monday, at Portsmouth, Va. The removal of a large amount of ammunition, comprising ordnance stores and two hundred barrels of powder from the storehouses on the wharves, commenced, in view of fears of an explosion. A similar move might be commenced, at Kittery, near Portsmouth, N. H.

LETTER FROM THE SOUTH.—The following extracts are taken from a private letter recently written in one of the hotbeds of treason and rebellion—but for obvious reasons we give neither name of writer nor place of writing:

"The negroes are freed; but oh, could you see and know what I see and know, your days and nights would be restless.

"The poor down-trodden blacks at present are in the most miserable condition imaginable. The avaricious and heartless master and mistress, 'tis true, cannot buy them and sell them as beasts of burthen, but they beat and abuse them in numerous instances worse than ever. Aye, worse, for when these black people were legally slaves, the selfish owner spared their lives to fill his sensual pockets. Now, all I can hear is—knock down, beat, kill the 'nasty, stinking black devils,' &c., &c. For the slightest occasions, the hired 'freedmen' are put on bread and water, maltreated, by the whip, as usual, by kicking, beating with sticks, fists, stabbing, &c.

"All these who have been 'fire-eaters' are like devils; they seem to long to tear the freed blacks in pieces,—and if the U. S. Government does not fasten these fellows in the right way, and firmly, the country will hereafter be deluged in blood, and before long too, for the negroes are resolved not to bear this treatment very long. One intelligent negro told me this morning that they were resolved to 'wade knee deep in blood before they would go back into slavery again, or to be too much trampled upon.' Why is it that our Government does not confiscate the property of the leading rebels and many of the private scoundrel 'fire-eaters?' Why, the leniency of the government makes these people believe that it is afraid of these vicious, bullying dogs. There's no change in them; give them half a chance, and they would enact the same horrible scenes to restore their darling god, slavery.

"I now would not feel at all safe if the U. S. troops were withdrawn from these parts. The women, down to the youngest, are the most malicious, bitter fiendish-talking creatures about the 'old stinking Yanks' that I ever heard of or read about. I must remain silent in their presence, to avoid quarreling or hatred, or go with them—even now—in wholesale abuse of the 'niggers,' the 'Yankees,' and the U. S. Government. Thus it is, I am only skin and bones. If I live to see you all again, it will be a wonder. Yet I think I'll outride the whole storm, and make some folks know yet who they have been 'fooling' with.

"It is reported here that the North is getting to be disbelievers in cotton raising by free labor, and are already striving to get the 'nigger back into slavery. The former owners of the blacks try to give this monstrous idea permanence among the 'freedmen,' but they won't swallow the dose, and say if it should come to that, they'd 'die in the last ditch' before they would take the yoke again. It is evident to my mind that these cruel-hearted people and their former 'niggers' can never live together in the present manner and be at peace. Terrible insurrections would come, and the blacks might at last by the U. S. forces be exterminated. Confiscate a good share of property of all prominent rebels who tried to destroy the government for vile purposes, and give the negroes a home for themselves, in accredited confiscated lands; let them be fairly remunerated for their labor, and I'd risk a hundred heads, if I could have so many, that more cotton than ever would be produced in these speculating, half-civilized States.

"The negro garrison has been recently removed from —— ——, and a white garrison put in its place. It seems to me that the Yankee commanders here make too free with, and listen too easily to the tales of these 'old fire-eaters,' for the negroes certainly do not receive anything like the benefit they should receive from the terrible sacrifices which have been made for Union of the States and freedom of the blacks. You hear about the contracts between them and their masters. They, the negroes, have no hand in making the contracts. The former owners write out the papers, and force the 'freedmen' to sign their mark, or tell them to quit their premises. The Yankee agents here see fit to endorse the whole, generally.

"I have been called on to witness several of these one-sided contracts, where nothing save board (meat and corn bread) and clothes (the coarsest cotton garments and clumsiest shoes,) are the reward of toil from day dawn to dark. Few exceptions occur where anything else is given the negro for his labor in these contracts.

"Perhaps the Government will do something better for the negro after the next Congress. I sometimes fear the influence of bribery and political swindlers. The nation is still avaricious, sensual and wicked, and I sometimes doubt if there is moral goodness enough to save us yet from early ruin. When this war broke out, a Nicholas of Russia was needed at the head, to make these rebel disorganizers of prosperity feel an unflinching and righteous retribution. They are coming off too easy, they are too haughty and insolent still. Nothing can reach them like the rod of poverty. You have left them too much land and too much stock. You give them too much for the cotton which the Government should have seized long ago—too much in gold, when the U. S. paper should be the legal tender. These fellows almost entirely repudiate 'greenbacks' already. I fear Pres. Johnson means to let too many of these fellows go unwhipt of justice."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The U. S. Provost Marshals in New Hampshire are to close their offices and be mustered out of service, Oct. 10.

—— It is stated that Rev. E. O. Jameson has resigned his place as pastor of the Congregational Church in the East Parish of Concord, to be pastor of the "Union Evangelical Church" at Amesbury & Salisbury Mills.

☞ The British Government, as will be seen, are taking vigorous measures to ferret out the leaders in the Fenian movement, and to suppress it. More arrests have been made, and a suspected newspaper has been seized and the premises held by the authorities. We do not see in the Times any vigorous denunciation of this "arbitrary conduct" on the part of the Government, such as it was pleased to indulge in when the United States Government found it necessary, in a similar manner, to checkmate the operations of the traitors. It is some one's else "bull which is gored" now.

☞ The Philadelphia morning papers announce the death of Hon. W. J. Duane, in the 85th year of his age. He was Secretary of the Treasury under President Jackson, and resigned rather than consent to the removal of the government deposits from the United States Bank,—at which time R. B. Taney was appointed to do the work and did it, but the Senate rejected him as Secretary, and afterwards as judge, tho' he finally got on the bench. Duane was an honorable man.

☞ On Tuesday night, near Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the barn and stables of D. P Wheeler's hotel, at Washington Hollow, were burned. The Dutchess county fair had opened the day before, and many valuable horses were in the stables, eighteen of which were burned, including one team worth $3000, belonging to James Kelley. Several persons slept in the barns. Three boys are missing, one of whom is known to have been burned to death. Another, who escaped badly burned, says the three were were asleep when he get out.

HOSTILITIES TO UNIONISTS IN MISSISSIPPI.—A Chicago paper says the following letter is from a prominent citizen of New Orleans, who has resided in Louisiana for fifteen years:

"The action of the President in sustaining Sharkey against Gen. Slocum is most onward. No Union man—that is to say, no man approving the war for the salvation of the country—is safe in the State. I had occasion a few days ago to send an officer to Port Gibson, where at the time there were no troops. While he was there, a man who, through all the rebellion, had refused to aid it in any way, was set upon by a crowd of returned rebel soldiers, and it was with difficulty he escaped by rushing through a house and into the woods. He was a blacksmith. My officer got away as soon as he could, leaving his business untouched. The negroes are shot down wantonly every day in all parts of Mississippi, and no one is punished or even arrested for it."

TEXAS.—The extraordinary fertility of Texas is spoken of by a correspondent at Victoria, who writes as follows:

"The people are subdued and friendly. They are mostly in good circumstances if they are disposed to make anything out of the situation. Any man in Texas that does not own 400 head of cattle and 70 or 100 horses and mules, is worse than worthless. Beef sells here at 5 cents per pound, horses and mules from fifteen to thirty dollars for round lots, and are within 250 miles of a good market. As far as the eye can reach in every direction, and as far as you may go, the country is alive with stock. The whole market of the United States might be supplied here, and there would not be any apparent decrease. A great many 'Yankees' are coming in, and Yankee enterprise will, in a few years, give Texas the lead of all the Southern States,—a state which, with her climate and soil, she will maintain."

A LOYAL LEGION.—The Baltimore Sun says that an association bearing the title of the "Military Order of the Loyal Legion," has been formed by the soldiers of the late war. The order was instituted April 15, 1865, and it is said that Gen. Grant will hold the highest official position in the association. Unqualified loyalty to the government of the United States is its leading tenet, and its objects are as follows:

"To perpetuate the memories and associations of the war; to strengthen the ties of fraternal fellowship and sympathy, which preeminently exist between companions-in-arms; to advance the best interests, individually and collectively, of those associated together as members of the order; to extend all possible relief to their widows and children; to protect the rights and liberties of American citizenship, and to maintain national honor, union and independence."

— Water has rushed in upon the west face of Hoosac tunnel to an extent to stop work there, and the tunnel commissioners have been sent for to look into the matter.

— The Lynn Reporter says the shoe business of that city during the month of August, was larger than that of any previous month on record. The total value of the boots and shoes during the month must have been over $1,200,000.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years, Travelling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

Brandreth's Pills,
WHOSE TIMELY USE UNDER PROVIDENCE, HAS OFTEN SAVED LIFE.
These celebrated Vegetable Pills are no new, untried remedy; they have been used and tested in the United States for thirty years, and are relied upon by hundreds of thousands of families as almost their sole medicine when sick. No care or expense is spared in their preparation, and it is certainly true when I assert that no Drug can have a medicine safer or surer than Brandreth's Pills.

They produce a good effect upon disease almost immediately they are taken. By some wonderful power, perhaps electric or nervous influence, the progress of the diseased organ is arrested; where watchfulness and pain have been present, the system becomes quieter, and the patient soon obtains refreshing sleep.

The genuine BRANDRETH PILL BOX has upon it a UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT STAMP with B. BRANDRETH in White Letters in the same. e29dawlm

Duros's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco or other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.
Sold by all Druggists at 35 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

POLICE COURT, Sept. 27.—The Order of Fenians, which has been quietly increasing for the past few years unmolested—save by an occasional eruptive squib from the English press—is destined to work a revolution in the world which will cause thrones to tremble, and potentates to quake with fear. They may fail in their first attempt to throw off the galling yoke which they are now compelled to wear; but as sure as the germ of a plant, fed by nature's soil and watered by the rains of heaven, is to pierce its mother earth and come forth and progress towards maturity, so certain are these lovers of liberty ultimately to achieve their object. It cannot be otherwise, because they have germinated within them the living principle of freedom.

But while we are so sanguine of the final success of this celebrated Brotherhood, we have serious misgivings in regard to the worthiness of a Milesian named Michael Long, of whom we feel warranted to assert that he would not prove a good Fenian. We shall not attempt to give our reasons for this conclusion in a logical form; but will mention the facts in the case and leave the intelligent reader to judge for himself. Mr. Long is a total abstinent, inasmuch as he wholly abstains from everything partaking of the nature of cold water, regarding it in about the same light that a mad dog would when in the last stages of hydrophobia. Michael has been before this Court to answer to the charge of drunkenness three times in three consecutive months, until his case has become so desperate as to require, in the opinion of physicians, a little country air and scenery. So the Judge allows him 30 days in the House of Correction, and likewise to settle a little bill of costs, $4.80. It is bad enough for a man to get drunk and come before the police court once, but when it happens three or four times, it becomes a tedious monotony, and at the same time is imposing on the good nature of the magistrate and other officers. Bear this in mind, Mr. L.

Robert Thompson is afflicted with Mr. L.'s disease, but he don't obtrude himself before the public quite so often. He gets $3, and costs $3.86.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—As Mr. James Goodwin—clerk for Mr. J. H. Head—was returning from the Navy Yard on Wednesday afternoon in a wherry loaded with chips, the boat commenced to fill, and upon reaching the wharf sank immediately. If the submersion had taken place in the middle of the river, Mr. Goodwin must have been drowned, as he is unacquainted with the art of swimming, and the tide, too, was running in full strength at the time, so that it would have been absolutely impossible for even a good swimmer to have kept afloat among the rapid whirling eddies of the swift current.

☞ In the U. S. Circuit Court, at Portland, James K. Davey, for stealing Surgeons Instruments from the Navy Yard,—and Judson Davis, for stealing an overcoat on the Katahdin,—were each sentenced to 30 days in Portland jail.

REBEL OR COPPERHEAD ATTEMPT TO MURDER U. S. GENERALS.—While Gen. Grant was returning to Cincinnati from Indianapolis at an early hour Wednesday morning, the switch at the end of the curve at Guilford had been turned intentionally, and the car in which the General was seated was thrown from the track and dragged some distance. No one was injured. About the same time a train on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, carrying Gen. Sherman, was thrown from the track this side of Lawrenceburg. No one was injured.

MEXICO.—Mexican advices up to the 7th inst., show that the Liberals are still valiantly holding out and meeting with occasional successes over the French. An important Liberal expedition is fitting out near Matamoras, perhaps to attack that place.

☞ A fast woman named Nellie Curtis robbed a fool in New York of $6400, but well, went to Boston Saturday night, and put up at a public house where loose men resorted. She cut a big figure for three days, spent money, got drunk, and was robbed in turn by a young man whom she trusted with her money. The police got some of it back;—and the New York loser came on to get it: he got less than half what he lost, but declines to prosecute her. He probably deserved to lose the whole.

GOLD, Thursday, 144.

— The editor of the Stockton Independent was presented with some grapes, recently, four berries of which weighed a pound.

Cynthia and Cyrus Pease have got divorced in Washoe. They are no longer "like as two Pease."

— From all accounts Idaho is a horrible sink of depravity. The Oregonian says the dregs, fecunsence and bilge-water of the whole country have settled there.

We once heard of a rich man who was badly injured by being run over. "It isn't the accident," said he, "that I mind; but the idea of being run over by an infernal old swill-cart—that's what makes me mad."

— The Nez Perce Indians, having long been troubled by an incorrigible horse thief, who refused to be reformed by frequent imprisonments, at last cut off both legs and one arm. Strange to say, says the Lewiston Radiator, the culprit lived, and when placed on a horse to be sent off, looked barbarian defiance at his tormentors.

— The editor of the Oakland News makes a handsome apology to his San Leandro contemporary for an unfortunate typographical error, by which the latter was called a "monkey." He says he did not intend to use that offensive word—"donkey" was what he intended to say!

— James Wilson recently found a piece of gold weighing over twenty-four pounds, in his claim at the Spanish Dry Diggins, on the middle fork of the American river, first discovered and worked early in '49 by Mexican miners.

— A couple of cows fell into a mining hole in Placer county, and lived 23 days without anything to eat, and with but little water.

THE NUPTIAL TIE has been described as a knot fixed with the tongue which the teeth cannot unloose. But the teeth themselves, if beautiful by the aid of Sozedont, are powerful agents in producing the fascination which leads to marriage. The charm, to which this delicious preparation lends to the breath, too, has a decidedly hymeneal tendency. White teeth and a pure breath! What heart can resist them? e25eod1w 8

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, u der the Act of 1837, 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twen- years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claim of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLYS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more able to secure to them the applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all the cases in which patents have been granted, and that is some proof of his ability. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN Y. MASON.

During eight months, the subscriber, in consequence of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen,
I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

A CALL TO WORKING MEN—In the Temperance Cause.—Intemperance rages, and will rage till we change our hand, rely less on organization, and more on earnest, honest, individual effort. There is desperate need of men to battle this great evil on their "own hook," responsible to God only.

What if great men continue to discuss the Maine law, and their admirers continue to read and admire? Will that save us?

What if great conventions continue to be held, and distinguished men make masterly speeches and pass resolutions, both masterly-foolish and masterly-wise? Will that save us?

What if Temperance Societies continue to meet and do little more than air their regalias, have a convivial time, and occupy our newspapers with a display of organizations and names? Will that save us?

Most manifestly we have organizations enough, discussions enough, while the evil waxes worse and worse. In this dilemma can anything be done? Yes, thank Heaven. Let us, with the spirit and gospel of Christ, go straightway to work, as individuals, in the very neighborhoods where, in God's providence, we reside. Let us labor, might and main, with Young America, with temperate drinkers and drunkards, diffuse light and love by spreading Temperance Papers and Temperance Tracts in the very dens of sin, and in all the "highways and byways" of life; and looking to God for strength, we may soon understand the promise, "One shall chase a thousand."

The spreading of Tracts—Tracts which are short, pungent, pithy, rather than pretty,—is attended with success. We have such Tracts. We sell them at common prices. We send them gratuitously to those who wish to do good, but are too poor to buy them. Friends, send for them. Send a little postage, if you please; the Tracts you can have, "without money and without price."

We are rather radical, but we have a few friends just as radical. They like our "One Man Tract Society," they like our individual and independent action against popular abominations, and occasionally send us a little money to carry on the battle; and being almoner of their bounty, though poor, we wish, with God's blessing, to make many rich.—Therefore, fellow-laborers, send for our Tracts, and try their quality on your dram-sellers and dram-drinkers.

The flood-gates of iniquity are lifted up. We have three hundred thousand drunkards sinking into their graves! We have hosts of "temperate drinkers" coming on to fill their places! Earnest, self-denying workers are needed on all hands. We must reanimate a dying cause. Friends, awake, let us stretch ourselves upon it as Elisha stretched himself upon the dead child, and it shall rise to life in majesty and strength. GEO. TRASK.

Temperance Depository, Fitchburg, Mass.

Eloquent burst by a Western orator:—"Where is Europe, compared with America? Nowhar! Where is England? Nowhar! They call England the mistress of the sea; but what makes the sea? The Mississippi river makes it. And all we've got to do is to turn the Mississippi into the Mammoth Cave, and the English navy will be floundering in the mud."

— In the beginning, woman consisted of a single rib. Now she's all ribs, from her belt to the rim of her petticoats.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1865.

DISTINCTIONS TO BE KEPT IN MIND. It suits the purpose of those who favor an immediate reconstruction, attended with the peril of admitting to political influence and power those who have but just ceased—compelled to do so by force—from endeavors to dismember the country, to represent the opponents of such reconstruction as actuated by hardness of feeling, if not by vindictive animosity towards the South.—This (says the Transcript) is not true. No such feeling prevails to any extent worth naming; and the evidence brought to prove its existence is sophistical.

It is said, for instance, by those so clement towards secessionists as to be unjust towards the nation, that we cannot expect the late rebels to at once become penitent and confess their wrong-doings, merely because they have been conquered. This is true; and therefore the imperative need of guarding against intrusting them with positions to enable them to renew their treasonable activity. Again, it is urged that the advocates of impartial suffrage, as a condition precedent to the restoration of the slave States to their former relations in the Union, desire to elevate the negro and subjugate the white man. This is false. The claim for the colored man is simply that justice, humanity, the redemption of solemn pledges, and the security of the republic, demand that he shall, as to political rights and the rights of citizenship, be treated as a man, irrespective of his complexion and his former degradation as a slave. The easy-swearing, lately-insurgent master cannot be allowed the ballot, and the intelligent, loyal black man left without the ability to protect himself and his country from the possible consequences of that ballot—as affecting his condition and the integrity of the nation.

There is no objection in any quarter to giving the late rebels all they need for their well-being, consistent with the paramount security of the Union, and insuring that the freedmen shall be freemen. The labor-system and the social-system of the South have been revolutionized by the war which they madly inaugurated to save them as feudal and despotic systems. They have been proved to be incompatible with the unity of the States, under a Republican form of government; consequently their overthrow must be made an accomplished fact. The only restoration or reconstruction anybody opposes, is that which would reproduce, or which tends to reproduce, directly or indirectly, the condition of things which caused the rebellion, and which would reproduce, in spirit or in policy, anything of the anomaly which has been driven away by the victories of the loyal people. The South admits that it lost the game on the battle-field. Why should it or its friends object to paying the whole cost of that loss.

PRIVATE ADVICE BY THE PRESIDENT. A letter was recently addressed by some of the citizens of Charlottesville, Va., to President Johnson, prompted by the difficulties which surround them in relation to the approaching congressional election. They appeal to him for counsel and advice as to the proper course, being wholly uninformed as to whether the test oath will probably be repealed or modified so as to admit Southern members. They have thought it possible he might enlighten them. Their main purpose is to pursue that course which will be most likely to sustain him and his policy in the administration of the government.

The Attorney General, to whom the letter was referred, replies that he is instructed by the President to say he has no means of knowing what Congress may do in regard to the oath about which they inquire; but it is his earnest wish that loyal and true men, to whom no objections can be made, should be elected to Congress. This, Mr. Speed says, is not official, but simply an expression of individual opinion and wish.

LIBERALITY.—The Universalists' contributions for denominational and other benevolent objects during the last two years are $500,000. More than half of this sum was given to Tufts College. The Universalist states that $150,000 more is needed to carry on the missionary operations which have been marked out, and to render portions of the sums already given effective.

THE CHOLERA.—Letters fresh from Europe state that the fearful ravages of the cholera in Asia Minor have been checked. Letters from Smyrna, dated Sept. 2, state that the cholera in that city had almost ceased; the deaths were not more than five or six per day, and but little was then thought of it. At Constantinople it had been very bad, but had sensibly diminished, and no alarm now prevailed.

COLORADO.—Complete returns from Colorado indicate the adoption of the State Constitution by a very large majority. The clause authorizing negro suffrage was defeated.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

DUNEDIN, OTAGO, N. Z., July 14, 1865.

At Pelichet Bay Jetty.—We came up from Port Chalmers this morning, to tow off a 3-funnelled steamer, the "New Zealand," she having got "resped" by the taking off of the tides. She is a queer-looking vessel, and, (under some other name) ran the Wilmington blockade a number of times. She was taken by the blockaders at last, condemned, and sold, and now belongs to a company at Lyttleton, N. Z.

The news of the assassination of President Lincoln has caused a marked sensation out here, though we have but few particulars. Should it turn out to be a Confederate raid, planned by Southern leaders, it will go very far towards depriving the South of that sympathy which has so persistently defeated Grant, captured Sherman, and driven Sheridan pell-mell up the Shenandoah Valley, during the past twelve months. Sherman's success in reaching the coast was a heavier blow to the British than to the Secesh, and the fall of Petersburg and Richmond caused weeping and gnashing of teeth, but the news of Lee's surrender has started a wail of despair (from all those lovers of liberty who hoped to see America split into a dozen pieces for European aristocrats to sneer at,) such as never was heard but once before, and that was when the "Alabama" was sunk in such a cowardly manner by the Kearsage, after a three years career of glory and daring exploits. Quantrell's massacres in Kansas were silently passed over. The New York riots were only cited as proofs of "the invincible determination of the Confeds, to maintain their just and lawful rights." The St. Albans raid was commented on only so far as was requisite to show that Canada had no right to give up the raiders. The attempt to fire New York was called "a daring and patriotic, though unfortunate exploit." But the murder of President Lincoln is too much for even a British Colonial Press to applaud, though, while stigmatizing the act as a dastardly and brutal murder, they all agree that the Southern rulers had no part in the act, which was the work of a few political fanatics. For the honor of mankind, I hope their surmisings may true; but I don't believe 'em, for all that.

The "Times'" leader on the war, this month, has departed from the regular song of invincibility of the South in the field, hopelessness of the North continuing the contest, duty of England and France to interfere and put an end to so much useless shedding of blood, &c., and taken up an altogether new one, viz, the duty of the civilized world to interfere, in case the North should want to punish Jeff. Davis and his confreres.

The great Maori war rages still with unexampled fury,—since I last wrote there's been another man killed, and a skirmishing party surprised and captured a large pit of potatoes, while a second detachment stole a bullock from some settlers, to the great benefit of their stomachs. It seems a little odd, don't it, that the most powerful nation in the world, that could see nothing remarkable in the American war but the brutal tyranny of the North, should take longer to put down a rebellion in which two or three thousand savages are engaged against "the British bayonet" and the Armstrong gun, than the United States has taken to conquer one ten thousand times as strong.

But the relative justice of the rebellion is looked at very much. The Secesh had a just right to do as he liked with what was not his own, while the savage had not a just right to do as he liked with what was his own, 'till he had asked permission from her Majesty's colonial representative. As an instance of the case with which we see the mote in your eye, and don't fel the beam in our own, I'll give you an extract from the "Otago Daily Times" of June 28. In relating the attack upon and destruction of a pah, it says: "An offer of peace was given to the occupants of one whare, and one man was seized by the heels and dragged away, but the natives would not allow capitulation, so the huts were fired, with what results humanity shudders to think of." I think humanity may be excused a small shudder, especially if she knows that the whare had a very large sprinkling of women and children in it—but there! the British are not gods, any more than the Yankees,—they only think themselves so. I believe, on the whole, they'll be glad the war is about over, though they would much rather that it had ended in some other way, by the North getting smashed, for instance. God help them! They're bitterly disappointed! ICE.

☞ The boiler of a locomotive exploded in a crowded street in Chicago last Saturday, killing three persons, and severely wounding several. There were many very narrow escapes. The cause of the explosion is unknown. The engine had just come from the repair shop.

☞ In Richmond on Saturday night, John Perkins mistook his wife for a burglar and shot her dead. He had been up once, searching for burglars, whom he thought he heard in the house.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Joseph Cadger, who was charged with the murder of Geo. Ducharme, at Claremont, has been discharged, no evidence being found sufficient to convict him.

—— Two men belonging to Seabrook, were fined $5 and costs $16 each, for drunkenness and brawl at Salisbury Beach last week; and the keeper of the drunkery was arrested for keeping a nuisance.

—— The Manchester Union learns that Rev. Mr. Bowles of that city has been called to be pastor of the Universalist Society at Augusta, Maine; but that he has not yet decided to accept.

—— Tuesday morning, as John Clark of Deering was going to Manchester with a load of produce, he was fired at from the bushes by an unknown person, but missed. The bullet bit his cart. Robbery was probably the design of Mr. Clark's assailant.

—— Hon. Ichabod G. Jordan, of Great Falls made another attempt to get into the Maine Legislature this year, but with even poorer luck than he had a year ago. Then he did get a chance to go down to Augusta, where he speedily got leave to come home again. This year he ran for the Senate in York county, and ran about twelve hundred votes only short of an election. It is evident that the people of Maine do not appreciate him. He could do better than that in New Hampshire.—Dover Eng.

☞ There is a man two miles and a half below Newburg, N. Y., at a place called New Windsor, who was born August 15, 1751. His name is McCormick. He came to this country in 1846, from Ireland, and is now in his 115th year. He was a rebel in 1798, and has two wounds in his leg. He is well and hearty, with the exception of poor eyesight. He has always lived a very temperate life, using no tea, coffee nor tobacco, and drinking very little water, and never any milk. He has always been an early riser, a hard-working man, and has always eaten his food very salt. Potatoes, corned beef and cabbage have been his most frequent dishes.

A Union newspaper wishes to know why it is, if we want the President to declare justice to the negro in Virginia, we do not insist upon his doing the same justice to the negro in Ohio and Illinois. The cases are not parallel. Virginia went from the Union, and is now in a condition of treason.—We must insist upon her purification before we ask for her companionship. One of the terms is Emancipation, another should be Manhood Suffrage. If Illinois and Ohio secede, we shall insist that they receive the treatment we would administer to Virginia. —Tribune.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Mr. Moses Jellison of Rowley was stopped by three highwaymen on Tuesday evening, as he was driving home from Newburyport, and robbed of $428 in money, and stripped of his clothing. Being lame, Mr. Jellison could make no resistance, and the robbers, moreover, gave him the choice of "your money or your life," with a loaded pistol presented at his head.

SUPPOSED SURVIVORS OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.—Henry Grinnell, Esq., of New York, has received a highly interesting letter from Capt. Hall, the Arctic explorer.—He has discovered that in all probability three of the men of Sir John Franklin's Arctic expedition yet survive and are living among the Innuits. One of those supposed survivors is supposed to be Crozier, who succeeded Sir John Franklin in command of the expedition.

SHAMEFUL TREANSACTION.—A match race between Sea-foam and Tom Thumb, two crack Portland horses, was announced to take place near that city on Wednesday. When the time came for the race to start it was announced that Sea-foam had been poisoned by the administration of croton oil by some scoundrel, and was dead. The animal was valued at $1500, was twelve years old, and owned by D. G. Miller. An investigation of the affair has been instituted.

THE MASSACHUSETTS CONVENTION of the Democratic party met at Worcester on Wednesday, and nominated Maj. Gen. Couch for Governor, and a whole ticket of State Officers, no one of whom stands much of a chance to be elected. The attendance was considerable, but not so large as usual. The platform adopted is the substance of the resolutions of the New York Democracy, modified to suit the latitude of Massachusetts. The only matter which created any interest was the resolution in favor of a judicious license system, which was finally rejected.

THE ALBANY TRADES CONVENTION.—On Tuesday, the committee appointed to confer with the manufacturing boot and shoe makers of Albany, reported that the employers have agreed to take down the obnoxious notice refusing employment to Union men, and have also agreed to pay the advance of ten per cent. asked by the employes.

— The Phrenological Journal for October has portraits of Gen. Logan and Pres. Lincoln, with notes of character.

—Rev. Dr. Wayland, of Providence, suffered a severe attack of paralysis on Wednesday.

We notice in Alabama that the Legislature is requested to pass "such laws as will protect the freedmen of this State (Alabama) in the full enjoyment of all their rights of personal property, and guard the State against any evils that may arise from their sudden emancipation." It would be difficult to form a resolution that meant more and at the same time granted less than this. The only right permitted to the negro is that of "personal property." The State intends that shall not be robbed without due process of law. At the same time all manner of restrictions and clogs and protective laws (what we see in Tennessee for instance) will be adopted to keep the negro freed and prevent him from becoming free. Tribune.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

70,000 Copies Sold in Sixty Days!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years, Traveling thro' the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war; with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war, than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies and instrumentalities of the slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition. Send for circulars. Address

Brandreth's Pills,

WHOSE TIMELY USE UNDER PROVIDENCE, HAS OFTEN SAVED LIFE.

These celebrated Vegetable Pills are no new, untried remedy; they have been used and tested in the United States for thirty years, and are relied upon by hundreds of thousands of families as almost their sole medicine when sick. No care or expense is spared in their preparation, and it is certainly true when I assert that no King can have a medicine safer or surer than Brandreth's Pills.

They produce a good effect upon disease almost immediately they are taken. By some wonderful power, perhaps electric or nervous influence, the progress of the diseased action is arrested; where watchfulness and pain have been present, the system becomes quieter, and the patient soon obtains refreshing sleep.

The genuine BRANDRETH PILL BOX has upon it a UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT STAMP with B. BRANDRETH in White Letters in the same. e29dawlm

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 20 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

Local.

☞ Lt. Col. George F. Towle,—formerly of the 4th N. H. Regiment, but afterwards detached and appointed Asst. Inspector General of the Department of North Carolina—arrived at his home in this city on Tuesday last. He is suffering from attack of chronic diarrhœa, contracted some months ago down in Southern swamps. Col. Towle has faithfully served his country for the past four years, and deserves therefor a good billet in the Regular Army, as a slight token of appreciation of merit; and, besides, the Government needs just such young men as he in the regular service to guard it against another outbreak.

Clark Abbott, Boatswain U. S. N., has been detailed by President Johnson to superintend a district of Freedmen down in Texas, and will leave immediately for that State. Mr. Abbott counts one more on the list of enterprising young men that hail from this city, and as he is well posted in the geography of Texas, the inhabitants, &c., we feel assured that he will fill this new position with credit to himself.

Portsmouth is suffering to-day from the loss of her best young men, but as no inducements for their stay are offered, it is to be expected that this drain upon her enterprise will continue, and other places will reap the benefit of her products.

[Communication.]

Messrs. Editors:—Allow me to ask if there is anything in our city ordinances relative to keeping pigs within the city limits. In most cities and large towns, the law is that no pig-sty shall be located within one hundred feet of a dwelling-house. Now, I have no objections to a man's keeping pigs in his house, if he chooses, but I do object to what I now suffer from a neighbor's pigsty, located about fifteen feet from my window, which I am often obliged to close and deprive myself of fresh air, because it is so powerfully impregnated with the odors of the nuisance on my neighbor's premises. As we may expect the cholera to reach this point by next year, I trust that those maintaining such pestilence-breeding spots upon their premises, may be "cleaned out" by the police before the Asiatic visitor comes to do it. NEZ.

Communication.

Editors Chronicle:—Is it generally understood that the scholars at the High School have especial right to the whole of the sidewalk on the corner of Chapel and Daniel streets, at certain hours of the day, or is it a mere rule of politeness acquired on their part, by which a person is compelled to crowd through their ranks, take the middle of the street, or cross over and "pass by on the other side?" INQUIRER.

☞ Rev. B. F. Summerbell, of Carlisle, Mass., will preach in the Court street Christian Chapel to-morrow (Sunday) morning and afternoon, at the usual hours of service. He will also deliver a Temperance Lecture at the same place, on Monday evening next, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ Joseph P. Morse, esq., Auctioneer, sold on Thursday the House No. 59 Dennett street, to F. W. Rogers, for $1095. Also, half house on Woodbury street to Benj. Kenney, for $500.

☞ Mr. Browne's Dramatic Company performed at the Temple last evening, to the great satisfaction of a good audience. The bill to-night is a good one, and we would advise all lovers of a good play to go early and secure seats.

☞ Among the recent pardons granted by the President was that of Capt. Norman D. Story, 13th Louisiana Regiment, formerly well-known in this city.

☞ The large and valuable farm-barn of the late Thomas Jewett, in South Berwick, Me., was burnt Wednesday evening. Forty tons of hay were consumed.

DOCTORS DIFFER.—The Dover Gazette says:—"No fault can be found with the proceedings of the Democratic Convention of New York by reasonable men anywhere." The Portsmouth Democratic organ says:—"This New York Convention disgraced the very name of Democracy."

☞ Seymour Butts, of Windsor, N. Y., has been sometime deranged on the subject of snakes. He imagined himself to be in great danger from them, and was seized with the idea that if he ate food the snakes would cause his death. He abstained from food for four weeks, subsisting on water alone, which he would only take from a bottle filled under the surface. After this he had camphor mixed with his water, and on this continued to live until fifty-one days had elapsed, during which he had taken no other nourishment.

— The Freedmen have held a great mass meeting at Wilmington, N. C, and propose to claim the elective franchise as the right of freemen born on the soil.

— Galveston papers mention a great gale in Texas, blowing down houses, &c.—Gov. Hamilton's administration is said to be popular.

GOLD, Friday, 144.

MEXICO.—We have Acapulco dates of the 17th inst. The French war ships had landed 500 soldiers, and took possession of the town. Alvarez had previously withdrawn his forces, amounting to 1500 men, badly equipped and short of ammunition, but very enthusiastic. The majority of the Mexican population had followed him. He was confident of maintaining the cause of Juarez throughout the interior.

TO THE POINT.—Perhaps the shortest sermon on record was preached by the late Irish Dean Kirwan. He was pressed while suffering from a sever cold, to preach a charity sermon in St. Peter's Church, Dublin, for the benefit of the orphan children of the parish school. The church was crowded to suffocation, and the good Dean, on mounting the pulpit and announcing his text, pointed with his hand to the children in the aisle and simply said, "There they are." The collection on the occasion exceeded all belief.

— A Richmond paper says there are some curious sights to be seen in the South those election times. A certain candidate was seen recently with a basket slung to his arm, full of copies of his address, and tickets, which he was distributing out as a tract distributor scatters religious works.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP.—There is joy in that name to thousands, whom it has relieved from great distress and danger; and given them immediate relief. Yesterday Dysentery and Diarrhœa had us; to-day we are well, is the report of all who try it.

HORSESHOES.

THE WHEELER HORSESHOE COMPANY offer for sale, corner of Portland and Traverse Streets, Boston, Horseshoe Bars and Shapes, and also finished Shoes of every variety of style and size. The iron is made from selected scrap, including old shoes, and is warranted as good as any in the market, and to wear as long as the best hand made shoes. The bars are drawn with a groove and a bevel, and with a seated, a flat, or a concave foot-face. This amount of work on the bars enables the blacksmith to make twice as many Shoes a day as he can make from common shoe shape, and the shoes are of better finish and quality when done. The iron is now offered at the ordinary price of common shapes, and the finished shoes much lower than hand-made Shoes, with which alone they can be compared, and which in reality they are.

MOUNTAIN OF MARBLE.—About a mile from Silverthorn's bridge, which crosses McCloud's river, Cal., towers to the clouds a gigantic mountain, white as if clad in the livery of a ghost, at the foot of which is located a marble quarry, from which is produced both the white and clouded marble, of as fine quality as that imported from the Green Mountain State. The whole mountain appears to be one vast pile of marble, of quantity sufficient to supply the world.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen,
I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my sincere gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal, They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have to store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

The Chronicle.

The Southern clergymen are in a great bother about fixing up the Union. They hesitate, and preach, and exhort, and want to do it, and yet do not know exactly how. It amounts to nothing. The wheel will go around whether the fly remains or not. Its buzzing hurts nobody.—Tribune.

Wirz, the brute who is now on trial at Washington, and who has ten thousand times earned the privilege of a dog's death complains of his bill of fare, and says he simply has full government rations, and "only two cups of milk and two eggs." It is but a week since witnesses swore that starving Union prisoners at Andersonville, scraped undigested food from human excrement and eagerly ate it to keep life in their poor skeleton, while Winder and Wirz were buffeting back, with obscene language and blackguard threats, the offers of aid brought to the gates of that hell upon earth by Georgia women. "Only two cups of milk and two eggs!"—Ex.

In view of the English scare over the movements of the Fenians in Ireland, it is ironically suggested that Mr. Seward is pondering on the propriety of conceding belligerent rights to the Green Isle. The truth is, that Ireland is as absolutely necessary to the safety of Great Britain as the Southern States are to the safety of our Republic; and in case of an insurrection in Ireland, Great Britain would rather double her national debt in fighting for the "United Kingdom," than allow Ireland to secede. Macauley, in a speech on Irish wrongs made over twenty years ago, said that while the liberal party would grant all needed Irish reforms, it would never grant the demands of the Repealers. The loss of India he considered would be a slight calamity in comparison with the loss of Ireland.—Transcript.

— It was reported recently by the Hartford (Conn.) Times, a Democratic paper, that Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy, had expressed himself, when on a visit at home, in opposition to negro suffrage. The editor of the Press, of the same city, telegraphed to Mr. Welles inquiring into the truth of the statement, and received the following reply:

"WASHINGTON, Sept. 26, 1865.
GIDEON WELLES."

☞ At the New York Episcopal Convention, the Bishop in his address said that the Northern brethren should do all that in them lies to re-establish the unity of the church. There were no nobler spirits in the pale of the church than in the South, and he was happy thus to testify to their worth, and to express the estimation in which they were held by him. The Convention unanimously passed a resolution approving what the Bishop said.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1865.

☞ Much pains have been taken by designing men to represent the collection of U. S. taxes, as very expensive:—but in a late article in a Boston paper, Hon. Charles Hudson, Assessor of the 6th Massachusetts District, states a fact which may cause some surprise, viz: that the entire cost of an assessing and collecting the the revenue for that District the past fiscal year amounts to only ninety-three hundredths of one per cent This and other facts which he states will correct much misapprehension which exists in the public mind on the subject. He says the assessment and collections in many towns, cost two per cent. And he also suggests that one assessor in a District, can have a more uniform system, than could probably be carried out by one or two hundred boards of town assessors.

MEXICAN AFFAIR.—Intelligence is said to have been received in Washington from reliable private sources in Mexico, that Juarez's influence in Mexico is of no consequence whatever. The only spot which he can claim to be master of is El Paso. The mercantile community is represented as almost unanimously in favor of the new order of things, owing to the increased security and stability which it gives to trade. The position of President Johnson on Mexican affairs is said to be one of "masterly inactivity," and if it is found that the majority of the people are really on the side of the empire, an embassador from thence will be received as readily as from France or any other country with which we are at peace. Boston Journal.

We receive all such intimations from Washington, with considerable allowance and distrust. But suppose the above should turn out to be true, what would become of those flaming resolutions of recent democratic conventions about the "Monroe doctrine," coupled with approval of Pres. Johnson as a democrat?

THE LEADERS of the New York Democracy have gone to Washing for the purpose of seeing the President and getting some reward for "resolutions." The Tribune says that the President thought of attaching them to the Freedmen's Bureau, and issuing regular rations to them, and suggested that Mr. Haskin would be a good person to deal them out.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—While beef is 25 cents per pound at butchers' stalls in Washington, over one thousand head of Government beef cattle were sold at Alexandria on Tuesday, at prices ranging from 4 to 6 1-2c per lb.

The office of the Christian Commission, situated in Washington, has been closed, after a very useful and beneficent career of two years. Goods remaining on hand have been given to the Freedmen's Bureau for the benefit of freedmen and refugees.

LARGE FIRE IN CHICAGO.—The wholesale drug establishment of Smith & Dwyer, on the corner of Lake and Dearborn Sts., Chicago, was destroyed Friday evening. Loss $170,000. Insured $100,000.

GOLD, Saturday, 143 3-8 to 144.

—John Marlow, aged 12 years, residing at South Boston, died Friday from injuries by the recoil of a gun, the breech of which he held against his stomach while firing.

— The Pennsylvania State Fair, at Williamsport, is an immense success. The attendance is very great, and the pickpockets are reaping a rich harvest.

— Dr. J. G. Hall, of Wells, broke thro' the scaffold floor of his stable, last Tuesday, while assisting in unloading some hay, and broke one of his legs.

— Samuel Jewett, Esq., of Pittston, one of the patriarchs of that vicinity, died on the 12th ult. at the advanced age of 93 years. Mr. Jewett was a native of Hopkinton, N. H.

— There was a singular fireworks accident in Milwaukie, Wis., on the 4th ult., when a gentleman who was standing in the crowd was struck by a rocket, which tore his nose completely off, leaving it and the upper lip hanging by the skin.

— In New London, one day last week, a well-dressed young man was led into the depot hopelessly drunk, and laid down in one corner out of the way. He belonged to a respectable family, and had the suit in which he was to be married under his arm. A pleasant prospect for his future wife.

— The project of damming the Housatonic at Birmingham is attracting the attention of local capitalists, and it is proposed to raise $350,000 for the purpose. Judging from the language we hear on our streets, it could be damned at a much lower figure here.

— It has been ascertained by the Freedmen's Bureau that parties have recently been engaged in enticing freedmen from Washington on board a vessel bound to the newly discovered guano islands off the Russian coast, where they were placed in close confinement, and carried off against their will. The affair is undergoing an investigation.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A son of ex-Governor Williams, of Lancaster, became a member of the Catholic church, and was confirmed by the Catholic Bishop on his recent visit to that town.

—— The Mountain hotels are to be closed for the season to-day, though there was quite an extensive patronage of them so late as last week.

—— Rev. Wm. L. Gaylord of Fitzwilliam, who was invited some time since to become pastor of the Appleton Street Society, Lowell, has declined the invitation.

—— Concrete or Composition Sidewalks having been tried in Concord and Manchester, are highly spoken of in both places, as better than brick—clean and durable. The present time, Autumn, is said to be the best for laying it.

—— Mr. Frank B. Cofran, of Sanbornton Bridge, was badly kicked by his horse, while harnessing him, on Monday last, the corks striking him on the forehead, fracturing the skull and badly mutilating the face. It is thought he cannot recover.

—— Gen. Donahoe of Manchester has been appointed a general inspector and superintendent of "baggage cars" [freight cars, we suppose,] and the property of the Concord, Northern, Vt. Central, Montreal, and other combined railroads, whose cars pass through Manchester. He has a good salary.

—— Mr. Peter Sennott, of Lebanon, has a few specimens of the Oxheart variety of cabbage, two of which contain three heads on a single stalk! He has also a few stalks containing two heads each.—Col. C. C. Benton of that town has been very successful this season in raising sweet potatoes, which are said to be of a flavor equal to those from the Southern markets.

—— Three young men took a notion to make a raid upon the excellent fruit orchard of the Shakers at Canterbury, one night last week, and bagged four bushels of their best fruit. This the Shakers did not like, and getting on the track of the thieves caused the arrest of one of them at Laconia on Saturday night last, the other two escaping. After one night's lodging in jail, he concluded to settle the affair with a $50 greenback.

EVANGELICAL CHRISTIANS.—At Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 27, a Convention of "Evangelical Christians" assembled in the First Presbyterian Church to consider the question what can be done by the friends of the Christian Commission to carry forward among the citizens as the same Christian work as that performed by them in the army? Two hundred and sixty delegates representing different churches, Christian associations and benevolent organizations, enrolled their names. Rev. Dr. Corey of Utica, N. Y., was chosen temporary chairman, and subsequently Hon. Salmon P. Chase, Chief Justice of the United States, was chosen permanent President by acclamation. He took his seat amid great applause. There seemed to be great unanimity of opinion, and a demand for a plan of operations. Such plan it is expected the committee will present at a future session. None had been matured by those who called the convention, and the matter is not without its difficulties. It is hoped, however, that some plan may be presented that will unite all minds, and be vigorously and successfully prosecuted. Resolutions were passed, expressing the Convention's sense of gratitude to God for his merciful interposition on behalf of our country in its late great struggle, the consequent obligation of of the Christian Church to increase its efforts on behalf of the destitute in the land, recommending earnest exertions to reinforce agencies already in existence, and the formation of such new organizations as the exigencies of the times seem to demand.

[This movement seems to be an attempted continuation of the Christian Commission, (embracing several Protestant denominations, but excepting and excluding unitarians and universalists;)—its purpose is benevolent; and if the difficulties can be overcome or avoided, it may very useful in extending knowledge and civilization.]

— They are talking of importing camels for service on the western plains, because the animals can travel so far without water. If it does not rain pretty soon, we shall need them for travelling about New England.

— The Herald's Washington dispatch says the letter box of the Adjutant of the Andersonville prison has been found and contains highly important letters from the rebel government officials, showing their complicity in the cruelties.

— At a recent cheese fair of New York, a cheese was exhibited which weighed 4240 pounds, and measured five feet in diameter and two feet four inches in thickness. It was said to have been sold at 17 cents per pound in Utica, for shipment to England.

—. The Tribune's Washington dispatch says a dispatch from Gen. Weitzel in Texas to the President states that the notorious Duke Gwin and Ex-Governor Clark of Mo., have crossed the Rio Grande and surrendered themselves and are now appealing for pardon.

AFFAIRS IN VIRGINIA.—The following is an extract from a letter written by a Union officer stationed in Richmond to a friend residing in Boston. The writer enjoys excellent opportunities for knowing the true conditoin of affairs in the Old Dominion:

"It seems as though there were nothing to write about now that battles and rumors have passed away, but really there is much that is interesting in watching how the newspapers and loud-mouthed politicians down here are trying to persuade President Johnson and the North that the Southern people feel all right towards the Federal Government, etc., and at the same time turning about in their columns to iterate and reiterate—"Don't for Heaven's sake elect prominent rebels, who can't take the necessary oath, to Congress this time; what we want is merely to get men in there—no matter about ability,—and next time we can select whom we please!" Do you not suppose these editors know the temper of their readers? And if so, why such continued pleadings and warnings, if the people are properly disposed.

"The social state is enough to show their undying hatred of the North. Lately a great ado has been made over invitations to President Johnson to visit Richmond, and yet he has had two representatives here the past four months—Gen. Terry and Gen. Turner, gentlemen in every sense of the word—who have received civilities from only five families in the whole city; and it is notorious that those families have been 'cut dead' by all their former associates, for having entertained Union officers.

"One can go the fashionable Episcopal Church here any Sunday, and see half the females in the congregation lift up their heads during the prayer for the President of the United States, and put them down again immediately after. I have not seen this state of things put rightly in any paper yet. It seems to me to be the disposition of these people, since they have failed in their appeal to arms, to carry every question not irrevocably decided by battle to the ballot box, and through that to reward, first, those who have fought in the Confederate service; second, the copperheads at the North who have stood by them in the past four years. As soon as the South is restored to its rights in Congress, you will see an unbroken 'democratic' delegation from all these States, and a persistent attempt to punish after their old style every man who has been against them during the war. Witness the elections here, and those to the South Carolina convention.

"All military men who are true feel sad to have our returned comrades (like Gen. Slocum) accept nominations from the copperheads, and hope the people will see thro' the dodge to get votes. There is as great need of firmness now as ever in standing by the right."

BLACK MUTINEERS.—The Wilmington (N. C.) of Monday announces a mutiny in the 37th regiment of negro troops, near Hilton Head. Some man discharged a gun in the grounds of Co. D. This being a breach of discipline, Major Weinman, commanding, went into the company quarters to find the man, without avail. Telling the men to remain standing until they volunteered to tell who fired the gun, a short time afterward he was informed that the company had broken ranks and were disposed to mutiny.

The Major, with Company A, suppressed the mutiny, but not until Lieut. Mellen of Exeter, N. H., formerly of the 1st Massachusetts regiment, was killed by one of the several shots fired at the Major. The ringleaders, six in number, fled the camp, but were subsequently arrested and lodged in jail at Wilmington. One was slightly wounded on the way back for disorderly conduct, by the officer of the guard. The regiment is considered one of the best disciplined in the service.

ALABAMA CONVENTION.—There is one feature of the action of the Alabama Convention worthy of special commendation, and which we hope will be imitated by the Conventions yet to be held in the other rebel States. It was decided to submit the amendments to the Constitution, as adopted by the Convention, to the vote of the people. When the ordinance of secession was passed by State Conventions, it was submitted to the vote of the people in only one or two States, and they had no opportunity of expressing their opinions. Had it been, and free discussion of the proposition allowed, there are several States in which it would never have been adopted. Secession was forced upon the people by their hot headed, ambitious, unprincipled leaders. We hope they will be allowed to say whether they want to come back upon the terms which the Conventions propose. It will be a cogent reason for the re-admission of the delegation from Alabama into Congress, if they are elected by a constituency who shall have said by a majority of votes they approve of their State Convention in declaring the ordinance of secession null and void; in recognizing the final extinction of slavery; and in repudiating the rebel war debt and all debts contracted by the State in aid of the rebellion.

JOHN H. SURATT.—A merchant of Portland, who was in Montreal Wednesday last, informs us that he saw John H. Suratt in that city on that day. He knew the man, notwithstanding his beard and whiskers had been allowed to grow to moderate length. Suratt has been concealed in Montreal for some time past by a Catholic priest, and at one time, when detectives were in pursuit of him, he was hid in a recess under the altar of one of the churches. —Portland Press.

☞ The German Punch, edited in Berlin, publishes a coat of arms, drawn for President Johnson. It consists of a pair of open scissors; between the lower part is a tailor's goose, and between the upper parts a thimble, surrounded by balls of thread instead of cannon balls. And in the places of flags and flag-staffs, the scissors are surrounded with yard-sticks, on which are hanging coats and pantaloons. The whole rests on a platform, decorated with American drapery, and a shield bearing the motto—"I shall mend the torn Union." The device is a great compliment to equality, and a snub on the ensigns of retrogressive and useless nobility.

A REPRESENTIVE MAN.—According to the correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette, Vallandigham made a speech at Bucyrus, Ohio, on the 21st ult., in which he said "the Republicans had better not charge repudiation upon the Democratic party, lest they so familiarize the people with the idea that they resolve to repudiate the whole debt." His audience cheered the sentiment heartily.

— The armies on both sides in the war gave a good deal of time to stock-raising. They mostly raised gun-stocks.

On the part of the South can prevent the success of the Union arms. Grant and Sherman's policy, like

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE,

Everywhere establishes colors which are beautiful in the people's eyes. The hues of the National Flag are those of Heaven, but among all the dyes of Earth there is none save CRISTADORO'S that produces instantaneously perfect fac simile of nature's every shade of black and brown.—Manufactured by J. Brandreth's Pills,

WHOSE TIMELY USE UNDER PROVIDENCE, HAS OFTEN SAVED LIFE.

These celebrated Vegetable Pills are no new, untried remedy; they have been used and tested in the United States for thirty years, and are relied upon by hundreds of thousands of families as almost their sole medicine when sick. No care or expense is spared in their preparation, and it is certainly true when I assert that no King can have a medicine safer or surer than Brandreth's Pills.

They produce a good effect upon disease almost immediately they are taken. By some wonderful power, perhaps electric or nervous influence, the progress of the diseased action is arrested; where watchfulness and pain have been present, the system becomes quieter, and the patient soon obtains refreshing sleep.

The genuine BRANDRETH PILL BOX has upon it a UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT STAMP with B. BRANDRETH in White Letters in the same. e29dawlm

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

At Wholesale by DYER, BARNES & CO., New York. e29DAW1ymy28
